Driving Out Labor.
Here's Real News—2 to 2.
Britain Doomed? Why?
Ford's Plan for Boys.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

MR. GREEN, able, conservative and respected head of the American Federation of Labor, was invited to speak before the Young Men's Christian association in Detroit, then told that his speech could not be delivered in that institution. Labor leaders were asked to speak from various Detroit pulpits, then told the churches did not want them.

THERE may be good reasons for these changes. But Christ, who drove the money changers from the temple, might be surprised to see His modern representatives driving laboring men from the pulpits.

It looks, according to the union man, as though money changers were "on top" once more.

MR. BORAH is as dry as the spot in Sahara farthest from any oasis. But he will help to re-elect Senator Wadsworth of New York, who believes that prohibition has no place in the Constitution, as the fathers planned it.

Senator Borah thinks it more important to keep the senate Republican and himself regular than to rebuke wetness.

THE Bishop of London, who has been inspecting Chicago, and Lady Astor, who has just sailed away from us, criticize Dean Inge, because he says the British empire has seen its best days. But the bishop and the lady may be wrong, although we all hope they are right. Britain's power has been that of an "island nation," the power of isolation. She had her protecting channel, walls of oak, then of steel, in her ships.

But ships count no longer, except to protect merchantmen, and amount to little even in that work.

THERE are no more islands, for the real fighting ocean is the air, and soon it will be the traveling ocean.

One thousand airplanes, sailing from Geneva or Moscow, could wipe out London in a morning, and all the British superdreadoughts in such a fight would be as useless as so many painted ships on a painted ocean.

HENRY FORD says modern industry and employers fail in their duty to growing boys, not supplying enough jobs.

"It is easier for a girl to get a respectable job than it is for a boy to get one," says he.

WITH Ford, ideas and action go together. He orders his managers to employ, as quickly as possible, 5,000 boys between the ages of 16 and 20, put them at "man's work" and especially at work that will give them a chance to develop judgment.

NEW YORK FANS READY TO BLOW OFF ROOF AS HUGGINS SPEEDS HOME

CARDS TRAVEL ON PENNSY ROAD

Attendance at Tomorrow's Game at Ruth and Company Stadium Expected to be Near Record Mark.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A boisterous welcome awaits the return of the Yankees early tonight.

Victorious in two straight battles over the St. Louis Cardinals and bearing a one-game lead in the most hectic world series baseball has ever known, the New York American leaguers are now speeding homeward by special train. They are due to arrive at Grand Central terminal at 6 o'clock. And there will be thousands of local fans on hand to greet them with as riotous enthusiasm as the old town can muster.

St. Louis Rooters on Job.

The Cardinals are also due to arrive about the same time, but the train carrying the St. Louis players is routed over the Pennsylvania, and at that station also there is to be a vast throng of the Mound City rooters on hand to greet their favorites.

Interest in the series has not subsided a bit in New York and the attendance at tomorrow's game at Yankee Stadium is expected to be as large as at the opening game last Saturday, if it does not tie the record-breaking mark of last Sunday.

Hotels here report that the demand for rooms is as heavy as it was a week ago.

Alexander Hornsby's Hope.

ON BOARD THE CARDINAL SPECIAL, ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Cardinals may be licked, but they haven't found it out yet.

Say this much for the "Show Me" boys, they are going to have to be shown. Their red-billed caps are still in the ring. While most people seem to think that another baseball hope was buried out there in the Mound City yesterday afternoon, that doesn't make it so.

Alexander, the Great, stands between the Yankees and the realization of their dream of conquest, and he may prove more than a bum in the

Tri-partite campaign for the proposed $225,000 bond issue for the purchase of a site and erection of a new city hall, to be submitted at the Nov. 2, election, was launched last night at a meeting of council in the municipal court building.

President N. P. Kerr named a committee composed of Solons Farrall, Hughes and Poole to act in conjunction with committees to be appointed by Trades and Labor council and the Chamber of Commerce. Members of the three organizations will speak at labor, lodge and other civic meetings, urging support of the proposal.

Solon Heddleston, Absent, is Cause Of Council Debate

Councilman Thomas Farrall tossed a bombshell into council meeting last night, when he opposed a motion to excuse Solon Edgar Heddleston, of the Second ward, who is working in Niles. The motion offered by Charles Hayes failed for want of a second.

Farrall declared that he had been informed that Heddleston intended to continue his employment at Niles and for that reason would be unable to attend council sessions. He declared that Heddleston should resign.

Hayes and Hughes voiced similar opinions, but declared that Heddleston should be excused in the interim.

Heddleston went to Niles about four weeks ago.

OHIO GIRL, 12, AND HUSBAND, 63, ARRESTED ON HONEYMOON

Nabbed in Boston After Journey From Youngstown.

MISSING MONTH

Bride Confesses; Man Says He Treated Her as Daughter.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—An unusual July and December romance was brought to light when pretty Lucy Paule, 12, and Thomas Bosich, 63, both missing for a month from Youngstown, Ohio, were arrested here today.

By day, the child was a pupil at Mt. Bowdoin Grammar school, West End, but at night, she confessed, according to police, she lived as the man's wife.

Found at Hotel.

Bosich, however, declared to police that he loved the child only as a daughter and had treated her as such.

The July and December couple were arrested at the Montreal House, west end, where they occupied a room together.

Chief of Police Cunningham, of Youngstown, had wired the police here that the couple were living together in Boston. There police officers were sent out to find them.

A letter that the girl had written to her mother, led police to the Montreal House.

Bosich and the child were asleep when officers entered their room. They were ordered to dress and were taken to a police station.

At first, the girl claimed that Bosich was her father. Bosich held to the same claim. Finally, under severe grilling, the child confessed.

Police learned that Bosich had entered the child as a student in the grammar school under his own name and as his own child.

THIRD ROUND IN WELLSVILLE'S FIGHT TO OUST CHIEF OF POLICE JOHN FULTZ WILL BE STAGED IN APPELLATE COURT AT LISBON ON NOV. 8

The next round in the fight of the city of Wellsville to remove Chief of Police John H. Fultz from office will be staged in the appellate court at Lisbon during the week of Nov. 8, it was announced today.

The case will be heard on its merits after the city's bill of exceptions has been approved by Common Pleas Judge W. H. Spence who reversed the findings of the Wellsville civil service commission and ordered Fultz reinstated. As yet the record has not been filed.

Court's Opinion.

The text of the opinion of the appellate in overruling the city's motion for a stay of execution of judgment, and the Fultz motion to dismiss the petition in error, argued at the Youngstown session this week, was filed today in the office of Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine at Lisbon. It follows:

"John H. Fultz was appointed chief of police of the City of Wellsville, Ohio, by Mayor G. D. Ingram, on August 15, 1921, and served as such officer until he was removed by the present mayor of Wellsville, Wallace L. Fogo, on the 19th day of March, 1926. The matter was subsequently tried to the Civil Service Commission of Wellsville, where the action of the mayor was sustained. An appeal was taken by the chief of police to the court of common pleas of Columbiana county, where, after hearing, it was ordered by that court that John H. Fultz be fully restored to his position as chief of police of Wellsville, and that there be restored to him all that he had lost by his removal. Error is now sought to be prosecuted in this court from the decision of the court of common pleas and a motion has been filed by the plaintiff in error for leave to file a petition in error, and to suspend the judgment of the court of common pleas of Columbiana county until hearing and further order of the court of appeals. A motion has also been filed by the defendant in error to dismiss the petition in error, for the reason that the court is without jurisdiction in the premises.

"These matters have been argued by counsel for the respective parties. This court is of the opinion that it has authority, by the provisions of Section 12278, to stay execution of judgment as asked in this case, but is further of the opinion that under authority of the case of The Texas Building Association No. 2 v. The Aurora Fire & Marine Insurance company, 34 Ohio St., 291, that such stay should not be granted. The syllabus in this case reads as follows:

"1. The execution of an order remanding a cause for further proceedings, upon the reversal of a judgment of an inferior court, may be stayed by the court in which a petition in error is filed to reverse the judgment of reversal, or by a judge thereof, as provided by section 22, chapter 1, article 4 of the act of May 14, 1878.

2. "An order staying the execution of a judgment or final order, as pro-

Solon Heddleston, Absent, is Cause Of Council Debate

Councilman Thomas Farrall tossed a bombshell into council meeting last night, when he opposed a motion to excuse Solon Edgar Heddleston, of the Second ward, who is working in Niles. The motion offered by Charles Hayes failed for want of a second.

Farrall declared that he had been informed that Heddleston intended to continue his employment at Niles and for that reason would be unable to attend council sessions. He declared that Heddleston should resign.

Hayes and Hughes voiced similar opinions, but declared that Heddleston should be excused in the interim.

Heddleston went to Niles about four weeks ago.

WINDOW CLEANERS BATTLE POLICE

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Striking window cleaners and police fought a pitched battle in the shadow of borough hall, Brooklyn, during the rush hour today, in view of hundreds of persons. One man was stabbed and hurled through a plate glass window. Four men, claiming to be strikers, were arrested only after police threatened them with revolvers.

U. J. Schwartz, president of the Home Window Cleaning company, was stabbed by one of 12 men who attacked him while he was guarding Edward Benson, an employe, who was cleaning store windows. Schwartz's injuries were not serious.

OHIO GIRL, 12, AND HUSBAND, 63, ARRESTED ON HONEYMOON

Nabbed in Boston After Journey From Youngstown.

MISSING MONTH

Bride Confesses; Man Says He Treated Her as Daughter.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—An unusual July and December romance was brought to light when pretty Lucy Paule, 12, and Thomas Bosich, 63, both missing for a month from Youngstown, Ohio, were arrested here today.

By day, the child was a pupil at Mt. Bowdoin Grammar school, West End, but at night, she confessed, according to police, she lived as the man's wife.

Found at Hotel.

Bosich, however, declared to police that he loved the child only as a daughter and had treated her as such.

The July and December couple were arrested at the Montreal House, west end, where they occupied a room together.

Chief of Police Cunningham, of Youngstown, had wired the police here that the couple were living together in Boston. There police officers were sent out to find them.

A letter that the girl had written to her mother, led police to the Montreal House.

Bosich and the child were asleep when officers entered their room. They were ordered to dress and were taken to a police station.

At first, the girl claimed that Bosich was her father. Bosich held to the same claim. Finally, under severe grilling, the child confessed.

Police learned that Bosich had entered the child as a student in the grammar school under his own name and as his own child.

THIRD ROUND IN WELLSVILLE'S FIGHT TO OUST CHIEF OF POLICE JOHN FULTZ WILL BE STAGED IN APPELLATE COURT AT LISBON ON NOV. 8

The next round in the fight of the city of Wellsville to remove Chief of Police John H. Fultz from office will be staged in the appellate court at Lisbon during the week of Nov. 8, it was announced today.

The case will be heard on its merits after the city's bill of exceptions has been approved by Common Pleas Judge W. H. Spence who reversed the findings of the Wellsville civil service commission and ordered Fultz reinstated. As yet the record has not been filed.

Court's Opinion.

The text of the opinion of the appellate in overruling the city's motion for a stay of execution of judgment, and the Fultz motion to dismiss the petition in error, argued at the Youngstown session this week, was filed today in the office of Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine at Lisbon. It follows:

"John H. Fultz was appointed chief of police of the City of Wellsville, Ohio, by Mayor G. D. Ingram, on August 15, 1921, and served as such officer until he was removed by the present mayor of Wellsville, Wallace L. Fogo, on the 19th day of March, 1926. The matter was subsequently tried to the Civil Service Commission of Wellsville, where the action of the mayor was sustained. An appeal was taken by the chief of police to the court of common pleas of Columbiana county, where, after hearing, it was ordered by that court that John H. Fultz be fully restored to his position as chief of police of Wellsville, and that there be restored to him all that he had lost by his removal. Error is now sought to be prosecuted in this court from the decision of the court of common pleas and a motion has been filed by the plaintiff in error for leave to file a petition in error, and to suspend the judgment of the court of common pleas of Columbiana county until hearing and further order of the court of appeals. A motion has also been filed by the defendant in error to dismiss the petition in error, for the reason that the court is without jurisdiction in the premises.

"These matters have been argued by counsel for the respective parties. This court is of the opinion that it has authority, by the provisions of Section 12278, to stay execution of judgment as asked in this case, but is further of the opinion that under authority of the case of The Texas Building Association No. 2 v. The Aurora Fire & Marine Insurance company, 34 Ohio St., 291, that such stay should not be granted. The syllabus in this case reads as follows:

"1. The execution of an order remanding a cause for further proceedings, upon the reversal of a judgment of an inferior court, may be stayed by the court in which a petition in error is filed to reverse the judgment of reversal, or by a judge thereof, as provided by section 22, chapter 1, article 4 of the act of May 14, 1878.

2. "An order staying the execution of a judgment or final order, as pro-

Peggy Martin Leading Lady Of Chicago Stock Company

Plays Role of Marion Lenox in "The Best People," at Ceramic Theatre Monday Night.

Lovers of the spoken drama will come into their own next week, when the Chicago Stock company will appear at the Ceramic theatre, starting Monday night in a repertoire of high class Broadway hits. This organization has the reputation of being the best of its type on tour. Presenting nothing but the latest releases with an acting company of 25 artists, and complete scenic and electrical equipment for each bill.

With Peggy Martin, leading lady, in the role of Marion Lenox, "The Best People," from the pen of Avery Hopwood, which ran one solid year at the Lyceum theatre, New York, has been chosen for the opening play. This will be followed in "Applesauce," Barry Conner's New York and Chicago hit, a comedy which achieved notable success during its city engagements. The title of this play has been lifted from the slang of the day and is a "rip snortin' hunk of fun."

"The Gorilla," a mystery comedy, which is up to the minute in laughs and thrills, is also one of the feature plays.

"Puppy Love," however, is the novelty offering of the week and tells of the love affairs of two youngsters who find all the troubles of the world heaped upon their shoulders during their courtship. "Puppy Love" is from the pen of Ann Nichols, author of "Abie's Irish Rose."

The fifth production will be Martha Stanley's thriller, "Dance Mad," which enjoyed a run of a year at the Norah Bayes theatre, New York. It is a story of "Flaming Youth" and how a dance mad flapper falls madly in love with a young Portugense.

The sixth and final presentation of the week will be "Mamma Loves Papa" another corking play which enjoyed a long run in New York, with Alice Brady featured in the leading role.

Scotland has a drive against motorcyclists who break the parking time law.

Dublin has a broadcasting station and one is planned for Cork.

Aerial Trail Blazing

Among pioneers of all time, the name of Alan J. Cobham may rank high. He has made notable trails in the air.

Cobham has just returned from his great flight to Australia, a trifle of some 28,000 miles, without mishap. Before that he flew from England to Capetown and back and to India and back, and, while in India he soared over the Himalayas. He has never had an accident. Perhaps he should stop now.

More remarkable even than this pilot's record is the performance of his airplane. He used the same plane as on his former trips, and it has now covered 125,000 miles. It is a mighty good automobile that will do so well. His engine, fitted to the plane before the Capetown flight, has recovered about two-thirds of that distance. And they used to say that on airplane engine was good for less than 100 hours' running.

France Plays For Time

News from Paris indicates that the French government does not intend to ask parliament to ratify the Bergenger war debt settlement with the United States as it stands. Either France will flatly refuse to ratify, or will ratify with reservations, or will propose arbitration by the league of nations.

It is inconceivable that the United States government would agree to the last solution. It is unlikely that our government at present would agree even to French reservations. The French probably realize that as well as we do.

France evidently is playing for time. The French feel that the trend of sentiment is in their favor, and the longer they can postpone an official settlement the better terms they will get.

In this way they may be right. A good many Americans who have no special inclination to generosity with foreign debtors are getting into a frame of mind in which they would consider their country lucky to get anything out of France.

But in the meantime, with a deadlock developing and no sign of relenting on the part of our government, what may happen to the French franc?

The Starry Umbrella

A man has invented an umbrella whose edge is marked with 365 days, and the interior is decorated with a map of the heavens. By holding over the head and pointing the handle at the pole star the owner cannot get lost, claims its inventor.

This sounds interesting and useful at first. But does one carry an umbrella in weather in which one can see the pole star—or stars even brighter? And is an umbrella part of the camper's usual equipment when he is lost in the woods?

We guess we'll stick to the sun and our watch and our pocket compass and the way the down timber lies and the blue haze over water and the smell of the wind and one thing and another, until some one invents a pocket frying pan with magnetic and astronomical attachments.

Ads On The Pole

We knew advertising men were rather ingenious at furthering their causes, but even so we were somewhat stunned by the news of an exclusive contract to do the advertising at the north pole.

E. R. Davis, a man from Tacoma, Wash., has been given a contract by Lieut. Commander R. E. Byrd, naval aviator, who flew over it. The contract provides that the annual compensation shall be $1,000 payable immediately after the first signs are erected.

All we have to say is we hope the automobile clubs and billposter societies will get after Mr. Davis and see that his ads conform to all the standards of beauty and suitability which can be expected of a future age.

Boat Bargains

The Leviathan is for sale. Also the George Washington, Republic, President Harding, President Roosevelt, American Trader, American Banker, American Farmer and Shipper. So far there are no buyers.

Has no bright young man been to the board with a suggestion for a "Buy a Boat Week?"

The Queen of Roumania, touring the United States by motor, will not only "see as much as possible," but will get an earful every time she disregards the crossing signals.

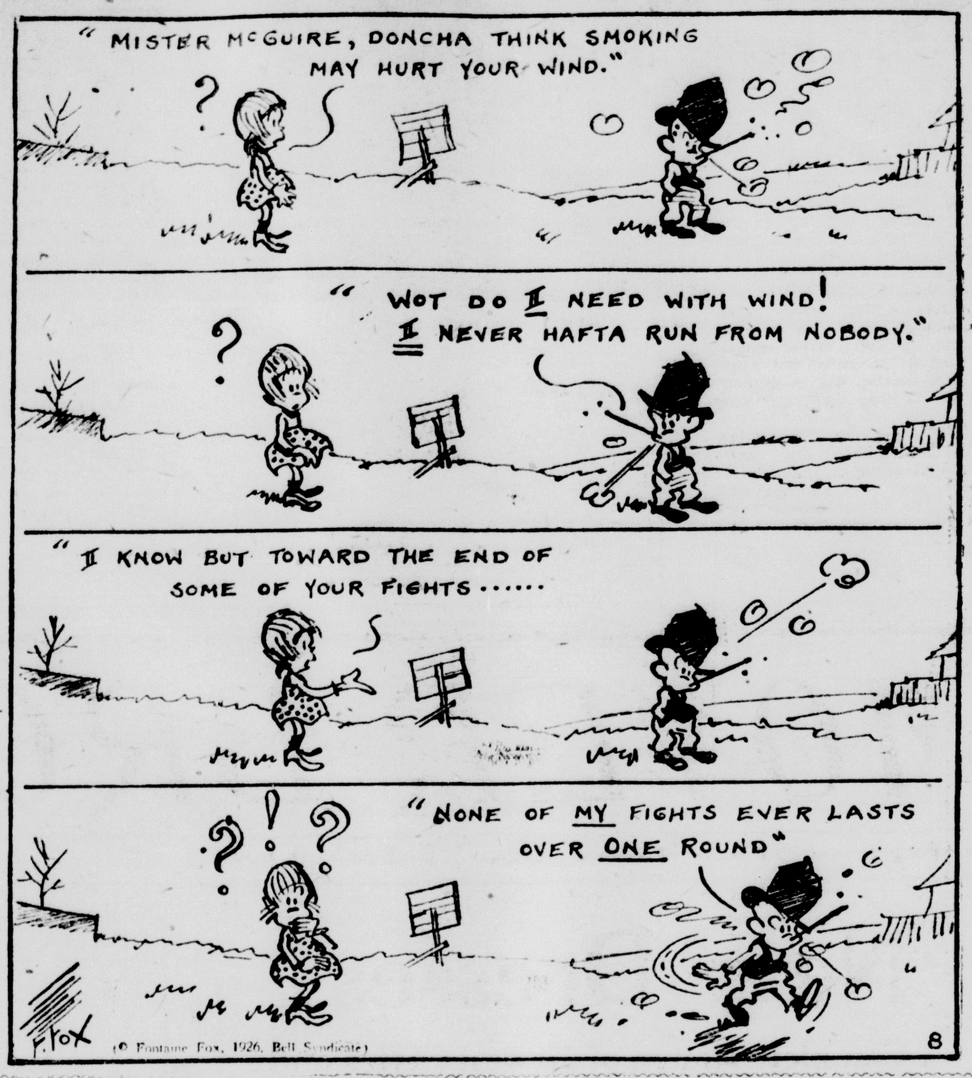
An automobile engine has been made to run on the explosive dust from a grain elevator. When it can run on the dust of the fellow in the road ahead, that will be more like it.

Some of the healthiest communities in America do the most kicking about the weather. Probably that gives them enough interest in life to keep them healthy.

Mussolini is wise to support an anti-profanity movement in Italy. He knows they might start swearing at him.

Europeans complain that they see America first, last and all the while.

Mickey (Himself) McGuire— By Fontaine Fox



NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. — Thoughts while strolling: Chilly blue lips and sheer stockings. Nothing more interesting than a window filled with cutlery. Unless it's a litter of puppies. That fellow on 42nd street in horsey check suit, white spats and stock collar who sells wire sleeve garters.

Whatever became of long haired band conductors? The black cat in the window near the Hippodrome. Nickel hoppers and uke strokers. The well dressed American indian who clerks in a music store. Steam shovels sinking their gigantic teeth. Pit bosses and mud slingers.

The loungers in front of the Elk's. More spaghetti—sans Chianti—parlors. Charles Dana Gibson. Ten in a flivver bearing a Canada banner. A chicken escape from a crate—and a block is in turmoil. The fake auction draws a crowd. And then it moves sheepishly away.

Marilyn Miller. As Michael Arlen might say: "Calm and beautiful, she has tasted the earth." A basket of straw hats at the stage entrance of a burlesque theatre—all smashed. Savings ban'k window ad: "A man who saves rarely steals."

What's the idea of those uniformed men who stand in doorways checking off Fifth avenue buses? Jack Kennedy of Jack and Jill's. The building metamorphosis on Sixth avenue above 53d street. And Ziegfeld's new theatre almost completed.

Squirrels racing along Central Park's stone wall. Wonder if Trudy could cross Columbus Circle. That gaudy funeral parlor that makes such a lavish show of death. Edna Ferber out for a walk. The stroll is over.

In the pink of dawn a woman was found by a policeman digging a small hole in the side yard of St. Patrick's cathedral. When he neared her he saw she was burying a pet canary. "Hurry up" the story goes "or we might be caught." Some cops are simply gorgeous.

One reform needed in the theatre is the custom of selling upper boxes. The tariff is usually the same as that for a good seat and in almost every instance the patron finds he can only see by unhinging his neck. Newer theatres are abolishing the stage box and the older ones should board them up. It is a hold-up unworthy of the industry.

An hotel reports a $20,000 loss in one year by souvenir hunters—in most cases table silver is purloined and the thievery is as a rule by those who come to dine and are not stopping at the hotel. One hotel tried to check the loss by having every piece of silver stamped, "Stolen from Blank's Hotel," but this was regarded as an affront by honest patrons and merely acted as a spur to the mischievous intention of the souvenir hunter. Even when silver is missed before the patron's departure any accusation becomes an extremely dangerous procedure for in case of mistake the liability of a damage suit is almost certain.

Manhattan it appears has no time for the practical joker in this hurry up age. Many men in the past gained fame as official jesters. The most famous perhaps was Brian G. Hughes.

My Favorite Stories

A COUPLE FOR THE BUSINESS MAN

Here are a couple of small ones presented in the hope that one or the other or both of them may appeal to the business man.

A delegation of Easterners—members of the Board of Trade of some seaboard city—were touring the West. At their first glimpse of the Bad Lands of North Dakota one of the travelers, a builder and real estate man, remarked as he peered from the car window upon the sterile and forbidding landscape:

"Say, it looks to me like the Lord must have been tired when he got this far and turned the rest of the job over to a bunch of subcontractors."

Here's the other one which has to do with a retail clothing merchant and his friend:

The dealer was boasting of the sagacity of his head clerk.

"That feller Jake," he said, "that's the smartest boy in the world. You don't believe it, huh? Listen: I prove it to you. Only yesterday there comes in here a poor widow woman whose husband just had died. She wanted to get some clothes to bury him in.

"And what did Jake do? I tell you: Not only did he sell her the most expensive suit what we had in stock but he got her to take an extra pair of trousers."

Traveling De Luxe.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—Interesting facts and figures about traveling de luxe in the United States are to be found in the annual report of the directors of the Pullman Company to the stockholders of that great organization. During the last fiscal year 36,231,488 revenue passengers were carried in Pullman cars over the various railroads of the country. This was an increase of 1,716,223 over the preceding year, which may be accepted as an evidence of the growing prosperity of Americans because people who have to count the cost of everything they do are not Pullman passengers, as a rule. Every day almost 100,000 people travel in Pullmans, the daily average for the year being 99,264.

Not all of those who travel in this fashion are millionaires, of course, for there are only 11,000 such fortune-favored individuals in the United States, according to the income tax returns, which are supposed to be reliable, having been made under oath. If all the millionaires traveled every day in Pullmans barely more than a tenth of this traffic would be accounted for, which indicates that there is a considerable number of people in the country who want comfort and luxury when they journey from one place to another and are able to pay for it.

These Pullman passengers traveled a grand total of almost fifteen billion miles, or an average distance of 400 miles per passenger. This, likewise, is an increase over the preceding year, and indicates, perhaps, that more people are going to California or to Florida. At least, they are making longer jumps when they take to the rail method of transportation.

To handle this traffic every car operated by the Pullman Company traveled an average distance during th eyear of 154,100 miles, or approximately 422 miles a day. The average mileage per car operated increased 4400 miles over the preciding year. No data are offered as to the number of whisk brooms Pullman porters wore out during the year in getting the tips that supplement their wages.

What the Bill Comes To.

The nation's annual bill for de luxe traveling runs to more than $120,000,000. The Pullman Company got $80,831,274.99 for the twelve-month period covered by the report, and the railroads got $40,000,000 for the Pullman surcharge levy on the travelers who will not ride in day coaches. Of the gross revenue of the company, $9,701,866.64 also was turned over to

Aerial Trail Blazing

Among pioneers of all time, the name of Alan J. Cobham may rank high. He has made notable trails in the air.

Cobham has just returned from his great flight to Australia, a trifle of some 28,000 miles, without mishap. Before that he flew from England to Capetown and back and to India and back, and, while in India he soared over the Himalayas. He has never had an accident. Perhaps he should stop now.

More remarkable even than this pilot's record is the performance of his airplane. He used the same plane as on his former trips, and it has now covered 125,000 miles. It is a mighty good automobile that will do so well. His engine, fitted to the plane before the Capetown flight, has recovered about two-thirds of that distance. And they used to say that on airplane engine was good for less than 100 hours' running.

France Plays For Time

News from Paris indicates that the French government does not intend to ask parliament to ratify the Bergenger war debt settlement with the United States as it stands. Either France will flatly refuse to ratify, or will ratify with reservations, or will propose arbitration by the league of nations.

It is inconceivable that the United States government would agree to the last solution. It is unlikely that our government at present would agree even to French reservations. The French probably realize that as well as we do.

France evidently is playing for time. The French feel that the trend of sentiment is in their favor, and the longer they can postpone an official settlement the better terms they will get.

In this way they may be right. A good many Americans who have no special inclination to generosity with foreign debtors are getting into a frame of mind in which they would consider their country lucky to get anything out of France.

But in the meantime, with a deadlock developing and no sign of relenting on the part of our government, what may happen to the French franc?

The Starry Umbrella

A man has invented an umbrella whose edge is marked with 365 days, and the interior is decorated with a map of the heavens. By holding over the head and pointing the handle at the pole star the owner cannot get lost, claims its inventor.

This sounds interesting and useful at first. But does one carry an umbrella in weather in which one can see the pole star—or stars even brighter? And is an umbrella part of the camper's usual equipment when he is lost in the woods?

We guess we'll stick to the sun and our watch and our pocket compass and the way the down timber lies and the blue haze over water and the smell of the wind and one thing and another, until some one invents a pocket frying pan with magnetic and astronomical attachments.

Ads On The Pole

We knew advertising men were rather ingenious at furthering their causes, but even so we were somewhat stunned by the news of an exclusive contract to do the advertising at the north pole.

E. R. Davis, a man from Tacoma, Wash., has been given a contract by Lieut. Commander R. E. Byrd, naval aviator, who flew over it. The contract provides that the annual compensation shall be $1,000 payable immediately after the first signs are erected.

All we have to say is we hope the automobile clubs and billposter societies will get after Mr. Davis and see that his ads conform to all the standards of beauty and suitability which can be expected of a future age.

Boat Bargains

The Leviathan is for sale. Also the George Washington, Republic, President Harding, President Roosevelt, American Trader, American Banker, American Farmer and Shipper. So far there are no buyers.

Has no bright young man been to the board with a suggestion for a "Buy a Boat Week?"

The Queen of Roumania, touring the United States by motor, will not only "see as much as possible," but will get an earful every time she disregards the crossing signals.

An automobile engine has been made to run on the explosive dust from a grain elevator. When it can run on the dust of the fellow in the road ahead, that will be more like it.

Some of the healthiest communities in America do the most kicking about the weather. Probably that gives them enough interest in life to keep them healthy.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. — Thoughts while strolling: Chilly blue lips and sheer stockings. Nothing more interesting than a window filled with cutlery. Unless it's a litter of puppies. That fellow on 42nd street in horsey check suit, white spats and stock collar who sells wire sleeve garters.

Whatever became of long haired band conductors? The black cat in the window near the Hippodrome. Nickel hoppers and uke strokers. The well dressed American Indian who clerks in a music store. Steam shovels sinking their gigantic teeth. Pit bosses and mud slingers.

The loungers in front of the Elk's. More spaghetti—sans Chianti—parlors. Charles Dana Gibson. Ten in a flivver bearing a Canada banner. A chicken escape from a crate—and a block is in turmoil. The fake auction draws a crowd. And then it moves sheepishly away.

Marilyn Miller. As Michael Arlen might say: "Calm and beautiful, she has tasted the earth." A basket of straw hats at the stage entrance of a burlesque theatre—all smashed. Savings bank window ad: "A man who saves rarely steals."

What's the idea of those uniformed men who stand in doorways checking off Fifth avenue buses? Jack Kennedy of Jack and Jill's. The building metamorphosis on Sixth avenue above 53d street. And Ziegfeld's new theatre almost completed.

Squirrels racing along Central Park's stone wall. Wonder if Trudy could cross Columbus Circle. That gaudy funeral parlor that makes such a lavish show of death. Edna Ferber out for a walk. The stroll is over.

In the pink of dawn a woman was found by a policeman digging a small hole in the side yard of St. Patrick's cathedral. When he neared her he saw she was burying a pet canary. "Hurry up" the story goes "or we might be caught." Some cops are simply gorgeous.

One reform needed in the theatre is the custom of selling upper boxes. The tariff is usually the same as that for a good seat and in almost every instance the patron finds he can only see by unhinging his neck. Newer theatres are abolishing the stage box and the older ones should board them up. It is a hold-up unworthy of the industry.

An hotel reports a $20,000 loss in one year by souvenir hunters—in most cases table silver is purloined and the thievery is as a rule by those who come to dine and are not stopping at the hotel. One hotel tried to check the loss by having every piece of silver stamped, "Stolen from Blank's Hotel," but this was regarded as an affront by honest patrons and merely acted as a spur to the mischievous intention of the souvenir hunter. Even when silver is missed before the patron's departure any accusation becomes an extremely dangerous procedure for in case of mistake the liability of a damage suit is almost certain.

Manhattan it appears has no time for the practical joker in this hurry up age. Many men in the past gained fame as official jesters. The most famous perhaps was Brian G. Hughes,

Resinol cleared it away

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 20:—"I think Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are wonderful—I was a sufferer from skin trouble and I know what they did for me. I had only a few pimples at first, but this infection soon spread until they covered my face and neck and made me look disgraceful. They irritated me so I could scarcely keep my fingers off them. I tried various treatments, but none gave more than temporary relief. A friend recommended Resinol and I bought a jar of ointment and a cake of soap. After the second application of each, the itching stopped and when I had used the Resinol products for five weeks, there was not a trace of the trouble left." (Signed) Arthur Smith, 489 Hudson Ave.

SUFFERED WITH CONSTIPATION 25 YEARS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought relief in 3 weeks!

Read this remarkable testimonial to the power of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN over constipation:

"I prize your ALL-BRAN. I have been using it three weeks for constipation. I had had this trouble for 25 years and had tried everything, but could never get any relief—but since using your bran I can truthfully say that I am entirely cured and feel like a new man."

Yours truly,
THOMAS A. HENLEY, JR.

Blotchy skin, eruptions, spots before the eyes, headaches—these all tell of the ravaging inroads of constipation. Don't let this dire disease send its poisons through your body. Check it now and save your health and happiness!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation permanently if used regularly or money refunded. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, every meal.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Kellogg's is 100 per cent bran. Ready to eat. Delicious with fruit or cream—also in cooking. Served in all restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Face and neck covered with eruption

Resinol cleared it away

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 20:—"I think Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are wonderful—I was a sufferer from skin trouble and I know what they did for me. I had only a few pimples at first, but this infection soon spread until they covered my face and neck and made me look disgraceful. They irritated me so I could scarcely keep my fingers off them. I tried various treatments, but none gave more than temporary relief. A friend recommended Resinol and I bought a jar of ointment and a cake of soap. After the second application of each, the itching stopped and when I had used the Resinol products for five weeks, there was not a trace of the trouble left." (Signed) Arthur Smith, 489 Hudson Ave.

WEST END ASKS REOPENING OF SCHOOL ROOM

COMPLAINT HERE

Board of Education Says Economy Prompted Action.

Charging discrimination against their end of the city, a delegation of 11 residents of the district appeared before the board of education last night to urge the reopening of one of two unused rooms in the West End building.

D. F. White, president of the board, told the delegation that the room had been closed as a move for economy. He cited figures showing that maintenance of another room in the building would cost about $1,400 for the one term.

Spokesman for the complainants asserted that the room could be reestablished at little cost if one of the teachers in the Washington school were transferred to West End, and a combination room organized at the Washington building to take care of pupils from the two grades instead of one teacher for each room.

The delegation also complained about the three-grade room now being maintained in the West End building, charging that pupils are not receiving the personal attention which would be given them if only two grades were in one room. They urged assignment of fifth and sixth grade pupils to one room. This room, they said, should take care of 14 sixth grade pupils who are now enrolled in the Washington and Sixth street buildings.

Hint Fight On School Levy.

Opposition to the 2.3 mill tax levy to be submitted to the electors on Nov. 2, was threatened if the board failed to grant relief. The committee pointed out that elections generally were decided by the vote of the Fourth ward. One of the spokesmen claimed that West End residents were prepared to take legal action to enforce their demands.

Supt. McVay said but 73 pupils were enrolled in the two rooms now maintained in West End building. By transferring to that district 11 pupils who were sent to the Washington and Sixth street buildings at the beginning of the term, the building would have but 87 pupils an average of 29 for each room, he said. The average enrollment is 40.

For more than two hours the committee and the board discussed the question, the debate at times becoming heated. It was after 9 o'clock when the committee withdrew and the board began its deliberations. Member R. B. Stevenson expressed the opinion that "an injustice has been done to the community," but his four co-members, President D. F. White and F. T. Weaver, C. A. Ferguson and George Wilhelm, claimed that the best thing had been done in view of conditions.

Eliminate "Boundary" Lines.

Emmett J. Gaston, board clerk, was instructed to communicate with the committee, advising that the re-opening of another room for the accommodation of 14 children now enrolled elsewhere "would not be economy" as the enrollment in the West End building was not large enough to warrant three rooms. Supt. McVay told the board that if the enrollment increases next year as it did in the past, probably both vacant rooms in the West End school would be reopened next fall. This would mean the transfer of some of the pupils who are now enrolled in the Sixth street and Washington buildings.

As an aftermath of the discussion, the board decided on eliminating all so-called "boundary" lines between school buildings. Supt. McVay declared that it was practically impossible to establish fixed lines as pupils must be placed wherever the situation permits.

Two Teachers Resign.

Taxes collected during June netted the school board $152,145, Gaston reported. Of this amount, there remains $80,432, he said. This is barely enough to meet payrolls, the clerk reported. He estimated the school board funds would be depleted about December 1.

Resignations of Mrs. Louis Hatch, formerly Vera Dray and Miss Elsie Hickey as elementary teachers were accepted by the board. The board also approved the appointment of Miss Dorothy Crosby, Cleveland, as teacher in the part-time schools and Miss Sarah Johnson as teacher in the elementary schools.

Upon the recommendation of the superintendent, the board voted to dismiss schools on Friday, October 29, to give the teachers an opportunity to attend the annual meetings of the Eastern Ohio Teachers' association, the North-Eastern Ohio Teachers association in Cleveland, or to spend the day visiting other schools. More than two-thirds of the teachers have expressed a desire to attend the conventions.

Welcome Awaits Yanks

road. If old Alex can hold the Hupert rifles at bay once more in tomorrow's tussle everything will be right back where it started.

While the Yankees have the advantage of a home field and home crowd for the deciding contest, or contests, that doesn't mean a great deal with a good road club like the Cardinals and a non-partisan New York crowd.

Less Strain In New York.

It is ust possible that getting away from St. Louis may be the best thing that could have happened to the Cards. Certainly, all those parades and back-slapping they went through didn't help them any. They were pressing pretty badly yesterday, because they knew that great home crowd was expecting so much of them. In that way the strain will be less in New York, where, after all, a world's series is only a world's series.

If it should go to the seventh game, Jess Haines is sure to pitch for St. Louis, while Huggins will choose between Shawkey and Ruether. The chances are that Shawkey would get the call. He has been a right smart pitcher lately. No opposing team has scored on him in the last 17 innings he worked.

Herb Pennock and Wife Happy.

ABOARD YANKEE SPECIAL, ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—As this hilarity-laden special train goes speeding homeward this October morning, there's a smiling young chap idling about the observation car watching the flittin- landscape.

Near at hand sits his wife, humming to herself, or leaning over occasionally to whisper in his ear. She's the happiest woman among all the happy women on this train this morning.

And well she should be.

Herbie Pennock, this morning, owns this train, and everything in it. And he has earned his distinction.

For it was his supple left arm that yesterday pitched the Yankees to within a single game of a world championship, his cleverness and cunning that turned back the Cardinal stickers like broken waves before a rock, holding the opposing batsmen at bay until his own teammates, at the last minute, rallied their batting forces to put over the run that meant victory.

Herbie Pennock's record is still clean. He has pitched four world series games and he has yet to be returned a loser.

FOUR KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

Rocky Mountain Limited Hits Car at Victor, Iowa.

VICTOR, Iowa, Oct. 8. — Four persons were dead here today as a result of their automobile being struck by the Rocky Mountain Limited of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad.

The dead are:

Frank Funk, 91, Wichita, Kans.

Mrs. Addison Parker, 50, Wichita, Kans.

Henry Reichart, 70, Ladora, Iowa.

Mrs. Charles Jones, 58, Ladora, Iowa.

Reichart was driving. It is believed the aged man did not hear the train approaching.

Hair Shingled; She Sues Barber

Elly Hoffman.

The moral is:—let no hairdresser become absent-minded. For in such a state a Budapest hair dresser shingled Elly Hoffmann's tresses. As a consequence, so she claims, she lost her employment—her boss being prejudiced against short hair—and the man who was to have married her fell violently out of love. So she is suing for $1,750 dollars.

Dorothy Johanning, 6, Run Down By Grocer's Truck

Nose Broken and Face and Head Cut When Struck by Motor Vehicle on Bradshaw Avenue.

Dorothy, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johanning, Fawcett street, sustained a broken nose and lacerations to her face and head, when struck by a truck, owned by J. H. McCoy, Second street grocer, and driven by Clark Keevan, as she was crossing Bradshaw avenue, near Oak street, at 10:45 o'clock this morning. She is in the City hospital under the care of Drs. Frank R. Harrison and Clyde Larkins.

The accident occurred as the child, whose baby brother, James, died early today, was enroute to her home from the Riley avenue residence of her aunt, Mrs. Clifford Walker.

Keevan, who was traveling down Bradshaw avenue, claimed his truck was moving slowly as he intended to turn at the Avondale street corner

Witnesses said the Johanning girl started across the street, stopped at the street car tracks when she saw the truck approaching and then started back. The end of the front spring struck her, knocking her to the street.

She was carried into the home of Alfred Sullivan, Bradshaw avenue, where Dr. Harrison attended her. She was removed to the hospital in an auto driven by Lewis Capehart Jr., who witnessed the accident. Keewan, who accompanied the child to the hospital, went to the police headquarters where he reported the accident. He was released on his own recognizance.

Three Negroes Taken From Southern Jail And Shot to Death

AIKEN, S. C., Oct. 8.—Three Negroes, two men and a woman, were taken from the county jail here today and shot to death by a mob of 400 men. They were accused of the murder of Sheriff Henry H. Howard, who was killed during a liquor raid.

The lynching followed a verdict of not guilty returned yesterday against Demon Loman, 21. The other negroes slain were Bertha Loman, 26, wife of Demon Loman, and his brother, Clyde Loman, 18.

While the mob was storming the jail, Jailor W. H. Taylor called Sheriff Charles Robinson but when the latter arrived Taylor had been locked in a cell. Robinson also was overpowered and locked up.

The mob hustled the woman and the two men to a patch of woods three miles south of the city where they killed them.

Search For Missing Man.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8.—Search was renewed today for A. A. Kerr, business man, whose disappearance is surrounded by mystery and who, his family declares, might have met with foul play.

Kerr's truck was found in Alum creek and when it was raised, one of his shoes was discovered, police said. The creek was dragged last night without result.

EDITOR WILL OCCUPY PULPIT IN CALCUTTA

Rev. R. J. Miller, Pittsburgh, Will Preach Sunday.

TOWNSHIP'S SON

Morning and Evening Services of Reminiscent Nature.

Rev. Robert J. Miller, former resident of St. Clair township, and for 46 years editor of The Christian Union Herald, Pittsburgh church publication, will occupy the pulpit of the Calcutta United Presbyterian church, four miles north of here, Sunday morning and evening.

The evening services will be of a reminiscent nature, Rev. Mr. Miller recalling events which occurred during the 10 years his parents spent on a farm about one mile east of Calcutta afterwards known as the George McCoy place. Communion will be distributed at the morning service.

Rev. Mr. Miller is the youngest son of the late James Miller and a brother of Dr. James Russell Miller, widely known writer and preacher. The family left Calcutta on September 1, 1863, about two weeks after the capture of the Confederate raider, General John Morgan, near the West Beaver church. They went to New Concord, seat of Muskingum college, making the trip in wagons.

Fifty Years in Pulpit.

Rev. Mr. Miller recalls that much of the trip took them over the path followed by Morgan on his trip northward. Bridges had been burned away by the southern troops and the travelers were forced to ford streams in many places before they reached their destination.

While living in Columbiana county, the church editor attended what was known as the McLaughlin school on the Fredericktown road. Few of his school mates are now living. Among his teachers were his uncle, Thomas Creswell, and Henry Abram, who are buried in the Calcutta United Presbyterian cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Miller recently celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his licensure as a minister. In connection with his work on The Christian Union Herald, he has conducted a mission Sunday school and church in Pittsburg for many years.

During his visit over the week-end, he will be a guest of Miss Fannie Gaston and her mother, who reside on the sub-station road, about a mile southwest of Calcutta.

Third Round in Fight

vided for in said section, will only be granted on good cause shown, and the mere pendency of a petition in error to reverse the judgment of reversal is not sufficient ground for an order granting such stay.

Motion to Dismiss Petition Overruled.

"This court has nothing before it proper for consideration in support of the motion for a stay, except the mere pendency of the pleading. It is true some statement was made by counsel concerning local conditions wholly extrinsic to the issue in this case and which were not brought into the record in such way that the court in any event has the right to consider them. Furthermore, it is said and not disputed that the chief of police, on his own request or demand, is now acting as such; that he has not received any compensation and will not until after the final hearing in this court, and if the determination be adverse to him he will not be able to secure compensation for his services, so that the city is in no danger of being compelled to pay the chief of police for services, unless it be held in the end that they are performed under the right to retain the office.

"The motion to dismiss the petition in error is also at this time overruled. Counsel can draw an entry in conformity with the holding herein made."

Defeat Threatens Ouster Proceedings In Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 8.—Defeat today threatened the ouster suit instigated by 425 petitioners against Mayor John S. H. Patton when the defense attorneys brought forth evidence to prove that 173 persons who signed the removal petition against Patton had either not voted in 1925 when he was elected, or were not qualified to vote.

Taken by surprise by this testimony, Special Prosecutor W. R. Albans asked the court for a few hours time to which to check up the election board records. The court granted him until this afternoon in which to make his investigation. Albans was retained by the Ministerial association.

Miss Marie Dickson, clerk of the election board, testified that in checking over the petitions she had found 127 names of persons who had not voted in 1925.

Woman is Literally Cooked When Oil Stove Explodes

CANTON, O., Oct. 8.—Mrs. Charles Deitrich, 33, is dying in Aultman hospital here from frightful burns received early today when an oil stove, on which she was preparing breakfast exploded. Mrs. Deitrich was literally cooked with the flaming liquid. Her husband tried to smother the fire with a piece of carpet and was badly burned about the hands, arms and body.

Dem. Senator and Coolidge Aid Forget Political Lines at Meet

Sen. Reed, left, and John G. Sargent.

Sen. James A. Reed (Democrat) of Missouri and John G. Sargent, attorney general of the United States, are enemies politically, but professionally they are buddies. They were photographed together when they were honor guests at the recent convention of the Missouri Bar Association held in Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Phoebe Haught.

Mrs. Phoebe Haught, 53 years old, died yesterday at her home in Pennsylvania avenue, East End, after a long illness of a complication of diseases.

She is survived by two sons and one daughter: Wilbur, Earl and Mrs. Gertrude Justice; three brothers, Joseph Cooper, Sherman, W. Va.; Leve and Hoyt Cooper, this city, and three sisters, Mrs. Hattie Miller, Westfield; Mrs. Ruby Simpson, Wellsville, and Mrs. John Rardin, Sherman, W. Va.

Since coming here, the girl claims, she has written to her mother. In one letter she declared to have written: "I'll come home again if you want me to." The answer, she got from her mother, she told police was: "Your actions are disgraceful. For going away with 'Tom' I will never forgive you."

Other letters that the girl claims to have written to her mother, never reached their destination, police said She gave them to Bosich to mail.

Lucy told police that she is the daughter of Samuel Paule, a mill worker in East Youngstown, Ohio.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Short covering in the industrial and specialty stocks at the beginning of trading today accounting for the moderate rallies in prices which occurred in some sections of the market. Stocks as a whole were unable to make much response to the continuation of the 4 per cent reserve bank rediscount rate and the improvement in the reserves of the bank, as disclosed in the 3 per cent rise in the ratio of reserves to total resources.

The steel stocks were dull and heavy, with U. S. Steel and Bethlehem selling fractionally higher and the balance of the list slightly lower.

The most important market news of the day was contained in the government's semi monthly cotton report, with an indicated crop of 16,627,000 bales, against 15,810,000 bales reported two weeks ago.

Buying of the better grade of railroad stocks continued on a broader scale in the second hour, with Chesapeake and Ohio and Nickel Plate in the forefront. New Haven was in demand above 41. Oil stocks showed a slight improvement, with Simms leading the low-priced independents. Call money was unchanged at 4½ per cent.

TODAY

According to Ford people say that boys have no judgment, when they ought to say that they have no opportunity to develop judgment.

FORD intends that his employes shall represent a cross section of society, all ages from boys to old men, from girls to old women, in the proportion in which they exist in the community.

"The presence of the older men adds a balance that would otherwise be lacking. It is unusual for a man to have much real judgment until he is around 50." That is useful common sense.

FORD'S remedy for the crime wave is to put boys and very young men at work to arouse their ambition and give them enough to live decently. A good idea.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of Sarah Mills who died October 8th, 1923 at the age of 16 years.

Gone But Not Forgotten.

A precious one from us has gone
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled,
The boon his love had given,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.

WEST END ASKS REOPENING OF SCHOOL ROOM

COMPLAINT HERE

Board of Education Says Economy Prompted Action.

Charging discrimination against their end of the city, a delegation of 11 residents of the district appeared before the board of education last night to urge the reopening of one of two unused rooms in the West End building.

D. F. White, president of the board, told the delegation that the room had been closed as a move for economy. He cited figures showing that maintenance of another room in the building would cost about $1,400 for the one term.

Spokesman for the complainants asserted that the room could be reestablished at little cost if one of the teachers in the Washington school were transferred to West End, and a combination room organized at the Washington building to take care of pupils from the two grades instead of one teacher for each room.

The delegation also complained about the three-grade room now being maintained in the West End building, charging that pupils are not receiving the personal attention which would be given them if only two grades were in one room. They urged assignment of fifth and sixth grade pupils to one room. This room, they said, should take care of 14 sixth grade pupils who are now enrolled in the Washington and Sixth street buildings.

Hint Fight On School Levy.

Opposition to the 2.3 mill tax levy to be submitted to the electors on Nov. 2, was threatened if the board failed to grant relief. The committee pointed out that elections generally were decided by the vote of the Fourth ward. One of the spokesmen claimed that West End residents were prepared to take legal action to enforce their demands.

Supt. McVay said but 73 pupils were enrolled in the two rooms now maintained in West End building. By transferring to that district 11 pupils who were sent to the Washington and Sixth street buildings at the beginning of the term, the building would have but 87 pupils an average of 29 for each room, he said. The average enrollment is 40.

For more than two hours the committee and the board discussed the question, the debate at times becoming heated. It was after 9 o'clock when the committee withdrew and the board began its deliberations. Member R. B. Stevenson expressed the opinion that "an injustice has been done to the community," but his four co-members, President D. F. White and F. T. Weaver, C. A. Ferguson and George Wilhelm, claimed that the best thing had been done in view of conditions.

Eliminate "Boundary" Lines.

Emmett J. Gaston, board clerk, was instructed to communicate with the committee, advising that the re-opening of another room for the accommodation of 14 children now enrolled eleswhere "would not be economy" as the enrollment in the West End building was not large enough to warrant three rooms. Supt. McVay told the board that if the enrollment increases next year as it did in the past, probably both vacant rooms in the West End school would be reopened next fall. This would mean the transfer of some of the pupils who are now enrolled in the Sixth street and Washington buildings.

As an aftermath of the discussion, the board decided on eliminating all so-called "boundary" lines between school buildings. Supt. McVay declared that it was practically impossible to establish fixed lines as pupils must be placed wherever the situation permits.

Two Teachers Resign.

Taxes collected during June netted the school board $152,145, Gaston reported. Of this amount, there remains $80,432, he said. This is barely enough to meet payrolls, the clerk reported. He estimated the school board funds would be depleted about December 1.

Resignations of Mrs. Louis Hatch, formerly Vera Dray and Miss Elsie Hickey as elementary teachers were accepted by the board. The board also approved the appointment of Miss Dorothy Crosby, Cleveland, as teacher in the part-time schools and Miss Sarah Johnson as teacher in the elementary schools.

Upon the recommendation of the superintendent, the board voted to dismiss schools on Friday, October 29, to give the teachers an opportunity to attend the annual meetings of the Eastern Ohio Teachers' association, the North-Eastern Ohio Teachers association in Cleveland, or to spend the day visiting other schools. More than two-thirds of the teachers have expressed a desire to attend the conventions.

road. If old Alex can hold the Hupert rifles at bay once more in tomorrow's tussle everything will be right back where it started.

While the Yankees have the advantage of a home field and home crowd for the deciding contest, or contests, that doesn't mean a great deal with a good road club like the Cardinals and a non-partisan New York crowd.

Less Strain In New York.

It is ust possible that getting away from St. Louis may be the best thing that could have happened to the Cards. Certainly, all those parades and back-slapping they went through didn't help them any. They were pressing pretty badly yesterday, because they knew that great home crowd was expecting so much of them. In that way the strain will be less in New York, where, after all, a world's series is only a world's series.

If it should go to the seventh game, Jess Haines is sure to pitch for St. Louis, while Huggins will choose between Shawkey and Ruether. The chances are that Shawkey would get the call. He has been a right smart pitcher lately. No opposing team has scored on him in the last 17 innings he worked.

Herb Pennock and Wife Happy.

ABOARD YANKEE SPECIAL, ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—As this hilarity-laden special train goes speeding homeward this October morning, there's a smiling young chap idling about the observation car watching the flittin- landscape.

Near at hand sits his wife, humming to herself, or leaning over occasionally to whisper in his ear. She's the happiest woman among all the happy women on this train this morning.

And well she should be.

Herbie Pennock, this morning, owns this train, and everything in it. And he has earned his distinction.

For it was his supple left arm that yesterday pitched the Yankees to within a single game of a world championship, his cleverness and cunning that turned back the Cardinal stickers like broken waves before a rock, holding the opposing batsmen at bay until his own teammates, at the last minute, rallied their batting forces to put over the run that meant victory.

Herbie Pennock's record is still clean. He has pitched four world series games and he has yet to be returned a loser.

Hair Shingled; She Sues Barber

Elly Hoffman.

The moral is:—let no hairdresser become absent-minded. For in such a state a Budapest hair dresser shingled Elly Hoffmann's tresses. As a consequence, so she claims, she lost her employment—her boss being prejudiced against short hair—and the man who was to have married her fell violently out of love. So she is suing for $1,750 dollars.

Dorothy Johanning, 6, Run Down By Grocer's Truck

Nose Broken and Face and Head Cut When Struck by Motor Vehicle on Bradshaw Avenue.

Dorothy, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johanning, Fawcett street, sustained a broken nose and lacerations to her face and head, when struck by a truck, owned by J. H. McCoy, Second street grocer, and driven by Clark Keevan, as she was crossing Bradshaw avenue, near Oak street, at 10:45 o'clock this morning. She is in the City hospital under the care of Drs. Frank R. Harrison and Clyde Larkins.

The accident occurred as the child, whose baby brother, James, died early today, was enroute to her home from the Riley avenue residence of her aunt, Mrs. Clifford Walker.

Keevan, who was traveling down Bradshaw avenue, claimed his truck was moving slowly as he intended to turn at the Avondale street corner.

Witnesses said the Johanning girl started across the street, stopped at the street car tracks when she saw the truck approaching and then started back. The end of the front spring struck her, knocking her to the street.

She was carried into the home of Alfred Sullivan, Bradshaw avenue, where Dr. Harrison attended her. She was removed to the hospital in an auto driven by Lewis Capehart Jr., who witnessed the accident. Keewan, who accompanied the child to the hospital, went to the police headquarters where he reported the accident. He was released on his own recognizance.

Three Negroes Taken From Southern Jail And Shot to Death

AIKEN, S. C., Oct. 8.—Three Negroes, two men and a woman, were taken from the county jail here today and shot to death by a mob of 400 men. They were accused of the murder of Sheriff Henry H. Howard, who was killed during a liquor raid.

The lynching followed a verdict of not guilty returned yesterday against Demon Loman, 21. The other negroes slain were Bertha Loman, 26, wife of Demon Loman, and his brother, Clyde Loman, 18.

While the mob was storming the jail, Jailor W. H. Taylor called Sheriff Charles Robinson but when the latter arrived Taylor had been locked in a cell. Robinson also was overpowered and locked up.

The mob hustled the woman and the two men to a patch of woods three miles south of the city where they killed them.

Search For Missing Man.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8.—Search was renewed today for A. A. Kerr, business man, whose disappearance is surrounded by mystery and who, his family declares, might have met with foul play.

Kerr's truck was found in Alum creek and when it was raised, one of his shoes was discovered, police said. The creek was dragged last night without result.

EDITOR WILL OCCUPY PULPIT IN CALCUTTA

Rev. R. J. Miller, Pittsburgh, Will Preach Sunday.

TOWNSHIP'S SON

Morning and Evening Services of Reminiscent Nature.

Rev. Robert J. Miller, former resident of St. Clair township, and for 46 years editor of The Christian Union Herald, Pittsburgh church publication, will occupy the pulpit of the Calcutta United Presbyterian church, four miles north of here, Sunday morning and evening.

The evening services will be of a reminiscent nature, Rev. Mr. Miller recalling events which occurred during the 10 years his parents spent on a farm about one mile east of Calcutta, afterwards known as the George McCoy place. Communion will be distributed at the morning service.

Rev. Mr. Miller is the youngest son of the late James Miller and a brother of Dr. James Russell Miller, widely known writer and preacher. The family left Calcutta on September 1, 1863, about two weeks after the capture of the Confederate raider, General John Morgan, near the West Beaver church. They went to New Concord, seat of Muskingum college, making the trip in wagons.

Fifty Years in Pulpit.

Rev. Mr. Miller recalls that much of the trip took them over the path followed by Morgan on his trip northward. Bridges had been burned away by the southern troops and the travelers were forced to ford streams in many places before they reached their destination.

While living in Columbiana county, the church editor attended what was known as the McLaughlin school on the Fredericktown road. Few of his school mates are now living. Among his teachers were his uncle, Thomas Creswell, and Henry Abram, who are buried in the Calcutta United Presbyterian cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Miller recently celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his licensure as a minister. In connection with his work on The Christian Union Herald, he has conducted a mission Sunday school and church in Pittsburg for many years.

During his visit over the week-end, he will be a guest of Miss Fannie Gaston and her mother, who reside on the sub-station road, about a mile southwest of Calcutta.

vided for in said section, will only be granted on good cause shown, and the mere pendency of a petition in error to reverse the judgment of reversal is not sufficient ground for an order granting such stay.

Motion to Dismiss Petition Overruled.

"This court has nothing before it proper for consideration in support of the motion for a stay, except the mere pendency of the pleading. It is true some statement was made by counsel concerning local conditions wholly extrinsic to the issue in this case and which were not brought into the record in such way that the court in any event has the right to consider them. Furthermore, it is said and not disputed that the chief of police, on his own request or demand, is now acting as such; that he has not received any compensation and will not until after the final hearing in this court, and if the determination be adverse to him he will not be able to secure compensation for his services, so that the city is in no danger of being compelled to pay the chief of police for services, unless it be held in the end that they are performed under the right to retain the office.

"The motion to dismiss the petition in error is also at this time overruled. Counsel can draw an entry in conformity with the holding herein made."

Defeat Threatens Ouster Proceedings In Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 8.—Defeat today threatened the ouster suit instigated by 425 petitioners against Mayor John S. H. Patton when the defense attorneys brought forth evidence to prove that 173 persons who signed the removal petition against Patton had either not voted in 1925 when he was elected, or were not qualified to vote.

Taken by surprise by this testimony, Special Prosecutor W. R. Albans asked the court for a few hours time to which to check up the election board records. The court granted him until this afternoon in which to make his investigation. Albans was retained by the Ministerial association.

Miss Marie Dickson, clerk of the election board, testified that in checking over the petitions she had found 127 names of persons who had not voted in 1925.

Most of the trading revolved around the recognized speculative leader in the railroad, motor and specialty groups. General Motors sold about a point higher and Chrysler reached 36½.

The steel stocks were dull and heavy, with U. S. Steel and Bethlehem selling fractionally higher and the balance of the list slightly lower.

The most important market news of the day was contained in the government's semi monthly cotton report, with an indicated crop of 16,627,000 bales, against 15,810,000 bales reported two weeks ago.

Buying of the better grade of railroad stocks continued on a broader scale in the second hour, with Chesapeake and Ohio and Nickel Plate in the forefront. New Haven was in demand above 41. Oil stocks showed a slight improvement, with Simms leading the low-priced independents. Call money was unchanged at 4½ per cent.

According to Ford people say that boys have no judgment, when they ought to say that they have no opportunity to develop judgment.

FORD intends that his employes shall represent a cross section of society, all ages from boys to old men, from girls to old women, in the proportion in which they exist in the community.

"The presence of the older men adds a balance that would otherwise be lacking. It is unusual for a man to have much real judgment until he is around 50." That is useful common sense.

FORD'S remedy for the crime wave is to put boys and very young men at work to arouse their ambition and give them enough to live decently. A good idea.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of Sarah Mills who died October 8th, 1923 at the age of 16 years.

Gone But Not Forgotten.

A precious one from us has gone
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled,
The boon his love had given,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON, Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

In the onward swing, when the club has been swung back in a free and easy manner, the arms can help the clubhead some by exerting a throwing impulse when the clubhead gets near the ball. But to do this the player must be free of stiffness and the rigidity that accumulate from taking the club back stiffly and awkwardly and from being in much of a hurry to hit the ball. In order to throw the club the arms and shoulders must be free and loose, as they would be if you were to throw a ball or any other weight. Then, when you throw the clubhead throw it directly across the ball, apparently from left to right, or from inside the line out. Do not strain to throw it away out—in all things in golf do merely the natural thing. So in throwing the clubhead from the inside out you can easily overdue it if you get to reaching away out, which will pull you off your balance and spoil the shot. Take it easily, naturally.

ARMS AND SHOULDERS MUST BE FREE AND LOOSE.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON, Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

In the onward swing, when the club has been swung back in a free and easy manner, the arms can help the clubhead some by exerting a throwing impulse when the clubhead gets near the ball. But to do this the player must be free of stiffness and the rigidity that accumulate from taking the club back stiffly and awkwardly and from being in much of a hurry to hit the ball. In order to throw the club the arms and shoulders must be free and loose, as they would be if you were to throw a ball or any other weight. Then, when you throw the clubhead throw it directly across the ball, apparently from left to right, or from inside the line out. Do not strain to throw it away out—in all things in golf do merely the natural thing. So in throwing the clubhead from the inside out you can easily overdue it if you get to reaching away out, which will pull you off your balance and spoil the shot. Take it easily, naturally.

ARMS AND SHOULDERS MUST BE FREE AND LOOSE.

Crippled High School Eleven Will Enjoy Rest Saturday

Laughlin To Battle Empire 11 In Opener

Crew of Seasoned Grid Performers Lined up for Clash Tomorrow; Contest Will Start at 4.

WITH a little better than two weeks of good stiff practice sessions stowed away, muscles unlimbered, attack formations functioning properly and defense movements working smoothly, the Newell Laughlin China independent football team feels "set" for its opener tomorrow afternoon at Newell park.

The Empire A. C., an organization that has been in the independent field for several years, will provide the opposition. The game will start at 4 o'clock, instead of at 3:30 as originally planned, in order to permit practically all plant employes to finish up in time for the contest.

Coach Ernest Bucher, former high school and Denison college football, basketball and track star, is coaching the Laughlin combine and is confident his charges, with any kind of breaks will "take" the Jefferson county eleven tomorrow. He will put his squad through its final workout tonight, beginning at 5:30 o'clock.

Manager Joe Dickey, assisted by Cach Bucher, is making every effort to bring together a winning combination and expects to see his labors bring forth fruit tomorrow and in the following games as well. Talent for the Laughlin eleven is being recruited not alone from the different plants of the pottery organization, but from any available source.

Among the gridders of the district who will don the moleskin for the inaugural tilt are "Cheese" Plant, veteran quarterback who has figured in countless battles of the gridiron here, Lee Hall, Newton Hall, Ronald Staats, Joe Gibas, Clyde Boso, Don Bennett, Emmet Bailey, Ed Curry, Chick Baker, Hanna, Wayne Jester, Ross Walters, Roy Walker, Tom Walker, Sam Hilditch, Paul Hughes and Eugene Fisher.

Coach Bucher is not certain of his starting lineup and will probably not select the eleven until prior to game time.

Rookies Get Chance.

TIFFIN.—Three sophomores are to break into the Heidelberg college football line-up in the game with Otterbein at Westerville. Mautz and Adams, both second year men, have been drilled for halfback positions. Hess, another soph, is also to be given a place, while Watson has been shifted from tackle to end and Burns from a flank berth to tackle.

B-W Eleven Crippled.

BEREA.—The Baldwin-Wallace college football team is badly crippled as a result of the Reserve game last Saturday. Beyer, left guard, injured his arm and the X-ray shows a broken bone in the forearm. Bennett, end, and Weise, tackle, have broken ribs, and Hallet, substitute half, has torn hip muscles.

BABE ALMOST MISSES TRAIN

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—Babe Ruth almost missed the train which carried the Yankees out of St. Louis last evening.

After the game he went downtown to be presented with an automobile by St. Louis friends and missed the Yankee special at Union Station. He telephoned the Bemon avenue station, on the north side, to have the train held, and just caught the special by making a mad dash by motor through the traffic.

CHICAGO SERIES IS WON BY SOX

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Chicago's major league baseball players, comprising the White Sox and Cubs, were entraining for their homes today, following the windup battle of the city series.

The White Sox regained the city championship, winning four of the seven games played. The deciding game was played yesterday at Cubs park. Ted Blankenship shut out the Nationals, 3 to 0.

The Bruins outhit the Sox, 8 to 7, but Root and Blake were liberal with passes, several of which figured in the scoring.

Saints Show Form.

CINCINNATI.—St. Xavier college's football team today showed improved form in the rehearsals for the big intersectional game with the United States Marine Corps eleven from Quantico, Va., here Saturday.

Douthit's History "Prof" Made Him Study Books-Then He Sent Him Out To Be Baseball Star

(By Katharine Brush)

T LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 7.—One of the aces was missing from the St. Louis pack of cards in the lost game against the Yanks today. Young Taylor Douthit, centerfielder, spent the tense innings in the dugout, no doubt roundly cussing the wrenched and battered shoulder that kept him there.

Douthit's injury was sustained in the mad fray of yesterday when he and Hafey, the left fielder, both intent on pulling a fly by Dugan down out of the blue, bumped into one another with a bump so violent that you fancied you could almost hear it. Both flopped to the ground. Both lay writhing while the fans held 38,000 assorted breaths and the team mates of the casualties rushed to aid them. Both rose in due time and played the rest of the game, and Hafey played in the game today. But Douthit must have been more mashed against than mashing in the collision, for this morn the condition of his shoulder was such that the use of it for business purposes was out of the question.

Nobody knows whether or not his presence on the diamond this afternoon would have made any difference in the outcome of the battle. But certainly, his absence robbed the encounter of a bit of it accustomed color.

Douthit is one of the most colorful and interesting ball players in the current world series. Young he is, not long out of the University of California, from which he graduated in 1923. He's good-looking, too, in a clean cut sort of way, so that there is noticeable in the cheers that greet his diamond accomplishments quite a sweet and swelling soprano note, and he is as likeable young man as you would want to meet.

A living explosion of the ancient theory that professional ball players are not gentlemen. And who do you suppose induced Taylor Douthit to become a professional ball player in the first place? None other than the professor of history at California.

This was a shock to me. My experience with history professors has not been what you could call extensive—except for the one who flunked me, I can't say I 've ever known any—but I could have sworn that they had no sporting proclivities whatsoever. I mean, I thought that in all probabilities baseball history, past, present or future was one history that left them quite cold. It seems I was wrong. Mr. Douthit not only told me that his history professor was the man responsible for his present vocation, but he added that the history professor had once played professional baseball himself.

"He never got over it," Douthit said.

"He just played a few years and then went back to his studies, but he's crazy about baseball to this day." Follows it as closely as if he were Landis or somebody.

"I was playing ball on the California team and he used to invite me over to his house in the evenings, and we'd talk for hours and hours about the game. When I graduated, he sent me to Branch Rickey, at that time manager of the Cardinals, who was a personal friend of his. And," concluded young Douthit, smiling like a very nice tooth paste advertisement, "Here I am."

Douthit has been the property of St. Louis Nationals for three years, but this is his first year of big league playing. Previously, the club farmed him out to teams in minor leagues, so that he might learn the few things he wasn't born knowning about the game.

This year he began with the Cardinals in the spring and he has been there ever since, right there. Ask any St. Louisan. He is the lead-off man of the team's batting list and last Saturday afternoon in New York he started off in the first half of the first inning of his first world series with a bang-aloud long bang that took him express to second base. Not only that, but he scored the first run of the series, and he's been hitting and running off and on every since.

He lives in Oakland, California, and during the winter is the right hand man of his father, who has a flourishing real estate business. He isn't married and doesn't want to be until little Miss Right comes along. He insists that he has never been in love.

"But of course," he added ingeniously, after he had told me this, "I know some awfully nice girls back home."

Defiance Books Toledo.

DEFIANCE.—The Oct. 16 date on the Defiance college football schedule, left vacant by the cancellation of Urbana, will be filled by the University of Toledo, Coach Paul S. Mason has announced.

BREAKS 5 TO 1 FOR YANKEES

Get Bad One When Wind Checks Lazzeri's Fly.

By Davis J. Walsh.

ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—At the end of the game the breaks stood five to one in favor of the Yanks. The latter's only bad luck came in the sixth when the wind held Lazzeri's long fly inside the park with the bases filled. But as far as that went, Lazzeri wouldn't hase been at bat except for Pennock's lucky double.

Douthit would have caught Paschal's fly that scored the tying run in the ninth; that is, Douthit would have done so if he wasn't sitting on the bench.

The only thing you catch there is a lot of splinters.

But Douthit's absence caused by his collision with Hafey on Wednesday was not as detrimental as Hafey's presence. The latter couldn't get up with flies hit in his direction because of his leg injury.

The boys used to hold St. Louis up for public consideration as the hotbed of feudal bias. But no more. The stands made a hero of Ruth without having to give the proposition their best effort.

Lazzeri has proved two things, i. e., and to wit, that he can hit a baseball with much fervor and that he can run into more trouble than a blind man on a motorcycle. He tried to stretch a double out of all proportion to its worth with none out on Wednesday and yesterday he romped blithely into a tag-out double play with a run already over the plate.

All the young man had to do was to stop and make Hornsby chase him or throw to second. Either course would have allowed Gehrig to score before the completion of the final out.

Our Mr. Ruth walked twice but otherwise spent a sedate afternoon at the plate. But his one-hand catch of Hafey's foul in the fourth was a gem of purest ray serene.

If the Yanks win the series and no one is betting that they won't, they will be the first club to win a world's series title with a sieve for an infield.

When Mr. Huggins decided that he needed a substitute for Dugan he sent Gazella to third base. That one brought down the house. Just try that infield on your mouth organ some time: Gehrig, Lazzeri, Koenig and Gazella. Just a mouthful of consonants.

Sherdel pitched two fine ball games and lost both. Hoyt stumbled through a terrible thing and won. There "aint" no justice in this life.

Dover--Wellsville Squads Will Renew Gridiron Warfare

Ray Wilde's Chester Combine Faces Real Early Season Test at Follansbee in First Road Game of Year; Weirton and New Cumberland Battle in First Title Engagement.

Idle tomorrow as a result of a hole in the schedule which school officials were unable to fill prior to last Saturday, members of Coach Kidder's Blue and White squad will be spectators, instead of performers, in the majority instanances, tomorrow.

Several of the squad plan to take in the Pitt-Lafayette clash tomorrow afternoon at Pitt stadium and a few of them will see Wellsville in action against Dover, the Wellsville tilt being the only scholastic engagement scheduled in the district., Chester being slated to perform at Follansbee.

Captain Dick Larkins will nurse and injured shoulder in the hope of getting back into his place in the center of the line in two or three weeks if possible. A couple of ligaments in his shoulder were torn in the Sebring game, but Dick managed to go through the subsequent week of practice and the first three quarter of the clash with Akron East before he was hurt again and the pain was so intense he was compelled to leave the field.

Todd, who has been playing occasionally at guard in the Blue and White line, may be called upon by Kidder to understudy Larkins' during the latter's absence.

High's next engagement will also be a home attraction, East Palestine being slated here on October 16. On the following week the locals go to Toronto.

Dover at Wellsville.

COACH EARL KLINCK'S Orange and Black will renew warfare with Dover tomorrow afternoon at Hammond park with the expectation of either giving the visitors a drubbing or at least a tough game.

For the last two years the Doverites have had the Indian sign on the Wellsville aggregation and Klinck's charges feel today very much as though they would like to break the charm, whatever it is.

Dover's supremacy has not been established by a great margin, four touchdowns, if memory serves correctly, representing the total amount of scoring in the two contests and one of the quartet belongs to Wellsville.

The Dover combine took a 6-0 decision on one occasion and copped one by the count of 12-6 on another, both games finding Wellsville in a comparatively weak stage.

The Orange and Black this year boasts a good line, better, at least, than those of the past three years, if it can be kept intact, although the backfield, with one or two exceptions, is comparatively green.

Nevertheless, the Orange and Black is confident of taking a fall out of Dover tomorrow. Dover has already won two, toppling Minerva by a 15 to 7 count and swamping Cadiz, 39 to 6.

Field conditions at Hammond park will be improved for the contest. Motorists will be permitted to park on the west, or upper side, but not on the lower. Cinders have been spread around and conditions generally improved.

Klinck will be without the services of two ends, Dickey and Brannen. Dickey is out with a bad knee and Brannen is suffering from the effects of a severe cold.

The following officials will handle the game: Park (Syracuse), referee; Patterson (Ohio U.), umpire; Sterrett (Geneva), head linesman. The game will start at 3.

Chester at Follansbee.

IN comparatively good physical condition following their 6 to 0 victory over Wellsville in the opener last Saturday at Chester, Coach Ray Wilde's eleven will face a real early season test tomorrow afternoon at Follansbee and on the outcome of the tilt with Caskey's outfit Hancock countians may base their predictions for the remainder of the season.

Follansbee had been drilling strenuously all week, leaving nothing undone in the line of preparation for the Chester eleven and the Caskeyites are full of confidence, at least.

Chester developed a lot of form last Saturday in winning from Wellsville by a single touchdown margin and may show the Brooke countians a thing or two about the game tomorrow.

Follansbee was tumbled a week ago by the fast Warwood team, showing that they are not exactly invincible.

Chester was trimmed by Follansbee last year and hasn't forgotten it. Neither has Follansbee and the Brooke county outfit, consequently, is anticipating a tougher battle than the 1925 setto.

Hancock county grid fans also will keep an eye on the Weirton-New Cumberland battle at New Cumberland. The game stacks up as the first battle of the three cornered elimination series for the Hancock county championship. New Cumberland last week walloped Brilliant by a 43 to 0 score and the week before held Follansbee to a scoreless tie.

Akron Stronger.

AKRON—Harold Cochran, injured in the Case game last Saturday, will be unable to enter the lists against Ohio university this week, but Akron's team is expected to be stronger than last week because of incessant drill in blocking, tackling and other fundamentals. Huffman, halfback, and other new men will be tried Saturday.

Crippled High School Eleven Will Enjoy Rest Saturday

Crew of Seasoned Grid Performers Lined up for Clash Tomorrow; Contest Will Start at 4.

WITH a little better than two weeks of good stiff practice sessions stowed away, muscles unlimbered, attack formations functioning properly and defense movements working smoothly, the Newell Laughlin China independent football team feels "set" for its opener tomorrow afternoon at Newell park.

The Empire A. C., an organization that has been in the independent field for several years, will provide the opposition. The game will start at 4 o'clock, instead of at 3:30 as originally planned, in order to permit practically all plant employes to finish up in time for the contest.

Coach Ernest Bucher, former high school and Denison college football, basketball and track star, is coaching the Laughlin combine and is confident his charges, with any kind of breaks will "take" the Jefferson county eleven tomorrow. He will put his squad through its final workout tonight, beginning at 5:30 o'clock.

Manager Joe Dickey, assisted by Cach Bucher, is making every effort to bring together a winning combination and expects to see his labors bring forth fruit tomorrow and in the following games as well. Talent for the Laughlin eleven is being recruited not alone from the different plants of the pottery organization, but from any available source.

Among the gridders of the district who will don the moleskin for the inaugural tilt are "Cheese" Plant, veteran quarterback who has figured in countless battles of the gridiron here, Lee Hall, Newton Hall, Ronald Staats, Joe Gibas, Clyde Boso, Don Bennett, Emmet Bailey, Ed Curry, Chick Baker, Hanna, Wayne Jester, Ross Walters, Roy Walker, Tom Walker, Sam Hilditch, Paul Hughes and Eugene Fisher.

Coach Bucher is not certain of his starting lineup and will probably not select the eleven until prior to game time.

Rookies Get Chance.

TIFFIN.—Three sophomores are to break into the Heidelberg college football line-up in the game with Otterbein at Westerville. Mautz and Adams, both second year men, have been drilled for halfback positions. Hess, another soph, is also to be given a place, while Watson has been shifted from tackle to end and Burns from a flank berth to tackle.

B-W Eleven Crippled.

BEREA.—The Baldwin-Wallace college football team is badly crippled as a result of the Reserve game last Saturday. Beyer, left guard, injured his arm and the X-ray shows a broken bone in the forearm. Bennett, end, and Weise, tackle, have broken ribs, and Hallet, substitute half, has torn hip muscles.

BABE ALMOST MISSES TRAIN

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—Babe Ruth almost missed the train which carried the Yankees out of St. Louis last evening.

After the game he went downtown to be presented with an automobile by St. Louis friends and missed the Yankee special at Union Station. He telephoned the Bemon avenue station, on the north side, to have the train held, and just caught the special by making a mad dash by motor through the traffic.

CHICAGO SERIES IS WON BY SOX

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Chicago's major league baseball players, comprising the White Sox and Cubs, were entraining for their homes today, following the windup battle of the city series.

The White Sox regained the city championship, winning four of the seven games played. The deciding game was played yesterday at Cubs park. Ted Blankenship shut out the Nationals, 3 to 0.

The Bruins outhit the Sox, 8 to 7, but Root and Blake were liberal with passes, several of which figured in the scoring.

Saints Show Form.

CINCINNATI.—St. Xavier college's football team today showed improved form in the rehearsals for the big intersectional game with the United States Marine Corps eleven from Quantico, Va., here Saturday.

Douthit's History "Prof" Made Him Study Books-Then He Sent Him Out To Be Baseball Star

(By Katharine Brush)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 7.—One of the aces was missing from the St. Louis pack of cards in the lost game against the Yanks today. Young Taylor Douthit, centerfielder, spent the tense innings in the dugout, no doubt roundly cussing the wrenched and battered shoulder that kept him there.

Douthit's injury was sustained in the mad fray of yesterday when he and Hafey, the left fielder, both intent on pulling a fly by Dugan down out of the blue, bumped into one another with a bump so violent that you fancied you could almost hear it. Both flopped to the ground. Both lay writhing while the fans held 38,000 assorted breaths and the team mates of the casualties rushed to aid them. Both rose in due time and played the rest of the game, and Hafey played in the game today. But Douthit must have been more mashed against than mashing in the collision, for this morn the condition of his shoulder was such that the use of it for business purposes was out of the question.

Nobody knows whether or not his presence on the diamond this afternoon would have made any difference in the outcome of the battle. But certainly, his absence robbed the encounter of a bit of it accustomed color.

Douthit is one of the most colorful and interesting ball players in the current world series. Young he is, not long out of the University of California, from which he graduated in 1923. He's good-looking, too, in a clean cut sort of way, so that there is noticeable in the cheers that greet his diamond accomplishments quite a sweet and swelling soprano note, and he is as likeable young man as you would want to meet.

A living explosion of the ancient theory that professional ball players are not gentlemen. And who do you suppose induced Taylor Douthit to become a professional ball player in the first place? None other than the professor of history at California.

This was a shock to me. My experience with history professors has not been what you could call extensive—except for the one who flunked me, I can't say I 've ever known any—but I could have sworn that they had no sporting proclivities whatsoever. I mean, I thought that in all probabilities baseball history, past, present or future was one history that left them quite cold. It seems I was wrong. Mr. Douthit not only told me that his history professor was the man responsible for his present vocation, but he added that the history professor had once played professional baseball himself.

"He never got over it," Douthit said.

"He just played a few years and then went back to his studies, but he's crazy about baseball to this day." Follows it as closely as if he were Landis or somebody.

"I was playing ball on the California team and he used to invite me over to his house in the evenings, and we'd talk for hours and hours about the game. When I graduated, he sent me to Branch Rickey, at that time manager of the Cardinals, who was a personal friend of his. And," concluded young Douthit, smiling like a very nice tooth paste advertisement, "Here I am."

Douthit has been the property of St. Louis Nationals for three years, but this is his first year of big league playing. Previously, the club farmed him out to teams in minor leagues, so that he might learn the few things he wasn't born knowning about the game.

This year he began with the Cardinals in the spring and he has been there ever since, right there. Ask any St. Louisan. He is the lead-off man of the team's batting list and last Saturday afternoon in New York he started off in the first half of the first inning of his first world series with a bang-aloud long bang that took him express to second base. Not only that, but he scored the first run of the series, and he's been hitting and running off and on every since.

He lives in Oakland, California, and during the winter is the right hand man of his father, who has a flourishing real estate business. He isn't married and doesn't want to be until little Miss Right comes along. He insists that he has never been in love.

"But of course," he added ingeniously, after he had told me this, "I know some awfully nice girls back home."

Defiance Books Toledo.

DEFIANCE.—The Oct. 16 date on the Defiance college football schedule, left vacant by the cancellation of Urbana, will be filled by the University of Toledo, Coach Paul S. Mason has announced.

HORNSBY PINS SERIES HOPES ON ALEXANDER'S SHOULDERS

"Will Match His Two Winners With Yanks' Two Losing Hurlers

Victory Saturday for Cards Would Find Haines Back on Hilltop in Final; New York Today is 2 to 1 Bet for Series.

ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—"I'll match my two winners against their two losers and ask favors of no man."

That was Rogers Hornsby's final word as he boarded a train for the east with his St. Louis Cardinals in tow for the sixth game of the world series with the New York Yankees at the stadium on Saturday and today the intelligentsia were disposed to string along with the young man's viewpoint.

The Cards may be one down and two to play on this series but the fact that Hornsby had Alexander and Haines, his two winning pitchers, to match against Huggins' two losers, Shocker and Ruether, was not to be laughed off in a high falsetto. Life might have been ebbing fast from Cardinal hopes today but all animation was by no means extinct.

Alexander will pitch the Saturday pastime in New York and if he can show sixty per cent of the game he showed the first time they took the blanket off him, the Cards can't be any worse than an even bet for that particular occasion.

For the entire series, the Yanks, perforce, ranked a 2 to 1 favorite on the basis of elementary mathematics. The Cards had to take two ball games to win the series, the Yanks only one.

And unless the boys get around to the matter of catching pop flies, the best exhibition of pitching that Alexander and Haines might care to uncover will get them slightly less than nothing. Bill Sherdel turned loose a left handed epic yesterday and all he got was a pain in the collar and his second straight defeat in the series at the hands of Herb Pennock.

What the Yanks did to Bill was little, if anything. What the Cards did to him was ample, sufficient and enough.

The first alien run scored when Hafey stepped on his silly foot and lost Pennock's drive for a two base hit, so called, and he came on in on Koenig's single to left. But before this transpired, they trapped Pennock off second but lost him again when Thevenow dropped the ball. In other words, Pennock was out twice before he scored the first run.

The second came in the ninth and tied the score. The manner in which it was scored was enough to make one weep silently into the folds of his vest. Gehrig hit a high fly over the infield for what should have been the first out. It wasn't. The wind carried the ball away from Thevenow while the limping Hafey was nowhere, so the ball dropped safe for a double. Lazzeri then prepared to lay down his sacrificial life but the Cards wouldn't have it that way.

Bell was caught on his flat feet and it went for a hit, Gehrig rumbling to third. He scored when Paschal looped another lazy fly over the infield, too far out for Thevenow and too far in for Holm.

I have no interest in the fact that the Yanks won in the tenth inning. The fact of the matter is that there shouldn't have been any tenth inning at all.

However, it is becoming more apparent with each passing year that the disposition of world series spoils is being decreed by fate. The Senators in 1924 had to fluke in the tying run on a badly bounding hit in the ninth and the winning run on a carbon copy of the same play. Apparently both balls hit the same lump of dirt, which is not the beginning of a bed time story but the truth, the entire truth and nothing but.

There were plenty of breaks in the stygian gloom of the 1925 finale and the Pirates got all of them, though truth to tell they forced them. They were a fighting outfit who refused to die with their boots on because they refused to die at all.

Maybe the Cards will come back the way the Senators and Pirates did. I wouldn't bet that they will and I wouldn't bet that they won't. I'm cured.

LAUGHLIN CLUB HOLDS BANQUET

Tribute to Laughlin's 1926 champions of the City Industrial league was paid at the celebration banquet held last night in the Larkins' restaurant annex.

Approximately 40, including league officials, guests and players attended the event.

A large silver loving cup, emblematic of the loop title, was formally presented to the Newell champions following the banquet, the presentation address being made by Mayor Ralph Benedum and the response by Sol McCoy, pilot of the victorious pastimers.

Praise was forthcoming for every member of the pennant winning assembly and especially to Laughlin's veteran catcher, Ted Hunselman, one of the "fightin'est" backstops of the entire circuit, declared by league officials and others as one of the most valuable members of the Laughlin nine, a great factor in that club's victorious drive to first half-season honors and finally to the pennant. Ted, who does most of his talking on the diamond, where his "speeches" are frequent and effective, accepted the honors with a brief reply.

C. C. Cline, efficient president of the league, acted as toastmaster. J. M. Wells, manager of Homer Laughlin plant No. 6, had a good word for every one of the boys, praising the team for its conquest and pledging the plant's co-operation in the future as it has been in the past.

Advantages of the industrial circuit to the city, and entire district, as well, were enumerated in a talk by H. H. Barth, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who presaged many successful seasons for the organization under the skilled guidance of men of the type of those who this year handled affairs of the league and its various clubs.

Joe Dickey, club secretary, reviewed the season and the work of the individual members of the club, heaping unstinted praise on the sholders of Manager Sol McCoy and the latter, in a talk, told the assemblage how the pennant was won.

Musical selections by the Blue Boys' banjo trio and Red Mack's quartet added to the attractiveness of the program.

Among those who attended were: President, C. C. Cline, J. M. Wells, H. B. Barth, Mayor Ralph Benedum, Joseph Dickey, H. L. Smith, F. J. Wise, Manager Sol McCoy, Hunselman, Digman, Barr, Parsons, Watson, Sayres, Herbert, Aufderheide, Tommy Maley and Zeke Collins.

"TOUGH LUCK, WEE WILLIE"

By Dick Williams.

ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—There are hard luck pitchers and lucky pitchers, and you need not look further than the details of that third Yankee victory in the sad city of St. Louis yesterday to find a good example of each specie.

If any pitcher ever played in hard luck, Wee William Sherdel is the gent. And if any pitcher was ever festooned with bright, heliotrope horseshoes, it was Mr. Herbert Pennock, the lean left hander of the Yankees and now owner of two world series victories.

Sherdel got no breaks, barring possibly one. Pennock not only had every catalogued sort of break, including two of an extremely personal nature, but he had some that are not listed.

The first Yankee score was the direct result of two happenings, most extraordinary indeed. First, Chick Hafey, who left fields for the Cardinals, fell on his ample nose while attempting to pursue Pennock's hoist to left and it went for two bases. A minute later, Bob O'Farrell nipped Herb off second, but Tommy Thevenow dropped the ball when Herb piled into him with both feet and Herb was safe.

Hence, Herb was twice retired, or should have been, but he remained in the conflict to score a run on Mark Koenig's hit. So much for that run. In the ninth Gehrig popped a short fly to left field and Thevenow, Hafey and Holm pursued it. Ordinarily it would have fallen into Thevenow's shirt bosom, but instead the wind carried it away, the sun moved into Tommy's eyes and the ball dropped on fair territory and skipped through Chick Hafey's long legs while Gehrig went to second.

Tony Lazzeri then dribbled a long bunt along the third base line on which Lester Bell changed his mind twice and finally fielded too late to head off Tony. Gehrig went to third and promptly scored on another pop hit. This damage was done by Ben Paschal, who batted for Joe Dugan.

This tied it up and in the tenth Mark Koenig, who'd been easy for Sherdel all day, reached first on another one of those strange hits, went to second when Sherdel, working too carefully on Babe Ruth, uncorked a wild pitch, and then scored on Lazzeri's long fly to Hafey. Lazzeri's hit followed a pass to Lou Gehrig with men on second and third.

BOY MURDERER ASKS CLEMENCY

Letters Urge Governor to Save Lad, 15, From Gallows.

A virtual storm of letters and telegrams, which humanitarians the nation over hoped would throw an effectual barrier between Adam Burress, 15 year-old mountain boy awaiting the gallows, today brought forth the assurance from the office of Gov. Howard M. Gore, at Charleston that the boy will not be hanged for his assault on a 9-year-old girl while there remained a shadow of doubt as to the justice of such course.

Between the 15-year-old lad and the gallows stands a long line of possible legal appeals, and back of that the policy of the state of West Virginia never to take a human life until the Governor has been convinced by investigation into the prisoner's mental condition, that the penalty is just and humanitarian. This was the reply of Sam Mattison, secretary to Governor Gore, to the letter of Ernest K. Coulter, of New York, and an army of others who have besieged the executive offices with pleas for clemency for Burress.

The death penalty was imposed upon Burress in McDowell county criminal court. An appeal was taken immediately to the circuit court of appeals, where the case is now pending before Judge James A. Strother. In case of an adverse decision there appeal could be taken to the supreme court, and further, before Governor Gore.

The Governor cannot take action in the case, Mattison pointed out until all other legal recourses have been exhausted.

'CHICAGO MAY,' WORLD CROOK, ILL, IS FOUND

Held as Street Walker in Detroit Hospital.

FREAKISH VOICE

Admits Identity and Discusses Old and Brighter Day.

CHICAGO.—Crime and beauty!

The career of this combination—a duet which in its heydey a quarter of a century ago ran riot through the courts and hearts of a half dozen nations—was recalled here today as police discussed the arrest in Detroit of the once famous "Chicago May" Churchill.

"Chicago May" has come down a peg or two since the wild daredevil days of her youth, when her dashing beauty and pretty smile thrilled the hearts of many a stalwart guardian of the law and brought her a personal pardon from President Montellier of France in 1904.

But today this once famous internationally crook lies in a Detroit hospital—held as a common streetwalker.

Freakish Voice.

Her identity was discovered because of a freakish remembrance of her voice by a Detroit policewoman. Recently while serving her sentence in the county jail at Detroit, May became ill and was transferred to the jail hospital for a major operation. The policewoman, questioning her, was haunted by something vaguely familiar about her voice. She searched her memory, harking back to almost forgotten days, and finally charged the patient with being "Chicago May." The woman first denied and then admitted her identity, apparently glad to at last to discuss the old brighter days with someone "who knew her when ——."

Newspaper clippings, already yellowing with age, show that the last printed record of May was when she dropped from sight in New York in 1919. At that time, she had once again talked herself out of imprisonment on a charge of attempted murder of the man she was living with. She had been pardoned two years before from an English prison where she had been sentenced to serve a 15 years sentence for her part in the attempt of "Dutch Gas" Miller to kill her sweetheart, Eddie Guerin, famous in his own right as a Chicago crook, and whose love for "Chicago May" was a thing respected throughout the underworld.

May was born in Dublin 50 years ago. She came to Chicago when aged 13 and soon after started on a career as a petty shoplifter. Discovering that her pretty face and quick, Irish wit often enabled her to circumvent the law when caught, she became bolder and soon became known as a daring fur thief.

Then she became attracted to Guerin and the two for years lived a hectic life of crime, always just beyond the outstretched fingers of the law. In 1900, the two went to Paris where they robbed the American Express company, for which they were arrested. Guerin was sent to Devil's Island for life and Chicago May went to prison but again her beauty won, and she was pardoned long before the expiration of her sentence. She was loyal to Guerin and soon raised sufficient money to arrange his escape from Devil's Island. He turned to London and extradition was denied the French government.

Guerin later quarreled with Charles Smith over Chicago May and Smith shot Guerin in the foot.

In the meantime, Chicago May drifted about, sinking gradually down the ladder to degredation. Finally, she landed in Detroit. She has been arrested there a score of times she told the policewoman but before she always managed to conceal her identity.

'CHICAGO MAY,' WORLD CROOK, ILL, IS FOUND

Held as Street Walker in Detroit Hospital.

FREAKISH VOICE

Admits Identity and Discusses Old and Brighter Day.

CHICAGO.—Crime and beauty!

The career of this combination—a duet which in its heydey a quarter of a century ago ran riot through the courts and hearts of a half dozen nations—was recalled here today as police discussed the arrest in Detroit of the once famous "Chicago May" Churchill.

"Chicago May" has come down a peg or two since the wild daredevil days of her youth, when her dashing beauty and pretty smile thrilled the hearts of many a stalwart guardian of the law and brought her a personal pardon from President Montellier of France in 1904.

But today this once famous internationally crook lies in a Detroit hospital—held as a common streetwalker.

Freakish Voice.

Her identity was discovered because of a freakish remembrance of her voice by a Detroit policewoman. Recently while serving her sentence in the county jail at Detroit, May became ill and was transferred to the jail hospital for a major operation. The policewoman, questioning her, was haunted by something vaguely familiar about her voice. She searched her memory, harking back to almost forgotten days, and finally charged the patient with being "Chicago May." The woman first denied and then admitted her identity, apparently glad to at last to discuss the old brighter days with someone "who knew her when ——."

Newspaper clippings, already yellowing with age, show that the last printed record of May was when she dropped from sight in New York in 1919. At that time, she had once again talked herself out of imprisonment on a charge of attempted murder of the man she was living with. She had been pardoned two years before from an English prison where she had been sentenced to serve a 15 years sentence for her part in the attempt of "Dutch Gus" Miller to kill her sweetheart, Eddie Guerin, famous in his own right as a Chicago crook, and whose love for "Chicago May" was a thing respected throughout the underworld.

May was born in Dublin 50 years ago. She came to Chicago when aged 13 and soon after started on a career as a petty shoplifter. Discovering that her pretty face and quick, Irish wit often enabled her to circumvent the law when caught, she became bolder and soon became known as a daring fur thief.

Then she became attracted to Guerin and the two for years lived a hectic life of crime, always just beyond the outstretched fingers of the law. In 1900, the two went to Paris where they robbed the American Express company, for which they were arrested. Guerin was sent to Devil's Island for life and Chicago May went to prison but again her beauty won, and she was pardoned long before the expiration of her sentence. She was loyal to Guerin and soon raised sufficient money to arrange his escape from Devil's Island. He turned to London and extradition was denied the French government.

Guerin later quarreled with Charles Smith over Chicago May and Smith shot Guerin in the foot.

In the meantime, Chicago May drifted about, sinking gradually down the ladder to degredation. Finally, she landed in Detroit. She has been arrested there a score of times she told the policewoman but before she always managed to conceal her identity.

86 BOY SCOUTS GET AWARDS AT COUNTY CAMP

Every Lad Became Swimmer at Lake Placentia.

177 ENROLLED

Report of Four Outings Made by "Chief" Wilson.

A report in detail concerning the Columbiana Boy Scout camp, conducted along the banks of Lake Placentia, near North Georgetown, this county, from June 14 to August 9, was issued today by Harry Wilson, Scout executive.

A total of 177 boys attended the four camp periods. As a result of the activities, 86 service badges were awarded and every Scout was made a swimmer.

"This does not mean that every boy could swim 50 yards but it does mean that every boy gained the fundamentals of swimming and, by his own efforts, he will be able to make himself safe in water which has fast gained recognition as one of America's foremost sports," reads Wilson's report.

Executive's Report.

The report continues:

"Also another piece of work that we are very proud of is the fact that we were successful in passing three senior Red Cross life savers. They are K. E. Jones, Salem, deputy commissioner in that district; Orland Perry, Jr., assistant Scoutmaster, Troop 1, Leetonia; and Arzie Wolfe, assistant Scoutmaster Troop 1, East Liverpool.

"We have eight junior Red Cross life savers as follows: Donald Poole, Troop 6, East Liverpool; Kenneth Wagonhouser, Troop 1, Leetonia; Dominick Oliver, Troop 1, Leetonia; Earl Vanaman, Troop 1, Lisbon, Fred Dill, Troop 1, Columbiana; George Gandis, Troop 2, East Liverpool.

"Of the 177 who attended camp 12 attained the degree of Eagle scouts. This is the highest award as yet to be given to any scout and we are very proud of the boys who so successfully have gained the goal.

"They are: Donald T. Myler, East Liverpool, Troop 6; William Stevenson, East Liverpool, Troop 6; Kenneth Jones, deputy commissioner of Salem; Charles Lutten, assistant Scoutmaster troop 1, Lisbon; Hubert Clapp, Richard Liggans, Raymond Hartsaw, Fred Detwyler and Clyde Herald, Columbiana; Dale Riddle, Lisbon; Donald Poole, East Liverpool; Dominick Oliver, Leetonia.

"Salem furnished the largest number of boys for the Scout camp and probably made the most advancement of any district. The majority of the boys in that district are younger Scouts, and although no Eagle Scouts were from Salem, we feel quite positive that Salem and Wellsville will make their place among the Eagle Scouts in the coming winter.

"Judge Lodge Riddle, chairman of the court of honor and I. F. Mellinger, president of the council, met with the Scoutmasters in Lisbon on September 14 and made the final arrangements for the presentation of the Eagle badges to the boys who have earned them.

"There will be a central meeting at the court house in Lisbon on Oct. 12 at 7:30 o'clock. It was also agreed by the scoutmasters that a monthly scoutmasters' meeting will be held this winter in Lisbon, and John R. Fulton was chosen to act as moraie officer of the meetings.

"We are very proud of the progress made in the Wellsville district. The three new troops which have been established there together with old troop, No. 1, have made progress and the boys are now demanding more attention in their work.

"We are pleased to announce our first rural troop, being sponsored by the Yellow Creek grange, with Mr. McIntosh scoutmaster, and the troop committee headed by Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church.

High Exchange Rates Result in Drop of Japanese Imports

SAN FRANCISCO. — Higher exchange value of the yen and lower prices on raw cotton resulted in a drop in imports to Japan in August to the lowest level since September, 1924, according to a cable summary made public by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce here. Exports of raw silk from Japan showed a marked increase for August, but silk and cotton yarn exports declined.

The bureau's office in Manila reported the copra market steady with slightly higher prices.

HEART INTEREST THROBS IN NURSE'S MESSAGE OF MERCY

Valuable Knowledge Gained Through Attendance on Sick Leads Mrs. Sheriff to Speak.

Your great grandfathers — those hardly pioneers who settled their homesteads in the wilderness of the West — were much wiser in some respects than the people of today who now inhabit the same territory known as the Central States.

Did we say "hardy?" Yes, indeed for this advance guard of modern civilization scarcely knew the meaning of the common, everyday ills of the present age.

The lived close to Nature—and they partook of Nature's own remedies; their only physicians the roots, barks and herbs that grew on the mountains, in meadows and woods. From friendly tribesmen valuable secrets were learned regarding these natural medicines, and even today the North American Indians stand out as one of the most healthy races on earth, while his Caucasion brother is beset with "flu," grip, rheumatism, dyspepsia and other ills too numerous to mention.

The Indians have continued the use of their herb remedies while the white man has cast them aside for sugar coated pills and confections that please the taste—but still sickness comes.

"Back to Nature," is the theory upon which Redwood's Tepee Herb Tonic depends, and the success of this doctrine is attested by thousands of people whom this famous Indian treatment has relieved of broken health after everything else had failed.

"Everywhere the most prominent people are writing letters telling how they have been aided by Redwood's Tepee Tonic. The following from Mrs. George Sheriff is a typical example of them. Mrs. Sheriff is a practical nurse and has gained her knowledge of medicine in the school of experience. She says Redwood's Tepee Tonic is the best possible treatment for stomach, kidney and liver diseases.

Mrs. Sheriff resides at 25 Willow St., Mansfield, Ohio. She is a member of the Mooseheart Legion, first president of the Lady Owls and an active worker in the Royal Neighbors of America. Her personal experience with Redwood's Tepee Tonic is best related in her own words:

"I'm a practical nurse and the strain of being in a sick room for the greater part of my time during the past ten years simply wore out my nerves," she says.

Mrs. George Sheriff.

"I became so nervous that the least little sudden noise would startle me and then I would tremble for hours. My hands would shake and my knees would tremble until I could hardly walk without staggering. My blood became thin, I was undernourished and weak, and felt good for nothing. I couldn't sleep soundly and usually woke up in the morning with a headache.

"I ached continually. The muscles in my back were as sore as a boil. For six months I had been unable to work. I had tried everything but nothing helped me. Finally I tried Redwood's Tepee Tonic and it brought such relief that I'm publicly recommending it and I'm sending my picture so that my friends can see how well I look.

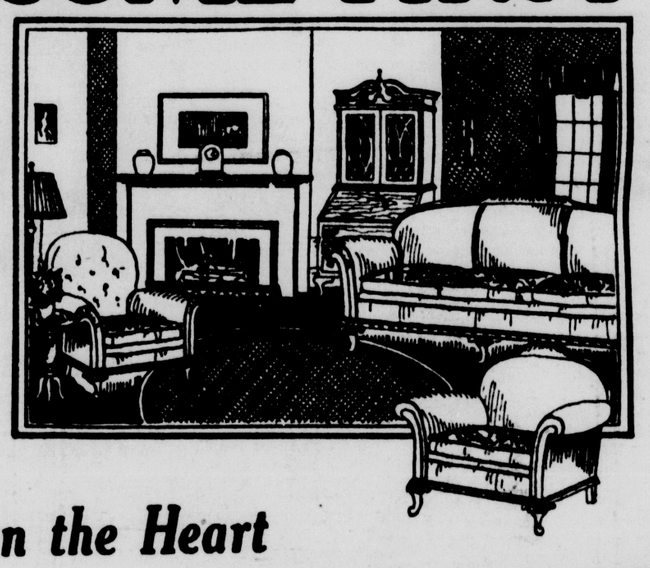
"My aches and pains are entirely gone. I've got a good color and I'm in perfect health. I've gained ten pounds, sleep soundly, have a good appetite and feel like I had an entirely new set of nerves."

Consider well what Mrs. Sheriff says. If you are likewise afflicted you may confidently expect Redwood's Tepee Tonic to do the same for you.

Tepee Tonic can be had in East Liverpool at Carnahan's Drug Stores.

Your Home SHOULD COME FIRST

TAKE a stroll some evening and see the series of softly glowing lamps which seem to fairly radiate happiness and contentment from out the homes as you pass by. Surely this is a real satisfaction. Many of those homes were made possible by the use of convenient terms—terms just as we offer them to you, and you will never miss the money at any time, for they are regulated to your salary.



Getting on in the World

Wives know that husbands can not put forth the efforts of which they are capable under ordinary circumstances — it takes an extraordinary wife to make a husband successful. Wives are directly the cause of success or failure on the part of their husbands. She must make a good job of her part—the home must show individuality or skill in handling the purse strings to the best advantage.

Little things that go to make the home still more beautiful must be added every so often. Men realize, perhaps better than women, that the "home should come first."

HEART INTEREST THROBS IN NURSE'S MESSAGE OF MERCY

Valuable Knowledge Gained Through Attendance on Sick Leads Mrs. Sheriff to Speak.

Mrs. George Sheriff.

Your great grandfathers — those hardy pioneers who settled their homesteads in the wilderness of the West — were much wiser in some respects than the people of today who now inhabit the same territory known as the Central States.

Did we say "hardy?" Yes, indeed for this advance guard of modern civilization scarcely knew the meaning of the common, everyday ills of the present age.

The lived close to Nature—and they partook of Nature's own remedies; their only physicians the roots, barks and herbs that grew on the mountains, in meadows and woods. From friendly tribesmen valuable secrets were learned regarding these natural medicines, and even today the North American Indians stand out as one of the most healthy races on earth, while his Caucasion brother is beset with "flu," grip, rheumatism, dyspepsia and other ills too numerous to mention.

The Indians have continued the use of their herb remedies while the white man has cast them aside for sugar coated pills and confections that please the taste—but still sickness comes.

"Back to Nature," is the theory upon which Redwood's Tepee Herb Tonic depends, and the success of this doctrine is attested by thousands of people whom this famous Indian treatment has relieved of broken health after everything else had failed.

"Everywhere the most prominent people are writing letters telling how they have been aided by Redwood's Tepee Tonic. The following from Mrs. George Sheriff is a typical example of them. Mrs. Sheriff is a practical nurse and has gained her knowledge of medicine in the school of experience. She says Redwood's Tepee Tonic is the best possible treatment for stomach, kidney and liver diseases.

Mrs. Sheriff resides at 25 Willow St., Mansfield, Ohio. She is a member of the Mooseheart Legion, first president of the Lady Owls and an active worker in the Royal Neighbors of America. Her personal experience with Redwood's Tepee Tonic is best related in her own words:

"I'm a practical nurse and the strain of being in a sick room for the greater part of my time during the past ten years simply wore out my nerves," she says.

"I became so nervous that the least little sudden noise would startle me and then I would tremble for hours. My hands would shake and my knees would tremble until I could hardly walk without staggering. My blood became thin, I was undernourished and weak, and felt good for nothing. I couldn't sleep soundly and usually woke up in the morning with a headache.

"I ached continually. The muscles in my back were as sore as a boil. For six months I had been unable to work. I had tried everything but nothing helped me. Finally I tried Redwood's Tepee Tonic and it brought such relief that I'm publicly recommending it and I'm sending my picture so that my friends can see how well-I look.

"My aches and pains are entirely gone. I've got a good color and I'm in perfect health. I've gained ten pounds, sleep soundly, have a good appetite and feel like I had an entirely new set of nerves."

Consider well what Mrs. Sheriff says. If you are likewise afflicted you may confidently expect Redwood's Tepee Tonic to do the same for you.

Tepee Tonic can be had in East Liverpool at Carnahan's Drug Stores.

GLITTER

"Was THAT the woman you were telling me about last fall, the one you said had a 'mouth like Cleopatra's kiss'?"

BOOK THREE—XIV.

Eunice was curled up in a great chair, reading . . . so absorbed in reading that she did not appear to have heard the clamor of the door bell nor the entrance of Jock. He stood surveying her from across the room. Her head, bent over the book, showed dark hair marcelled in perfect concentric circles from a tiny part, and wisps of it pasted like inverted question marks on her forehead. Her gown was black lace, so tight in the bodice that the filagree design gave an effect of having been stenciled on the skin. One leg was tucked up under her, and the other, a slyly overt leg in a sheer pinky-black chiffon stocking and a black satin slipper held across the instep with a bow of ribbon, hung toward the floor. "She got that pose," he thought dryly, "from one of the hosiery ads."

He said, "It must be a darn good book."

She glanced up quickly then, simulating astonishment. "Jock! I didn't heah you come in!"

"Didn't you?" politely. "I rang three times. But maybe the bell is broken or something." He took the book from her fingers and read the title, "In Defense of Women by H. L. Mencken. Say, how do you like this?"

"All right," replied Eunice. "It's—" she paused uncertainly, and Jock waited. He thought if she would make an intelligent comment on this book, or on any book or thing, he could forgive her much. But she finished lamely, and his flash of interest died. "It's peculiah," she said.

"Yah," he agreed vacantly. He put the book down and seizing a little chair thrust it between his knees, so that he sat eyeing Eunice above the back of it. "What's on your mind? What did you want to see me about?"

"Oh—lots of things," she evaded. "Let's not talk about that right off. Let's talk about you foah a while. Why haven't you been to see me foah almost two weeks, Jock?"

Her perennial query; but before he could give his perennial excuse of busyiness, she had veered to a new tack. "I saw you today."

"Is that a fact?"

"Didn't you see me?"

"Yes, I believe I did."

"Was that the woman you were tellin' me about last fall—the one you said had 'a mouth like Cleopatra's kiss?'"

Jock remembered having said this. But he wished very much that he had not. It sounded ridiculous, puerile, when Eunice quoted it. . . . He bowed stiffly in affirmation.

"But I thought you told me she was pretty?"

Well, my God, isn't she?"

Eunice hesitated, running the tip of her tongue over her lips. "If you want me to be perfectly frank, Jock," she said at last, "she looked a little bit passe to me. She must be yeahs and yeahs oldah than you, of cohse."

Jock started; then chuckled derisively. "In Defense of Women — no wonder it had to be written by a man! Honestly, Eunice, you burn me up! You wouldn't even give the devil his due if he happened to have a skirt on, would you?"

"Now, don't be horrid!" pouted Eunice. "You asked me foah an opinion and I gave it. She did look passe to me. I can't help it if I've got eyes, can I?"

"No, but you really ought to buy 'em some spectacles."

"Rose-colohed ones like yoahs, I suppose?"

Understanding perfectly the spirit that prompted these sallies, Jock was no whit affronted by them. "Say," he said, pleasantly enough, "did you invite me over this evening just to heve me listen while you hurl bouquets at another girl?"

"Anothah what? 'Girl' is a teens-and-twenties word, remembah!" So unforeseenly that it took him a moment to accustom himself to the transition, she became apologetic. "Oh, I'm sorry, Jock. Really. Don't pay any attention to me. I reckon I'm— prejudiced.

He rather liked her for that. It seemed to him one of the few genuine things he had ever heard Eunice say.

"Let's talk about somethin' else," she suggested.

He had difficulty in analyzing her subsequent remarks. She seemed to be determinedly and gradually leading up to something, but to what he could not surmise. He was aware of an increasing tension—both in himself, and in her. She talked much faster than usual, and inconsecutively, bridging wide gulfs between topics with a single word, or even not troubling to bridge them at all. And as she talked she looked into her lap, at her fidgeting fingers, out of the window . . . everywhere, in fact, but at him.

"What is this?" he thought uneasily. "What's it all about?"

". . . Brad was wild ovah you, Jock," she was saying. "I don't think you evah realized how deah you were to him. He'd have done anythin' foah you. Anythin' undah the sun. He often said so, and I knew it anyhow. Just the night befoah — befoah that night, we were talkin' about you, and he said that you were the best friend he evah had or evah would have—that he'd do anythin' foah you and he was suah you'd do the same foah him—"

"I sincerely hope I would have," Jock said.

Eunice threw him a brief glance, dropping her eyes again quickly. "He loved me so," she proceeded. "I've been thinkin' a lot about that since he's gone. He wouldn't let anythin' trouble me, evah, foah a minute. He just took all the cahes and responsibilities right off my shoulders. I nevah knew what it was to worry until lately . . ."

And on, and on, in this vein. About Brad, about herself, about Jock. Presently he could not listen with forbearance any longer. He cleared his throat. "Look here, Eunice! Quit beating about the bush, will you? Something's worrying you now, and you want me to help you—that's what you're trying to tell me, isn't it? Well, of course, I'll help you, and be glad to, if I can. So come on, out with it—what seems to be the matter?"

For reply she moved from her chair over to the lounge, where she sat patting the cushion beside her. "Come sit heah by me, Jock. I can talk to you bettah when you'ah not so fah away."

He complied indifferently, stretching his superb length in the corner that was farthest from her. He shoved his hands into his trousers pockets and rested his chin on his chest, and waited. His face where the lamplight kissed it obliquely looked stern and forbidding—a sure indication that he was puzzled and wary and not a little disturbed. Eunice, unwatched, watched him with telltale eyes. Once she made a tiny half-gesture toward him . . . then drew back in haste and locked her fingers together in her lap.

"Jock," she began, "did you know theah's a lot of scandal around about—us?"

"Yes. Asinine, isn't it?" said Jock. Impelled by a second thought, he brought his chin up with a jerk and examined her. "Is that what's got you so sunk?"

the railroads, but that has no bearing on what the public pays for the conveniences it demands. Also, it is to be understood that the figures quoted have nothing to do with the sums that are paid by the public for the merely privilege of riding on a train. They cover only what the public spends when it insists upon riding in the big cars, usually at the rear end of the train, that have comfortable chairs or seats by day and more or less downy couches by night, with the omnipresent "George" and his broom.

But when the number of Pullman passengers is considered in relation to the aggregate amount of money expended annually for the privilege of riding in the big cars, it does not appear that traveling de luxe is so much of an extravagance, for the annual outlay per individual amount to little more than $3.50. There are some twenty million automobile owners in the United States, every one of whom is spending for gasoline, oil, other operating costs, and depreciation more than that amount, not annually, but every week, or 52 times annually.

Of the net income of the Pullman Company for the year, which ran to a bit over ten billions, it is computed that each revenue passenger carried contributed only 29 cents. The net earnings represented, so the stockholders are told, only 7 cents for each revenue passenger carried 109 miles, or seven one-hundredths of a cent per passenger mile, and only $3.28 per day for each car owned by the company.

This, it is said, amounts to a return of not more than 5 per cent on a fair value of the properties used in the business.

In checking this statement it is found, from the report, that the company owns 8739 cars and equipment which cost $196,841,691.28, or approximately $22,500 per car. With an annual revenue per car per year of slightly less than $1200, the 5 per cent earning is approximated, but it has been many years since Pullman stockholders received or would be satisfied with a dividend at that rate.

Owns Subordinate Company.

The Pullman Company owns all the stock, except the shares necessary for directors to qualify, of the Pullman Car & Manufacturing Corporation, which is an exceedingly active and profitable subsidiary to control. During the year the parent company received in dividends almost $3,000,000 from its offspring, and on July 31 last this precocious child had in its treasury more than $22,000,000 in cash, government bonds, and other securities. Also it is to be noted that the Pullman Company has a net surplus in its treasury of more than $33,000,000, the net surplus for the year being in excess of $3,500,000.

One of the surprising features of the report is to find in the statement of liabilities more than $88,000,000 for "depreciation of cars, etc.," while in the income account for the year in question more than $9,000,00 is charged off to depreciation and the statement is made that the company uses an annual depreciation rate of 5 per cent of the cost of the cars to provide for the retirement of equipment.

But while even those who ride in Pullmans may not be able to interpret or understand the figures in a financial report, everybody, especially housewives, will comprehend what is meant by the statement that the company had to purchase more than 4,000,000 pieces of linen last year, including 1,876,6818 hand towels, 875,248 sheets, and 976,8824 pillow slips. Likewise everybody will get the statement that although it has been extending and increasing the number of its own laundries, its laundry bill for the year was $3,314,701.13. Materials used in car cleaning cost $258,734.

Because of the increase in the number of cars operated the company has found it necessary to build a new repair and maintenance shop at Atlanta, Ga., and to enlarge its shops at Chicago.

During the year the company distributed $205,368.10 in pensions to old employees, and also paid out $212,236.14 to the widows and dependents of deceased employees. The pension and death benefit plans, it is stated, do not require any contribution on the part of the worker.

The directors say that their method of dealing with the employees has been amplified and continues to function to the satisfaction of both factors in the industrial equation. During the year, it is announced, the Pullman porters and maids negotiated a new wage agreement that meant an advance to them of $1,000,000 per annum.

The report is closed with an expression of regret at the death of Robert Todd Lincoln, son of President Lincoln, who was a director or officer of the company for almost thirty years.

"DIPLOMACY" IS SCREEN HIT

Marshall Neilan's production, "Diplomacy," which opened a three-day run at the Ceramic last theatre last night presents one of the most interesting pictures ever viewed on a local screen.

The story is exciting and well told. It holds one's interest and, beside the beautiful romance that runs from start to finish, there's a mystery theme that's more intriguing than any heretofore filmed.

Rarely has a picture seen so endowed with familiar names. From the leading woman, Blanche Sweet, through the entire cast, one finds prominent players.

The story takes place in Deauville, France, in the present year. A conference of World Powers is being held with England, Russia, France, China and America prominently represented. The heroine, an English girl, "Dora" is in love and loved by "Julian Weymouth," handsome young attache of the British Embassy. "Dora is accused of selling secret information which she had obtained through her lover. The Casino, an exact replica of the famous one in Deauville, is without doubt one of the most impressive sets ever seen on the screen. The sidewalk cafe represents another set that calls for particular mention.

Blanche Sweet has never been so lovely. Her acting is suberb and she photographs like a girl of sixteen. Hers is the most important role in the picture and she carries off highest honors.

Neil Hamilton plays "Julian Weymouth," the dashingly romantic hero. He has a striking screen personality, one women fans are going to enthuse about.

Matt Moore, the omnipresent American, has most of the comedy scenes. To betray anything of his characterization here would spoil the surprise for those who see this Paramount feature.

"DIPLOMACY" IS SCREEN HIT

Marshall Neilan's production, "Diplomacy," which opened a three-day run at the Ceramic last theatre last night presents one of the most interesting pictures ever viewed on a local screen.

The story is exciting and well told. It holds one's interest and, beside the beautiful romance that runs from start to finish, there's a mystery theme that's more intriguing than any heretofore filmed.

Rarely has a picture seen so endowed with familiar names. From the leading woman, Blanche Sweet, through the entire cast, one finds prominent players.

The story takes place in Deauville, France, in the present year. A conference of World Powers is being held with England, Russia, France, China and America prominently represented. The heroine, an English girl, "Dora" is in love and loved by "Julian Weymouth," handsome young attache of the British Embassy. "Dora is accused of selling secret information which she had obtained through her lover. The Casino, an exact replica of the famous one in Deauville, is without doubt one of the most impressive sets ever seen on the screen. The sidewalk cafe represents another set that calls for particular mention.

Blanche Sweet has never been so lovely. Her acting is suberb and she photographs like a girl of sixteen. Hers is the most important role in the picture and she carries off highest honors.

Neil Hamilton plays "Julian Weymouth," the dashingly romantic hero. He has a striking screen personality, one women fans are going to enthuse about.

Matt Moore, the omnipresent American, has most of the comedy scenes. To betray anything of his characterization here would spoil the surprise for those who see this Paramount feature.

New Nerves For Old In 7 Nights

Delicious new food drink builds nerve tissue and energy — without drugs

ARE YOU GLOOMY, irritable, unnaturally fatigued? Do you get excited easily? Do you lose your temper quickly? Do you fret and worry unnecessarily? Do you suffer from stomach troubles — dizziness — heart palpitation?

These symptoms of frayed, unhealthy nerves can easily be eliminated. For European scientists have found a delectable new food drink that quickly soothes the nerves, peps you up and restores your energy and vitality. It actually rejuvenates.

This new kind of drink is absolutely free from drugs and contains the vital nerve building elements usually lacking in ordinary foods. It produces nearly five times more brain and nerve energy — and possesses three times more body building nutriment than eggs, milk or beef. Not only is it quickly digested itself—but it actually helps to digest much of the other foods in your stomach.

This quick assimilation of nourishment relieves your stomach of a great deal of work. This brings one the deep, relaxing unbroken sleep that restores vitality to your tired body. And while you sleep, your nerves are completely soothed in a natural healthful way and your digestion is toned up wonderfully. Morning finds you fresh, clear-eyed and full of fighting energy and vigor.

Known in America as Kalmo, this delicious food drink comes in 80c packages—enough for 50 nerve-tingling energizing cupfuls. Drink it tonight.

Healing, Soothing Unguent Ends Burning Pains or No Cost

No longer need you suffer from sore, burning swollen, aching, tired feet, callouses or corns, bunions or blisters, for foot specialists have perfected a marvelous soothing unguent which makes foot troubles a thing of the past.

When the day's work is done

"YES, sir, I actually feel fine when the day's work is done. It's a fact! I am just full of 'pep' until it's time to go to bed.

"I may be getting along in years, but, believe me, I am young in red blood! That's the whole secret of vitality, too-rich, red blood. I know—because I used to be completely worn-out about 5 P. M. Began to think I was slipping.

"But do you know I found out the whole trouble with me was my blood. It needed building up. That was why I tired out so easily.

"So I went right to work building up red blood in my system with S. S. S. It built it up in a hurry, too. S. S. S. helps Nature build red-blood-cells so fast that I could feel my strength come back and the years just seemed to roll off of me.

"Whenever I see anybody now who seems worn-out by work, I tell them about S. S. S. It will surely put you back where you can enjoy life. S. S. S. makes you look better, too. Clears up your skin—increases your appetite — puts firm, solid flesh on you—and drives rheumatism right out of your body.

MUSIC OF FOX HUNT IS HEARD IN ALABAMA

Five Hundred Hounds Participate in Field Trials.

PRIZES OFFERED

Noted Sportsmen of State are Sponsoring Event.

GADSDEN, Ala.—The music of the fox-hunt once more sounded through the hills and valleys of north Alabama when five hundred hounds participated in the field trials held by the Etowah Fox Hunters' Association here.

The Association, which was formed this year, numbers among its members some of the noted hunters and sportsmen of the state. Plans have already been made to make the event an annual affair and a elaborate program was announced for the next trials at the end of the three day meeting that has just been brought to an end.

The event is sponsored by the people of the community who have contributed the liberal prizes offered in both the field and bench events. The big hunt was brought to the little town nestled in the foothills of the Smoky Mountains some of the most famous hounds in the south.

Big Dog Parade.

The first day of the three-day session was given over to registration of the entries following which a big parade of all the dogs was staged in the streets of the town.

On the morning of the second day of the meet the first hunt was called. Long before the sun had topped the surrounding mountains the trials were lined with people from all walks of life who had gathered to hear the music of the chase. They came in autos and on foot and it is estimated that fully five hundred people were present. The dogs were unleased at five o'clock and in fifteen minutes they had Reynard on the go. For two hours the hills resounded to the music of the dogs and the listeners were held enraptured. The dogs were called off before the fox was caught.

On the second morning of the chase an even larger crowd was present. The dogs were unleased and soon had another fox going. The chase lasted until well up into the morning and the fox was chased into an adjoining county.

Prizes Awarded.

The next day was given to the awarding of prizes in both the field and bench events. Three prizes were awarded in the field events being based on speed, driving ability and endurance.

In the bench trials breeding and appearance was taken into consideration by the judges.

The preserve where the races were held is well stocked with fox. It is located on Rainbow mountain just south of Gadsden. The grounds commence at the country club and continuing for a distance of about ten miles along Rainbow Drive make one of the most ideal preserves to be found in the state. It is stocked with the famous red fox that are noted for their ability to give the hounds a merry chase and recent events were no exception.

Four chorus girls were arrested in New York city for being only scantily attired. New York simply will not stand for even scanty attire on its chorus girls.—Marion Star.

Smyrna, Turkey, is trying to induce home owners to install electric lights.

Unemployed receiving government aid in Austria total nearly 140,000.

You can't argue with a man who won't argue back, or with a woman who does.—Mansfield, O., Journal.

WOMEN GAIN IN MAINE POLITICS AS SIX WIN SEATS IN STATE LEGISLATURE

PORTLAND, Me.—Women are fast gaining recognition in Maine politics. The recent elections determined that six women will sit in the legislature when the new sessions convene. The feminine representation elected by the Maine voters includes two members in senate and four in the house. Mrs. Mabel P. Cheney, Democrat, residing in Lisbon, will be the first woman to represent this party in the house. The other five legislators-elect are Republicans.

Alas! Screening a picture doesn't take the trash out.—Youngstown Vindicator.

Widow Cries for Joy

"I couldn't eat anything but raw eggs and sweet milk and was so weak I could hardly walk across the room. I would have been in my grave today if I hadn't taken MAYR'S when I did. When I think how I have suffered with my stomach and how good I feel now I cry for joy." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and Druggists Everywhere.

NEILAN FILM AT CERAMIC

Blanche Sweet Stars in Paramount Hit, "Diplomacy."

Deauville, France.—which has become famous within the past decade for its beauty and fascinating spirit; surmounted by the fact that its gambling tables are more celebrated than those of Monte Carlo, and its sparkling women, considered the best dressed in the world,—is prominently pictured in Marshall Neilan's production, "Diplomacy," which opened a three-day engagement at the Ceramic theatre today.

The spirit of realness was injected into this Paramount picture by sets that were directly copied from the originals.

A Casino of tremendous magnitude, a replica of the one which has made Deauville a resort of international renown, is pictured.

There are only three women principals in the picture. The trio wear exquisite clothes of the type that would actually be seen in Deauville's villas, cafes and promenades.

Blanche Sweet has six changes of wardrobe, with costumes ranging from elaborate evening dress to simple sport modes. She plays "Dora," an English girl of high social position living with her mother in the smart French community.

Arlette Marchal is "Zicka," the gorgeously gowned adventuress. She wears four different costumes, each exactly adapted to her personality.

Julia Swayne Gordon, as the Marquise, mother of the heroine, wears gowns befitting the station of a dowager of culture and refinement.

Neil Hamilton, Earle Williams, Gustav von Seyffertitz, David Mir, Matt Moore, and others are in the cast.

Feminine Bandit Gets Life Term

Florence Boone.

For the first time Kansas City, Kans., has found a woman guilty of first degree murder. Her penalty is to be life imprisonment. She is Florence Boone, the young and very feminine member of a bandit gang which shot and killed a policeman in a recently attempted robbery. Miss Boone's sentence is shared by another of the gang.

In Memoriam.

In memory of John Jones, Jr., who died two years ago today, Oct. 8, 1924:

A light from the home has vanished
A boy's voice is stilled
A mother's arms are empty
And our hearts with grief is filled.

For a boy we loved so dearly
Little Buster young and fair
Was by Angels wafted softly
To that bright home over there.

Yes our lives are lonely
And our hearts filled with pain
But through God's bright promise given
We can meet our darling again.

Jesus loved the little darling
Longed to have him in his home
Where no sin path ever becops
Little Buster's feet to roam.

Sorrowing parents cease thy mourning
He is safe within God'e care
And when life on earth is ended.
We can meet our darling there.

Why Pay Toll every 500 Miles?

Everybody knows a car must be supplied with oil.

And no one minds buying all that's necessary.

But when you can buy an oil that will carry your car in safety for a thousand miles for the same price as an oil that will only provide 500 miles of safe lubrication, why pay the toll?

Get the Sterling habit—give the toll keeper the gate—put back into your pocket half the money you usually spend for oil.

For Sterling Oil is no higher in price than ordinary oil—but it wears twice as long.

Stop and get our little booklet "Smashing the 500 Mile Barrier"—it's free.

Widow Cries for Joy

"I couldn't eat anything but raw eggs and sweet milk and was so weak I could hardly walk across the room. I would have been in my grave today if I hadn't taken MAYR'S when I did. When I think how I have suffered with my stomach and how good I feel now I cry for joy." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and Druggists Everywhere.

NEILAN FILM AT CERAMIC

Blanche Sweet Stars in Paramount Hit, "Diplomacy."

Deauville, France,—which has become famous within the past decade for its beauty and fascinating spirit; surmounted by the fact that its gambling tables are more celebrated than those of Monte Carlo, and its sparkling women, considered the best dressed in the world,—is prominently pictured in Marshall Neilan's production, "Diplomacy," which opened a three-day engagement at the Ceramic theatre today.

The spirit of realness was injected into this Paramount picture by sets that were directly copied from the originals.

A Casino of tremendous magnitude, a replica of the one which has made Deauville a resort of international renown, is pictured.

There are only three women principals in the picture. The trio wear exquisite clothes of the type that would actually be seen in Deauville's villas, cafes and promenades.

Blanche Sweet has six changes of wardrobe, with costumes ranging from elaborate evening dress to simple sport modes. She plays "Dora," an English girl of high social position living with her mother in the smart French community.

Arlette Marchal is "Zicka," the gorgeously gowned adventuress. She wears four different costumes, each exactly adapted to her personality.

Julia Swayne Gordon, as the Marquise, mother of the heroine, wears gowns befitting the station of a dowager of culture and refinement.

Neil Hamilton, Earle Williams, Gustav von Seyffertitz, David Mir, Matt Moore, and others are in the cast.

Florence Boone.

For the first time Kansas City, Kans., has found a woman guilty of first degree murder. Her penalty is to be life imprisonment. She is Florence Boone, the young and very feminine member of a bandit gang which shot and killed a policeman in a recently attempted robbery. Miss Boone's sentence is shared by another of the gang.

In Memoriam.

In memory of John Jones, Jr., who died two years ago today, Oct. 8, 1924:

A light from the home has vanished
A boy's voice is stilled
A mother's arms are empty
And our hearts with grief is filled.

For a boy we loved so dearly
Little Buster young and fair
Was by Angels wafted softly
To that bright home over there.

Yes our lives are lonely
And our hearts filled with pain
But through God's bright promise given
We can meet our darling again.

Jesus loved the little darling
Longed to have him in his home
Where no sin path ever becops
Little Buster's feet to roam.

Sorrowing parents cease thy mourning
He is safe within God'e care
And when life on earth is ended.
We can meet our darling there.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN JONES
AND FAMILY.

NOTHING LIKE PLANT JUICE TO BUILD YOU UP

That's What John Martindale, Toledo Glass Polisher, Wants Everybody to Know — Tells His Experience.

John Martindale

"There's nothing like Plant Juice to build you up and put you in good working trim," said John Martindale, of 1534 Kedron St., well known Toledo glass polisher.

"I tried many different remedies with practically no result till I got hold of Plant Juice, and then I began to 'pick right up.' I just 'stuck' right with the medicine and kept improving and now I'm in fine condition. Why, I can eat the heartiest kind of a meal, and the constipation is all gone and all that sluggish, tired feeling has disappeared. I'm just brimful of new life and energy and can go about my day's work feeling fresh and fit, and I'll tell the world Plant Juice is what fixed me up."

Plant Juice is sold in East Liverpool by Mathews' Original Cut Rate, 129 W. Sixth street, and by all leading druggists everywhere.

AMERICAN FILM IS DRAMATIC

"Gilded Highway" is Decidedly Entertaining Photoplay.

There is a decidedly entertaining and dramatic photoplay at the American theatre, where "The Gilded Highway," a J. Stuart Blackton production for Warner Bros., opened yesterday. Aside from its strong story, which was adapted by Marian Constance from "A Little More," the W. B. Maxwell novel, this picture has an extraordinary collection of stars in its cast.

Dorothy Devore and John Harron play the leading roles, a sister and brother to whom wealth suggests unlimited possibilities to make themselves ridiculous and to show the pettiness of their natures. Sheldon Lewis plays the rich and eccentric old uncle whose legacy starts all the trouble, Macklyn Arbuckle the father, and Florence Turner returns with all her old-time charm to appear as the mother of the family. The remainder of the cast, giving equally fine performances, includes Myrna Loy as a beautiful and snobbish girl, Gardner James as the staunch friend and lover, Andree as the wistful sweetheart of the brother, and amusing Mathilde Comont as the faithful servant.

If you enjoy a simple story about genuine people confronted by everyday problems, vividly told, then you should not neglect seeing "The Gilded Highway."

PINCHOT NAME ON BALLOT IN PENNSYLVANIA

Nominated for U. S. Senator by Labor Party.

STAND PUZZLE

Unknown Quantity After Defeat in G. O. P. Primaries.

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Gifford Pinchot, who, as governor of Pennsylvania, has been noted for the emphatic manner in which he has made known his stand on most public questions, remains an unknown quantity in the coming election.

Although he ran a poor third in the May primaries in which William S. Vare, of Philadelphia, was given the Republican nomination to the United States senate, Pinchot, by virtue of 521 votes, received the senatorial nomination on the Labor ticket and therefore is entitled to a place on the November ballot.

The Labor party in the recent primary was only a gesture of a few disgruntled men, lacking entirely the leadership which at one time made the party a force to be reckoned with.

Nevertheless, that nomination for Governor Pinchot is a peg on which many predictions can be hung, and the governor has repeatedly refused to say what his intentions are regarding it.

Much Uneasiness.

The state election laws require that a candidate who does not want his name to appear on the ballot must file notice of his intentions on or before September 13 previous to the election. Not until then is any public pronouncement looked for from Pinchot, and, meanwhile, there is a great deal of uneasiness in the ranks of both the Republican and Democratic parties as to what may be his course.

Regardless of the huge vote which Vare, in the face of two opponents—Pinchot and Senator George Wharton Pepper—piled up at the primary it was generally expected that Pinchot will be an independent candidate, basing his campaign on the dry issue and his gubernatorial record. The course, it was believed, would enable him to get the support of many Pepper supporters and give him a fighting chance against the Philadelphia leader.

Recently, however, even the governor's closest political friends have declared there is little chance of him being a candidate, but admit that they are uncertain just what he will do.

Enjoying Situation.

The governor, never having been known to give "aid and comfort to the enemy," apparently is enjoying the uncertainty with which his probable course is viewed.

It is generally conceded that Pinchot will do nothing whatever to aid Vare's candidacy, but what he may do to hurt it is the big problem confronting the old line Republican leaders.

Democratic newspapers and leaders have been hopeful of getting Pinchot into the race in support of William B. Wilson, the Democratic nominee. Because the governor has announced his intention to remain in public life in some capacity after his governorship ends next January, it is not expected that he will desert the Republican banner under which he won his nomination and election four years ago.

One of Pinchot's favorite phrases in politics is "not merely there, but fighting." Just where "there" will be and for whom he will be "fighting" constitute an enigma which even September 13 may not definitely solve.

If Tired, Worn-Out, Weak and Run-Down Regain Vigor Thru Gland Treatment

GLAND secretions are called hormones — mysterious messengers which science has discovered exert a remarkable influence on health, strength and vitality.

When the glands function normally, they supply these vitalizing hormones (or secretions) which are essential to physical well-being. And when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Now, glandular treatment, which is indorsed by eminent scientists and physicians of this country and Europe, is being used by thousands of men and women to help overcome a weakened, worn-out, run-down, exhausted condition and to regain the strength, vigor and vitality that are the natural benefits resulting from a normal glandular system.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, for both men and women. Accept no substitutes, insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic.

One of Pinchot's favorite phrases in politics is "not merely there, but fighting." Just where "there" will be and for whom he will be "fighting" constitute an enigma which even September 13 may not definitely solve.

Old Russ Monastery Will Be Turned Into Government Library

MOSCOW.—One of the oldest monuments of monastic architecture in Moscow, the Strastnoy Monastery, situated on Strastnoy Place, in the heart of the city, is scheduled to go to the customary revolutionary way and become a government office building. The Main Science Board of the government has demanded that the monastery be turned over to it to be used by its administative staff, and as a distribution center for books published by the Board. The Monastery has not been occupied by monks since the decree prohibiting monasticism, but until now it has been preserved with all its 17th century artistic treasures.

If Tired, Worn-Out, Weak and Run-Down Regain Vigor Thru Gland Treatment

GLAND secretions are called hormones — mysterious messengers which science has discovered exert a remarkable influence on health, strength and vitality.

When the glands function normally, they supply these vitalizing hormones (or secretions) which are essential to physical well-being. And when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Now, glandular treatment, which is indorsed by eminent scientists and physicians of this country and Europe, is being used by thousands of men and women to help overcome a weakened, worn-out, run-down, exhausted condition and to regain the strength, vigor and vitality that are the natural benefits resulting from a normal glandular system.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, for both men and women. Accept no substitutes, insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic.

DANCERS SCORE AT CERAMIC

Karminos Seven Top Vaudeville and Motion Picture Bill.

The Karminos Dancers—five girls and two men—offering a top-notch vaudeville act, head the three-day bill which opened at the Ceramic theatre last night.

Appearing as features on a program that includes the screen hit, "Diplomacy;" Harold Lloyd in "Jolly Tars" and an International news-reel, pictures of the Florida hurricane and Dempsey-Tunney fight preliminaries, the dancers added spice to the entertainment.

In the feature, the pretty girls with whirlwind speed ran through an arrangement of numbers from folk dances to Russian steps, every one of which was executed with grace and precision. They received admirable support from the male members of the company, and the singing of the director had but one fault—the audience could have enjoyed much more of it. Possessing a robust and harmonious voice, his solos brought him a strong demonstration of appreciation on the part of his hearers.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Driving Out Labor.
Here's Real News—2 to 2.
Britain Doomed? Why?
Ford's Plan for Boys.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

MR. GREEN, able, conservative and respected head of the American Federation of Labor, was invited to speak before the Young Men's Christian association in Detroit, then told that his speech could not be delivered in that institution. Labor leaders were asked to speak from various Detroit pulpits, then told the churches did not want them.

THERE may be good reasons for these changes. But Christ, who drove the money changers from the temple, might be surprised to see His modern representatives driving laboring men from the pulpits.

It looks, according to the union man, as though money changers were "on top" once more.

MR. BORAH is as dry as the spot in Sahara farthest from any oasis. But he will help to re-elect Senator Wadsworth of New York, who believes that prohibition has no place in the Constitution, as the fathers planned it.

Senator Borah thinks it more important to keep the senate Republican and himself regular than to rebuke wetness.

THE Bishop of London, who has been inspecting Chicago, and Lady Astor, who has just sailed away from us, criticize Dean Inge, because he says the British empire has seen its best days. But the bishop and the lady may be wrong, although we all hope they are right. Britain's power has been that of an "island nation," the power of isolation. She had her protecting channel, walls of oak then of steel, in her ships.

But ships count no longer, except to protect merchantmen, and amount to little even in that work.

THERE are no more islands, for the real fighting ocean is the air, and soon it will be the traveling ocean.

One thousand airplanes, sailing from Geneva or Moscow, could wipe out London in a morning, and all the British superdreadoughts in such a fight would be as useless as so many painted ships on a painted ocean.

HENRY FORD says modern industry and employers fail in their duty to growing boys, not supplying enough jobs.

"It is easier for a girl to get a respectable job than it is for a boy to get one," says he.

WITH Ford, ideas and action go together. He orders his managers to employ, as quickly as possible, 5,000 boys between the ages of 16 and 20, put them at "man's work" and especially at work that will give them a chance to develop judgment.

BODY OF RIVER VICTIM FOUND NEAR DAM 10

Arthur Forrest, 60, New Cumberland, Fell From Skiff.

INQUEST IS HELD

Floater Was Discovered by Steubenville City Employe.

Body of Arthur Forrest, 60, clerk at Dam No. 9, near New Cumberland, who was drowned when jolted from a skiff while raising the bear traps in the dam early last Sunday morning, was taken from the river about a half mile above Dam No. 10, Steubenville, at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

The body, caught in drift wood, was discovered by Howard Fray, a Steubenville city employe, who lives along the river front. It was floating face upwards about 20 feet from the water's edge.

Fray notified employes at the dam. Three men, in a row boat, towed the body to shore.

Coroner A. L. Bell of Steubenville, after an inquest, returned a "death by drowning" verdict. The body was taken to the Bradley morgue in New Cumberland.

Forrest, who was working the "off day" of a fellow employe when he was drowned, is survived by his wife and one son, Edwin Forrest, at home.

Chicago Policemen Shake in Shoes as U. S. Jury is Called

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Another wholesale batch of indictments similar to the 79 handed down against Cicero gangsters and public officials a week ago, hovered over the Chicago city police department today as federal authorities launched their probe into the department's alleged bootlegging activities.

Between 50 and 100 policemen, detectives and politicians will be hit by the federal grand jury probe scheduled to start Wednesday, government officials predicted today.

CARDS TRAVEL ON PENNSY ROAD

Attendance at Tomorrow's Game at Ruth and Company Stadium Expected to be Near Record Mark.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A boisterous welcome awaits the return of the Yankees early tonight.

Victorious in two straight battles over the St. Louis Cardinals and bearing a one-game lead in the most hectic world series baseball has ever known, the New York American leaguers are now speeding homeward by special train. They are due to arrive at Grand Central terminal at 6 o'clock. And there will be thousands of local fans on hand to greet them with as riotous enthusiasm as the old town can muster.

St. Louis Rooters on Job.

The Cardinals are also due to arrive about the same time, but the train carrying the St. Louis players is routed over the Pennsylvania, and at that station also there is to be a vast throng of the Mound City rooters on hand to greet their favorites.

Interest in the series has not subsided a bit in New York and the attendance at tomorrow's game at Yankee Stadium is expected to be as large as at the opening game last Saturday, if it does not tie the record-breaking mark of last Sunday.

Hotels here report that the demand for rooms is as heavy as it was a week ago.

ON BOARD THE CARDINAL SPECIAL, ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Cardinals may be licked, but they haven't found it out yet.

Say this much for the "Show Me" boys, they are going to have to be shown. Their red-billed caps are still in the ring. While most people seem to think that another baseball hope was buried out there in the Mound City yesterday afternoon, that doesn't make it so.

Alexander, the Great, stands between the Yankees and the realization of their dream of conquest, and he may prove more than a bum in the

G. O. P. WILL OPEN COUNTY DRIVE WITH TWO-DAY SPEAKING TOUR

Mrs. Gertrude Day Dow of Cleveland Here Next Week.

FOUR MEETINGS

Rally Will be Held in City at 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Gertrude Day Dow, of Cleveland, for several years active in Republican party campaigns, will make four addresses in Columbiana county next week, Elmer E. Walker, chairman of the county central committee was advised today by Mrs. Harriet Upton, of Warren, in charge of the women's division at state headquarters.

This decision was reached at a conference of Republican women at Columbus, at which Columbiana county was represented by Miss Jo Pike of Lisbon, county treasurer.

All rallies will be open to both men and women.

Schedule of Rallies.

The first meeting that will be addressed by Mrs. Dow will be held at Salem at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Arrangements for this rally are in charge of Mrs. J. D. Deweese, who is chairman of the women's group at Salem.

At 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, Mrs. Dow will speak at Lisbon. Arrangements for this event are being made by Mrs. Jennie McMillan.

A rally will be held at East Liverpool at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, and arrangements for this meeting are being made by Mrs. Ila Marshall Cronin and her associates.

At Wellsville, a meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. The arrangements are in charge of Miss Caroline Bowers of Wellsville and Mrs. Rose Hill of Yellow Creek township.

Plan Intensive Campaign.

"Republican women of this county have clearly indicated that they propose to inaugurate an intensive campaign," Chairman Walker said. "At the Columbus women's meeting it was decided to have a member of the state women's organization visit every town in Ohio with a population of 3,000 or more, and Columbiana county is one of the first in which an intensified campaign will be opened. At each of these meetings, both men as well as women are urged to hear Mrs. Dow. On account of the large number of women workers now enrolled in the work, every part of the state will be visited by the campaigners. During the visit of Mrs. Dow in this county, she will confer with all women workers concerning Republican campaign work now being planned by the different groups of women workers and committees."

Tri-partite campaign for the proposed $225,000 bond issue for the purchase of a site and erection of a new city hall, to be submitted at the Nov. 2, election, was launched last night at a meeting of council in the municipal court building.

President N. P. Kerr named a committee composed of Solons Farrall, Hughes and Poole to act in conjunction with committees to be appointed by Trades and Labor council and the Chamber of Commerce. Members of the three organizations will speak at labor, lodge and other civic meetings, urging support of the proposal.

The issue will be explained at a meeting of kilumen tonight, while Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore and City Auditor W. M. McGraw and others will speak at the West Side civic league session Monday evening.

Assignment of speakers for other meetings will be made next week.

Ordinances Approved.

Plans for the bond issue campaign were outlined after council had passed an ordinance authorizing the mayor and auditor to borrow $60,995.32 in anticipation of assessments to be collected for the improvement of St. Clair avenue, East and West Fourth street, Avondale street and Sutton alley and the construction of sanitary sewers in Edgeworth avenue, Hazel

Solon Heddleston, Absent, is Cause Of Council Debate

Councilman Thomas Farrall tossed a bombshell into council meeting last night, when he opposed a motion to excuse Solon Edgar Heddleston, of the Second ward, who is working in Niles. The motion offered by Charles Hayes failed for want of a second.

Farrall declared that he had been informed that Heddleston intended to continue his employment at Niles and for that reason would be unable to attend council sessions. He declared that Heddleston should resign.

Hayes and Hughes voiced similar opinions, but declared that Heddleston should be excused in the interim.

Heddleston went to Niles about four weeks ago.

WINDOW CLEANERS BATTLE POLICE

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Striking window cleaners and police fought a pitched battle in the shadow of borough hall, Brooklyn, during the rush hour today, in view of hundreds of persons. One man was stabbed and hurled through a plate glass window. Four men, claiming to be strikers, were arrested only after police threatened them with revolvers.

U. J. Schwartz, president of the Home Window Cleaning company, was stabbed by one of 12 men who attacked him while he was guarding Edward Benson, an employe, who was cleaning store windows. Schwartz's injuries were not serious.

OHIO GIRL, 12, AND HUSBAND, 63, ARRESTED ON HONEYMOON

Nabbed in Boston After Journey From Youngstown.

MISSING MONTH

Bride Confesses; Man Says He Treated Her as Daughter.

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—An unusual July and December romance was brought to light when pretty Luey Paule, 12, and Thomas Bosich, 63, both missing for a month from Youngstown, Ohio, were arrested here today.

By day, the child was a pupil at Mt. Bowdoin Grammar school, West End, but at night, she confessed, according to police, she lived as the man's wife.

Found at Hotel.

Bosich, however, declared to police that he loved the child only as a daughter and had treated her as such.

The July and December couple were arrested at the Montreal House, west end, where they occupied a room together.

Chief of Police Cunningham, of Youngstown, had wired the police here that the couple were living together in Boston. There police officers were sent out to find them.

A letter that the girl had written to her mother, led police to the Montreal House.

Bosich and the child were asleep when officers entered their room. They were ordered to dress and were taken to a police station.

At first, the girl claimed that Bosich was her father. Bosich held to the same claim. Finally, under severe grilling, the child confessed.

Police learned that Bosich had entered the child as a student in the grammar school under his own name and as his own child.

Five new members were enrolled yesterday. Because of the absence of electricity with which to operate a stereopticon machine, the afternoon session of the society was transferred to the Y. M. C. A. The speakers were Dr. T. W. Maves, Minneapolis, and Dr. Herbert Hood, Cleveland.

Royal Arch Masons Honor Henry Gruen At Toledo Meeting

THIRD ROUND IN WELLSVILLE'S FIGHT TO OUST CHIEF OF POLICE JOHN FULTZ WILL BE STAGED IN APPELLATE COURT AT LISBON ON NOV. 8

The next round in the fight of the city of Wellsville to remove Chief of Police John H. Fultz from office will be staged in the appellate court at Lisbon during the week of Nov. 8, it was announced today.

The case will be heard on its merits after the city's bill of exceptions has been approved by Common Pleas Judge W. H. Spence who reversed the findings of the Wellsville civil service commission and ordered Fultz reinstated. As yet the record has not been filed.

Court's Opinion.

The text of the opinion of the appellate in overruling the city's motion for a stay of execution of judgment, and the Fultz motion to dismiss the petition in error, argued at the Youngstown session this week, was filed today in the office of Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine at Lisbon. It follows:

"John H. Fultz was appointed chief of police of the City of Wellsville, Ohio, by Mayor G. D. Ingram, on August 15, 1921, and served as such officer until he was removed by the present mayor of Wellsville, Wallace L. Fogo, on the 19th day of March, 1926. The matter was subsequently tried to the Civil Service Commission of Wellsville, where the action of the mayor was sustained. An appeal was taken by the chief of police to the court of common pleas of Columbiana county, where, after hearing, it was ordered by that court that John H. Fultz be fully restored to his position as chief of police of Wellsville, and that there be restored to him all that he had lost by his removal. Error is now sought to be prosecuted in this court from the decision of the court of common pleas and a motion has been filed by the plaintiff in error for leave to file a petition in error, and to suspend the judgment of the court of common pleas of Columbiana county until hearing and further order of the court of appeals. A motion has also been filed by the defendant in error to dismiss the petition in error, for the reason that the court is without jurisdiction in the premises.

"These matters have been argued by counsel for the respective parties. This court is of the opinion that it has authority, by the provisions of Section 12278, to stay execution of judgment as asked in this case, but is further of the opinion that under authority of the case of The Texas Building Association No. 2 v. The Aurora Fire & Marine Insurance company, 34 Ohio St., 291, that such stay should not be granted. The syllabus in this case reads as follows:

"1. The execution of an order remanding a cause for further proceedings, upon the reversal of a judgment of an inferior court, may be stayed by the court in which a petition in error is filed to reverse the judgment of reversal, or by a judge thereof, as provided by section 22, chapter 1, article 4 of the act of May 14, 1878.

2. "An order staying the execution of a judgment or final order, as pro-

ALAMEDA, CALIFORNIA, FORBIDS CIRCUS, MUSICAL OR OTHERWISE

ALAMEDA, Cal.—Alameda is most certainly not a town for the small boy.

Circuses are barred here for all time.

The city council has just passed out an ordinance forbidding "tented shows, musical or otherwise," within the corporate limits of the city.

Primarily adopted as a health measure, the new ordinance nevertheless bars from the city forever the "big top" and similar delights of the childish heart.

Peggy Martin Leading Lady Of Chicago Stock Company

Plays Role of Marion Lenox in "The Best People," at Ceramic Theatre Monday Night.

Lovers of the spoken drama will come into their own next week, when the Chicago Stock company will appear at the Ceramic theatre, starting Monday night in a repertoire of high class Broadway hits. This organization has the reputation of being the best of its type on tour. Presenting nothing but the latest releases with an acting company of 25 artists, and complete scenic and electrical equipment for each bill.

With Peggy Martin, leading lady, in the role of Marion Lenox, "The Best People," from the pen of Avery Hopwood, which ran one solid year at the Lyceum theatre, New York, has been chosen for the opening play. This will be followed in "Applesauce," Barry Conner's New York and Chicago hit, a comedy which achieved notable success during its city engagements. The title of this play has been lifted from the slang of the day and is a "rip snortin' hunk of fun."

"The Gorilla," a mystery comedy, which is up to the minute in laughs and thrills, is also one of the feature plays.

"Puppy Love," however, is the novelty offering of the week and tells of the love affairs of two youngsters who find all the troubles of the world heaped upon their shoulders during their courtship. "Puppy Love" is from the pen of Ann Nichols, author of "Abie's Irish Rose."

The fifth production will be Martha Stanley's thriller, "Dance Mad," which enjoyed a run of a year at the Morah Bayes theatre, New York. It is a story of "Flaming Youth" and how a dance mad flapper falls madly in love with a young Portugense.

The sixth and final presentation of the week will be "Mamma Loves Papa" another corking play which enjoyed a long run in New York, with Alice Brady featured in the leading role.

Scotland has a drive against motorcyclists who break the parking time law.

Dublin has a broadcasting station and one is planned for Cork.

Aerial Trail Blazing

Among pioneers of all time, the name of Alan J. Cobham may rank high. He has made notable trails in the air.

Cobham has just returned from his great flight to Australia, a trifle of some 28,000 miles, without mishap. Before that he flew from England to Capetown and back and to India and back, and, while in India he soared over the Himalayas. He has never had an accident. Perhaps he should stop now.

More remarkable even than this pilot's record is the performance of his airplane. He used the same plane as on his former trips, and it has now covered 125,000 miles. It is a mighty good automobile that will do so well. His engine, fitted to the plane before the Capetown flight, has recovered about two-thirds of that distance. And they used to say that on airplane engine was good for less than 100 hours' running.

France Plays For Time

News from Paris indicates that the French government does not intend to ask parliament to ratify the Bergenger war debt settlement with the United States as it stands. Either France will flatly refuse to ratify, or will ratify with reservations, or will propose arbitration by the league of nations.

It is inconceivable that the United States government would agree to the last solution. It is unlikely that our government at present would agree even to French reservations. The French probably realize that as well as we do.

France evidently is playing for time. The French feel that the trend of sentiment is in their favor, and the longer they can postpone an official settlement the better terms they will get.

In this way they may be right. A good many Americans who have no special inclination to generosity with foreign debtors are getting into a frame of mind in which they would consider their country lucky to get anything out of France.

But in the meantime, with a deadlock developing and no sign of relenting on the part of our government, what may happen to the French franc?

The Starry Umbrella

A man has invented an umbrella whose edge is marked with 365 days, and the interior is decorated with a map of the heavens. By holding over the head and pointing the handle at the pole star the owner cannot get lost, claims its inventor.

This sounds interesting and useful at first. But does one carry an umbrella in weather in which one can see the pole star—or stars even brighter? And is an umbrella part of the camper's usual equipment when he is lost in the woods?

We guess we'll stick to the sun and our watch and our pocket compass and the way the down timber lies and the blue haze over water and the smell of the wind and one thing and another, until some one invents a pocket frying pan with magnetic and astronomical attachments.

Ads On The Pole

We knew advertising men were rather ingenious at furthering their causes, but even so we were somewhat stunned by the news of an exclusive contract to do the advertising at the north pole.

E. R. Davis, a man from Tacoma, Wash., has been given a contract by Lieut. Commander R. E. Byrd, naval aviator, who flew over it. The contract provides that the annual compensation shall be $1,000 payable immediately after the first signs are erected.

All we have to say is we hope the automobile clubs and billposter societies will get after Mr. Davis and see that his ads conform to all the standards of beauty and suitability which can be expected of a future age.

Boat Bargains

The Leviathan is for sale. Also the George Washington, Republic, President Harding, President Roosevelt, American Trader, American Banker, American Farmer and Shipper. So far there are no buyers.

Has no bright young man been to the board with a suggestion for a "Buy a Boat Week?"

The Queen of Roumania, touring the United States by motor, will not only "see as much as possible," but will get an earful every time she disregards the crossing signals.

An automobile engine has been made to run on the explosive dust from a grain elevator. When it can run on the dust of the fellow in the road ahead, that will be more like it.

Some of the healthiest communities in America do the most kicking about the weather. Probably that gives them enough interest in life to keep them healthy.

Mussolini is wise to support an anti-profanity movement in Italy. He knows they might start swearing at him.

Europeans complain that they see America first, last and all the while.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. — Thoughts while strolling: Chilly blue lips and sheer stockings. Nothing more interesting than a window filled with cutlery. Unless it's a litter of puppies. That fellow on 42nd street in horsey check suit, white spats and stock collar who sells wire sleeve garters.

Whatever became of long haired band conductors? The black cat in the window near the Hippodrome. Nickel hoppers and uke strokers. The well dressed American Indian who clerks in a music store. Steam shovels sinking their gigantic teeth. Pit bosses and mud slingers.

The loungers in front of the Elk's. More spaghetti—sans Chianti—parlors. Charles Dana Gibson. Ten in a flivver bearing a Canada banner. A chicken escape from a crate—and a block is in turmoil. The fake auction draws a crowd. And then it moves sheepishly away.

Marilyn Miller. As Michael Arlen might say: "Calm and beautiful, she has tasted the earth." A basket of straw hats at the stage entrance of a burlesque theatre—all smashed. Savings bank window ad: "A man who saves rarely steals."

What's the idea of those uniformed men who stand in doorways checking off Fifth avenue buses? Jack Kennedy of Jack and Jill's. The building metamorphosis on Sixth avenue above 53d street. And Ziegfeld's new theatre almost completed.

Squirrels racing along Central Park's stone wall. Wonder if Trudy could cross Columbus Circle. That gaudy funeral parlor that makes such a lavish show of death. Edna Ferber out for a walk. The stroll is over.

In the pink of dawn a woman was found by a policeman digging a small hole in the side yard of St. Patrick's cathedral. When he neared her he saw she was burying a pet canary. "Hurry up" the story goes "or we might be caught." Some cops are simply gorgeous.

One reform needed in the theatre is the custom of selling upper boxes. The tariff is usually the same as that for a good seat and in almost every instance the patron finds he can only see by unhinging his neck. Newer theatres are abolishing the stage box and the older ones should board them up. It is a hold-up unworthy of the industry.

An hotel reports a $20,000 loss in one year by souvenir hunters—in most cases table silver is purloined and the thievery is as a rule by those who come to dine and are not stopping at the hotel. One hotel tried to check the loss by having every piece of silver stamped, "Stolen from Blank's Hotel," but this was regarded as an affront by honest patrons and merely acted as a spur to the mischievous intention of the souvenir hunter. Even when silver is missed before the patron's departure any accusation becomes an extremely dangerous procedure for in case of mistake the liability of a damage suit is almost certain.

Manhattan it appears has no time for the practical joker in this hurry up age. Many men in the past gained fame as official jesters. The most famous perhaps was Brian G. Hughes.

A COUPLE FOR THE BUSINESS MAN

Here are a couple of small ones presented in the hope that one or the other or both of them may appeal to the business man.

A delegation of Easterners—members of the Board of Trade of some seaboard city—were touring the West. At their first glimpse of the Bad Lands of North Dakota one of the travelers, a builder and real estate man, remarked as he peered from the car window upon the sterile and forbidding landscape:

"Say, it looks to me like the Lord must have been tired when he got this far and turned the rest of the job over to a bunch of subcontractors."

Here's the other one which has to do with a retail clothing merchant and his friend:

The dealer was boasting of the sagacity of his head clerk.

"That feller Jake," he said, "that's the smartest boy in the world. You don't believe it, huh? Listen: I prove it to you. Only yesterday there comes in here a poor widow woman whose husband just had died. She wanted to get some clothes to bury him in.

"And what did Jake do? I tell you: Not only did he sell her the most expensive suit what we had in stock but he got her to take an extra pair of trousers."

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Traveling De Luxe.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—Interesting facts and figures about traveling de luxe in the United States are to be found in the annual report of the directors of the Pullman Company to the stockholders of that great organization. During the last fiscal year 36,231,488 revenue passengers were carried in Pullman cars over the various railroads of the country. This was an increase of 1,716,223 over the preceding year, which may be accepted as an evidence of the growing prosperity of Americans because people who have to count the cost of everything they do are not Pullman passengers, as a rule. Every day almost 100,000 people travel in Pullmans, the daily average for the year being 99,264.

Not all of those who travel in this fashion are millionaires, of course, for there are only 11,000 such fortune-favored individuals in the United States, according to the income tax returns, which are supposed to be reliable, having been made under oath. If all the millionaires traveled every day in Pullmans barely more than a tenth of this traffic would be accounted for, which indicates that there is a considerable number of people in the country who want comfort and luxury when they journey from one place to another and are able to pay for it.

These Pullman passengers traveled a grand total of almost fifteen billion miles, or an average distance of 400 miles per passenger. This, likewise, is an increase over the preceding year, and indicates, perhaps, that more people are going to California or to Florida. At least, they are making longer jumps when they take to the rail method of transportation.

To handle this traffic every car operated by the Pullman Company traveled an average distance during the year of 154,100 miles, or approximately 422 miles a day. The average mileage per car operated increased 4400 miles over the preciding year. No data are offered as to the number of whisk brooms Pullman porters wore out during the year in getting the tips that supplement their wages.

What the Bill Comes To.

The nation's annual bill for de luxe traveling runs to more than $120,000,000. The Pullman Company got $90,831,274.99 for the twelve-month period covered by the report, and the railroads got $40,000,000 for the Pullman surcharge levy on the travelers who will not ride in day coaches. Of the gross revenue of the company, $9,701,866.64 also was turned over to

SUFFERED WITH CONSTIPATION 25 YEARS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought relief in 3 weeks!

Read this remarkable testimonial to the power of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN over constipation:

"I prize your ALL-BRAN. I have been using it three weeks for constipation. I had had this trouble for 25 years and had tried everything, but could never get any relief—but since using your bran I can truthfully say that I am entirely cured and feel like a new man."

Yours truly,
THOMAS A. HENLEY, JR.

Blotchy skin, eruptions, spots before the eyes, headaches—these all tell of the ravaging inroads of constipation. Don't let this dire disease send its poisons through your body. Check it now and save your health and happiness!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation permanently if used regularly or money refunded. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, every meal.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Kellogg's is 100 per cent bran. Ready to eat. Delicious with fruit or cream—also in cooking. Served in all restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Face and neck covered with eruption

Resinol cleared it away

Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 20:—"I think Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are wonderful—I was a sufferer from skin trouble and I know what they did for me. I had only a few pimples at first, but this infection soon spread until they covered my face and neck and made me look disgraceful. They irritated me so I could scarcely keep my fingers off them. I tried various treatments, but none gave more than temporary relief. A friend recommended Resinol and I bought a jar of ointment and a cake of soap. After the second application of each, the itching stopped and when I had used the Resinol products for five weeks, there was not a trace of the trouble left." (Signed) Arthur Smith, 489 Hudson Ave.

WEST END ASKS REOPENING OF SCHOOL ROOM

COMPLAINT HERE

Board of Education Says Economy Prompted Action.

Charging discrimination against their end of the city, a delegation of 11 residents of the district appeared before the board of education last night to urge the reopening of one of two unused rooms in the West End building.

D. F. White, president of the board, told the delegation that the room had been closed as a move for economy. He cited figures showing that maintenance of another room in the building would cost about $1,400 for the one term.

Spokesman for the complainants asserted that the room could be reestablished at little cost if one of the teachers in the Washington school were transferred to West End, and a combination room organized at the Washington building to take care of pupils from the two grades instead of one teacher for each room.

The delegation also complained about the three-grade room now being maintained in the West End building, charging that pupils are not receiving the personal attention which would be given them if only two grades were in one room. They urged assignment of fifth and sixth grade pupils to one room. This room, they said, should take care of 14 sixth grade pupils who are now enrolled in the Washington and Sixth street buildings.

Hint Fight On School Levy.

Opposition to the 2.3 mill tax levy to be submitted to the electors on Nov. 2, was threatened if the board failed to grant relief. The committee pointed out that elections generally were decided by the vote of the Fourth ward. One of the spokesmen claimed that West End residents were prepared to take legal action to enforce their demands.

Supt. McVay said but 73 pupils were enrolled in the two rooms now maintained in West End building. By transferring to that district 11 pupils who were sent to the Washington and Sixth street buildings at the beginning of the term, the building would have but 87 pupils an average of 29 for each room, he said. The average enrollment is 40.

For more than two hours the committee and the board discussed the question, the debate at times becoming heated. It was after 9 o'clock when the committee withdrew and the board began its deliberations. Member R. B. Stevenson expressed the opinion that "an injustice has been done to the community," but his four co-members, President D. F. White and F. T. Weaver, C. A. Ferguson and George Wilhelm, claimed that the best thing had been done in view of conditions.

Eliminate "Boundary" Lines.

Emmett J. Gaston, board clerk, was instructed to communicate with the committee, advising that the re-opening of another room for the accommodation of 14 children now enrolled eleswhere "would not be economy" as the enrollment in the West End building was not large enough to warrant three rooms. Supt. McVay told the board that if the enrollment increases next year as it did in the past, probably both vacant rooms in the West End school would be reopened next fall. This would mean the transfer of some of the pupils who are now enrolled in the Sixth street and Washington buildings.

As an aftermath of the discussion, the board decided on eliminating all so-called "boundary" lines between school buildings. Supt. McVay declared that it was practically impossible to establish fixed lines as pupils must be placed wherever the situation permits.

Two Teachers Resign.

Taxes collected during June netted the school board $152,145, Gaston reported. Of this amount, there remains $80,432, he said. This is barely enough to meet payrolls, the clerk reported. He estimated the school board funds would be depleted about December 1.

Resignations of Mrs. Louis Hatch, formerly Vera Dray and Miss Elsie Hickey as elementary teachers were accepted by the board. The board also approved the appointment of Miss Dorothy Crosby, Cleveland, as teacher in the part-time schools and Miss Sarah Johnson as teacher in the elementary schools.

Upon the recommendation of the superintendent, the board voted to dismiss schools on Friday, October 29, to give the teachers an opportunity to attend the annual meetings of the Eastern Ohio Teachers' association, the North-Eastern Ohio Teachers association in Cleveland, or to spend the day visiting other schools. More than two-thirds of the teachers have expressed a desire to attend the conventions.

Welcome Awaits Yanks

road. If old Alex can hold the Hupert rifles at bay once more in tomorrow's tussle everything will be right back where it started.

While the Yankees have the advantage of a home field and home crowd for the deciding contest, or contests, that doesn't mean a great deal with a good road club like the Cardinals and a non-partisan New York crowd.

Less Strain In New York.

It is ust possible that getting away from St. Louis may be the best thing that could have happened to the Cards. Certainly, all those parades and back-slapping they went through didn't help them any. They were pressing pretty badly yesterday, because they knew that great home crowd was expecting so much of them. In that way the strain will be less in New York, where, after all, a world's series is only a world's series.

If it should go to the seventh game, Jess Haines is sure to pitch for St. Louis, while Huggins will choose between Shawkey and Ruether. The chances are that Shawkey would get the call. He has been a right smart pitcher lately. No opposing team has scored on him in the last 17 innings he worked.

Herb Pennock and Wife Happy.

ABOARD YANKEE SPECIAL, ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—As this hilarity-laden special train goes speeding homeward this October morning, there's a smiling young chap idling about the observation car watching the flittin- landscape.

Near at hand sits his wife, humming to herself, or leaning over occasionally to whisper in his ear. She's the happiest woman among all the happy women on this train this morning.

And well she should be.

Herbie Pennock, this morning, owns this train, and everything in it. And he has earned his distinction.

For it was his supple left arm that yesterday pitched the Yankees to within a single game of a world championship, his cleverness and cunning that turned back the Cardinal stickers like broken waves before a rock, holding the opposing batsmen at bay until his own teammates, at the last minute, rallied their batting forces to put over the run that meant victory.

Herbie Pennock's record is still clean. He has pitched four world series games and he has yet to be returned a loser.

Hair Shingled; She Sues Barber

Elly Hoffman.

The moral is:—let no hairdresser become absent-minded. For in such a state a Budapest hair dresser shingled Elly Hoffmann's tresses. As a consequence, so she claims, she lost her employment—her boss being prejudiced against short hair—and the man who was to have married her fell violently out of love. So she is suing for $1,750 dollars.

Dorothy Johanning, 6, Run Down By Grocer's Truck

Nose Broken and Face and Head Cut When Struck by Motor Vehicle on Bradshaw Avenue.

Dorothy, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johanning, Fawcett street, sustained a broken nose and lacerations to her face and head, when struck by a truck, owned by J. H. McCoy, Second street grocer, and driven by Clark Keevan, as she was crossing Bradshaw avenue, near Oak street, at 10:45 o'clock this morning. She is in the City hospital under the care of Drs. Frank R. Harrison and Clyde Larkins.

The accident occurred as the child, whose baby brother, James, died early today, was enroute to her home from the Riley avenue residence of her aunt, Mrs. Clifford Walker.

Keevan, who was traveling down Bradshaw avenue, claimed his truck was moving slowly as he intended to turn at the Avondale street corner.

Witnesses said the Johanning girl started across the street, stopped at the street car tracks when she saw the truck approaching and then started back. The end of the front spring struck her, knocking her to the street.

She was carried into the home of Alfred Sullivan, Bradshaw avenue, where Dr. Harrison attended her. She was removed to the hospital in an auto driven by Lewis Capehart Jr., who witnessed the accident. Keewan, who accompanied the child to the hospital, went to the police headquarters where he reported the accident. He was released on his own recognizance.

Three Negroes Taken From Southern Jail And Shot to Death

AIKEN, S. C., Oct. 8.—Three Negroes, two men and a woman, were taken from the county jail here today and shot to death by a mob of 400 men. They were accused of the murder of Sheriff Henry H. Howard, who was killed during a liquor raid.

The lynching followed a verdict of not guilty returned yesterday against Demon Loman, 21. The other negroes slain were Bertha Loman, 26, wife of Demon Loman, and his brother, Clyde Loman, 18.

While the mob was storming the jail, Jailor W. H. Taylor called Sheriff Charles Robinson but when the latter arrived Taylor had been locked in a cell. Robinson also was overpowered and locked up.

The mob hustled the woman and the two men to a patch of woods three miles south of the city where they killed them.

Search For Missing Man.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8.—Search was renewed today for A. A. Kerr, business man, whose disappearance is surrounded by mystery and who, his family declares, might have met with foul play.

Kerr's truck was found in Alum creek and when it was raised, one of his shoes was discovered, police said. The creek was dragged last night without result.

EDITOR WILL OCCUPY PULPIT IN CALCUTTA

Rev. R. J. Miller, Pittsburgh, Will Preach Sunday.

TOWNSHIP'S SON

Morning and Evening Services of Reminiscent Nature.

Rev. Robert J. Miller, former resident of St. Clair township, and for 46 years editor of The Christian Union Herald, Pittsburgh church publication, will occupy the pulpit of the Calcutta United Presbyterian church, four miles north of here, Sunday morning and evening.

The evening services will be of a reminiscent nature, Rev. Mr. Miller recalling events which occurred during the 10 years his parents spent on a farm about one mile east of Calcutta, afterwards known as the George McCoy place. Communion will be distributed at the morning service.

Rev. Mr. Miller is the youngest son of the late James Miller and a brother of Dr. James Russell Miller, widely known writer and preacher. The family left Calcutta on September 1, 1863, about two weeks after the capture of the Confederate raider, General John Morgan, near the West Beaver church. They went to New Concord, seat of Muskingum college, making the trip in wagons.

Fifty Years in Pulpit.

Rev. Mr. Miller recalls that much of the trip took them over the path followed by Morgan on his trip northward. Bridges had been burned away by the southern troops and the travelers were forced to ford streams in many places before they reached their destination.

While living in Columbiana county, the church editor attended what was known as the McLaughlin school on the Fredericktown road. Few of his school mates are now living. Among his teachers were his uncle, Thomas Creswell, and Henry Abram, who are buried in the Calcutta United Presbyterian cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Miller recently celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his licensure as a minister. In connection with his work on The Christian Union Herald, he has conducted a mission Sunday school and church in Pittsburg for many years.

During his visit over the week-end, he will be a guest of Miss Fannie Gaston and her mother, who reside on the sub-station road, about a mile southwest of Calcutta.

Third Round in Fight

vided for in said section, will only be granted on good cause shown, and the mere pendency of a petition in error to reverse the judgment of reversal is not sufficient ground for an order granting such stay.

Motion to Dismiss Petition Overruled.

"This court has nothing before it proper for consideration in support of the motion for a stay, except the mere pendency of the pleading. It is true some statement was made by counsel concerning local conditions wholly extrinsic to the issue in this case and which were not brought into the record in such way that the court in any event has the right to consider them. Furthermore, it is said and not disputed that the chief of police, on his own request or demand, is now acting as such; that he has not received any compensation and will not until after the final hearing in this court, and if the determination be adverse to him he will not be able to secure compensation for his services, so that the city is in no danger of being compelled to pay the chief of police for services, unless it be held in the end that they are performed under the right to retain the office.

"The motion to dismiss the petition in error is also at this time overruled. Counsel can draw an entry in conformity with the holding herein made."

Defeat Threatens Ouster Proceedings In Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 8.—Defeat today threatened the ouster suit instigated by 425 petitioners against Mayor John S. H. Patton when the defense attorneys brought forth evidence to prove that 173 persons who signed the removal petition against Patton had either not voted in 1925 when he was elected, or were not qualified to vote.

Taken by surprise by this testimony, Special Prosecutor W. R. Albans asked the court for a few hours time to which to check up the election board records. The court granted him until this afternoon in which to make his investigation. Albans was retained by the Ministerial association.

Miss Marie Dickson, clerk of the election board, testified that in checking over the petitions she had found 127 names of persons who had not voted in 1925.

Woman is Literally Cooked When Oil Stove Explodes

CANTON, O., Oct. 8.—Mrs. Charles Deitrich, 33, is dying in Aultman hospital here from frightful burns received early today when an oil stove, on which she was preparing breakfast exploded. Mrs. Deitrich was literally cooked with the flaming liquid. Her husband tried to smother the fire with a piece of carpet and was badly burned about the hands, arms and body.

Sen. James A. Reed (Democrat) of Missouri and John G. Sargent, attorney general of the United States, are enemies politically, but professionally they are buddies. Jail July-December

While Bosich was kind to her, she said, he had not treated her as daughter only. She may be used as witness against her aged companion when complaints are lodged.

Wrote to Mother.

Since coming here, the girl claims, she has written to her mother. In one letter she declared to have written: "I'll come home again if you want me to." The answer, she got from her mother, she told police was: "Your actions are disgraceful. For going away with 'Tom' I will never forgive you."

Other letters that the girl claims to have written to her mother, never reached their destination, police said She gave them to Bosich to mail.

Lucy told police that she is the daughter of Samuel Paule, a mill worker in East Youngstown, Ohio.

Ohio police, notified of the arrests, were expected to come here.

Meanwhile, the aged man and his sweetheart will be arraigned in the municipal court on a serious charge.

Girl Will Be Welcomed Home.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 8.—Lucy Paule, arrested by Boston police, in company with Thomas Bosich, 63, with whom she was found living, will be forgiven and welcomed home, according to her mother, Mrs. John Sofie.

Mrs. Sofie today said that she had never heard from her daughter and denied disowning her. She said that Bosich had "kidnaped the child."

Two men now are serving sentences here for statutory offenses on charges preferred by the girl and her mother.

Bosich will be prosecuted for violation of the Mann act, local authorities declared.

SCHOOL BOARD PLANS RALLIES ON LEVY VOTE

Members Speak Tonight at Grant Street and Dixonville.

EXPLAIN MILLAGE

Electors Will Pass Judgment Nov. 2 at Polls.

Twenty rallies in the interest of the 2.3 mill levy for school purposes which will be submitted to the voters at the November 2 election, will be conducted in school buildings in the East Liverpool school district during the next three weeks.

The meetings have been arranged by members of the board of education, assisted by Superintendent Charles S. McVay. Members of the board will explain the need for increased finances to operate the schools for the nine-month term.

Board members will preside at rallies in buildings over which they have control, although other members will attend to discuss the proposition.

First of these meetings was held in the Third street school Wednesday night. Rallies will be held in the Grant street and Dixonville buildings tonight.

If the proposal is rejected, the board warns, the school term must be reduced from nine to possibly six months after this year. The board is without authority to borrow money for operating expenses.

The proposed levy is to take care of interest on bonded indebtedness and meet bonds as they became due.

Here is the schedule of meetings:

Monday, October 11—High school and McKinley.

Tuesday, October 12—Pleasant Heights and Klondyke.

Wednesday, October 13.—West End.

Thursday, October 14.—Washington and Neville Institute.

Tuesday, October 19—Garfield.

Wednesday, October 20—Trentvale.

Thursday, October 21—Glenmoore.

Friday, October 22—Horace Mann and Sixth street.

Monday, October 25—Central.

Thursday, October 28—Walkers.

street, Garfield street, Briar alley, Riley avenue and St. John street.

Ordinances authorizing the sale of bonds and to borrow money for the issuance of notes to cover the city's share of the cost of the work were also unanimously adopted.

Resolution was adopted authorizing the construction of a sanitary sewer from the intersection of Young's alley to Daisy alley.

Councilman Charles Hayes said that he had received complaints relative to the practice of ice cream dealers and wagon drivers dumping salt water from cabinets on pavements and streets which he claimed damaged the paving. The matter was referred to the service-safety director.

Director Moore was instructed to investigate complaints that property had been damaged by water flowing into homes in Foster street, West End.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Short covering in the industrial and specialty stocks at the beginning of trading today accounting for the moderate rallies in prices which occurred in some sections of the market. Stocks as a whole were unable to make much response to the continuation of the 4 per cent reserve bank rediscount rate and the improvement in the reserves of the bank, as disclosed in the 3 per cent rise in the ratio of reserves to total resources.

Most of the trading revolved around the recognized speculative leader in the railroad, motor and specialty groups. General Motors sold about a point higher and Chrysler reached 36½.

The steel stocks were dull and heavy, with U. S. Steel and Bethlehem selling fractionally higher and the balance of the list slightly lower.

The most important market news of the day was contained in the government's semi monthly cotton report, with an indicated crop of 16,627,000 bales, against 15,810,000 bales reported two weeks ago.

Buying of the better grade of railroad stocks continued on a broader scale in the second hour, with Chesapeake and Ohio and Nickel Plate in the forefront. New Haven was in demand above 41. Oil stocks showed a slight improvement, with Simms leading the low-priced independents. Call money was unchanged at 4½ per cent.

According to Ford people say that boys have no judgment, when they ought to say that they have no opportunity to develop judgment.

FORD intends that his employes shall represent a cross section of society, all ages from boys to old men, from girls to old women, in the proportion in which they exist in the community.

"The presence of the older men adds a balance that would otherwise be lacking. It is unusual for a man to have much real judgment until he is around 50." That is useful common sense.

FORD'S remedy for the crime wave is to put boys and very young men at work to arouse their ambition and give them enough to live decently. A good idea.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of Sarah Mills who died October 8th, 1923 at the age of 16 years.

Gone But Not Forgotten.

A precious one from us has gone
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled,
The boon his love had given,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions.
"Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

In the onward swing, when the club has been swung back in a free and easy manner, the arms can help the clubhead some by exerting a throwing impulse when the clubhead gets near the ball. But to do this the player must be free of stiffness and the rigidity that accumulate from taking the club back stiffly and awkwardly and from being in much of a hurry to hit the ball. In order to throw the club the arms and shoulders must be free and loose, as they would be if you were to throw a ball or any other weight. Then, when you throw the clubhead throw it directly across the ball, apparently from left to right, or from inside the line out. Do not strain to throw it away out—in all things in golf do merely the natural thing. So in throwing the clubhead from the inside out you can easily overdue it if you get to reaching away out, which will pull you off your balance and spoil the shot. Take it easily, naturally.

ARMS AND SHOULDERS MUST BE FREE AND LOOSE.

Crippled High School Eleven Will Enjoy Rest Saturday

Crew of Seasoned Grid Performers Lined up for Clash Tomorrow; Contest Will Start at 4.

WITH a little better than two weeks of good stiff practice sessions stowed away, muscles unlimbered, attack formations functioning properly and defense movements working smoothly, the Newell Laughlin China independent football team feels "set" for its opener tomorrow afternoon at Newell park.

The Empire A. C., an organization that has been in the independent field for several years, will provide the opposition. The game will start at 4 o'clock, instead of at 3:30 as originally planned, in order to permit practically all plant employes to finish up in time for the contest.

Coach Ernest Bucher, former high school and Denison college football, basketball and track star, is coaching the Laughlin combine and is confident his charges, with any kind of breaks will "take" the Jefferson county eleven tomorrow. He will put his squad through its final workout tonight, beginning at 5:30 o'clock.

Manager Joe Dickey, assisted by Cach Bucher, is making every effort to bring together a winning combination and expects to see his labors bring forth fruit tomorrow and in the following games as well. Talent for the Laughlin eleven is being recruited not alone from the different plants of the pottery organization, but from any available source.

Among the gridders of the district who will don the moleskin for the inaugural tilt are "Cheese" Plant, veteran quarterback who has figured in countless battles of the gridiron here, Lee Hall, Newton Hall, Ronald Staats, Joe Gibas, Clyde Boso, Don Bennett, Emmet Bailey, Ed Curry, Chick Baker, Hanna, Wayne Jester, Ross Walters, Roy Walker, Tom Walker, Sam Hilditch, Paul Hughes and Eugene Fisher.

Coach Bucher is not certain of his starting lineup and will probably not select the eleven until prior to game time.

Rookies Get Chance.

TIFFIN.—Three sophomores are to break into the Heidelberg college football line-up in the game with Otterbein at Westerville. Mautz and Adams, both second year men, have been drilled for halfback positions. Hess, another soph, is also to be given a place, while Watson has been shifted from tackle to end and Burns from a flank berth to tackle.

B-W Eleven Crippled.

BEREA.—The Baldwin-Wallace college football team is badly crippled as a result of the Reserve game last Saturday. Beyer, left guard, injured his arm and the X-ray shows a broken bone in the forearm. Bennett, end, and Weise, tackle, have broken ribs, and Hallet, substitute half, has torn hip muscles.

BABE ALMOST MISSES TRAIN

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—Babe Ruth almost missed the train which carried the Yankees out of St. Louis last evening.

After the game he went downtown to be presented with an automobile by St. Louis friends and missed the Yankee special at Union Station. He telephoned the Bemon avenue station, on the north side, to have the train held, and just caught the special by making a mad dash by motor through the traffic.

CHICAGO SERIES IS WON BY SOX

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Chicago's major league baseball players, comprising the White Sox and Cubs, were entraining for their homes today, following the windup battle of the city series.

The White Sox regained the city championship, winning four of the seven games played. The deciding game was played yesterday at Cubs park. Ted Blankenship shut out the Nationals, 3 to 0.

The Bruins outhit the Sox, 8 to 7, but Root and Blake were liberal with passes, several of which figured in the scoring.

Saints Show Form.

CINCINNATI.—St. Xavier college's football team today showed improved form in the rehearsals for the big intersectional game with the United States Marine Corps eleven from Quantico, Va., here Saturday.

Douthit's History "Prof" Made Him Study Books-Then He Sent Him Out To Be Baseball Star

(By Katharine Brush)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 7.—One of the aces was missing from the St. Louis pack of cards in the lost game against the Yanks today. Young Taylor Douthit, centerfielder, spent the tense innings in the dugout, no doubt roundly cussing the wrenched and battered shoulder that kept him there.

Douthit's injury was sustained in the mad fray of yesterday when he and Hafey, the left fielder, both intent on pulling a fly by Dugan down out of the blue, bumped into one another with a bump so violent that you fancied you could almost hear it. Both flopped to the ground. Both lay writhing while the fans held 38,000 assorted breaths and the team mates of the casualties rushed to aid them. Both rose in due time and played the rest of the game, and Hafey played in the game today. But Douthit must have been more mashed against than mashing in the collision, for this morn the condition of his shoulder was such that the use of it for business purposes was out of the question.

Nobody knows whether or not his presence on the diamond this afternoon would have made any difference in the outcome of the battle. But certainly, his absence robbed the encounter of a bit of it accustomed color.

Douthit is one of the most colorful and interesting ball players in the current world series. Young he is, not long out of the University of California, from which he graduated in 1923. He's good-looking, too, in a clean cut sort of way, so that there is noticeable in the cheers that greet his diamond accomplishments quite a sweet and swelling soprano note, and he is as likeable young man as you would want to meet.

A living explosion of the ancient theory that professional ball players are not gentlemen. And who do you suppose induced Taylor Douthit to become a professional ball player in the first place? None other than the professor of history at California.

This was a shock to me. My experience with history professors has not been what you could call extensive—except for the one who flunked me, I can't say I 've ever known any—but I could have sworn that they had no sporting proclivities whatsoever. I mean, I thought that in all probabilities baseball history, past, present or future was one history that left them quite cold. It seems I was wrong. Mr. Douthit not only told me that his history professor was the man responsible for his present vocation, but he added that the history professor had once played professional baseball himself.

"He never got over it," Douthit said.

"He just played a few years and then went back to his studies, but he's crazy about baseball to this day." Follows it as closely as if he were Landis or somebody.

"I was playing ball on the California team and he used to invite me over to his house in the evenings, and we'd talk for hours and hours about the game. When I graduated, he sent me to Branch Rickey, at that time manager of the Cardinals, who was a personal friend of his. And," concluded young Douthit, smiling like a very nice tooth paste advertisement, "Here I am."

Douthit has been the property of St. Louis Nationals for three years, but this is his first year of big league playing. Previously, the club farmed him out to teams in minor leagues, so that he might learn the few things he wasn't born knowning about the game.

This year he began with the Cardinals in the spring and he has been there ever since, right there. Ask any St. Louisan. He is the lead-off man of the team's batting list and last Saturday afternoon in New York he started off in the first half of the first inning of his first world series with a bang-aloud long bang that took him express to second base. Not only that, but he scored the first run of the series, and he's been hitting and running off and on every since.

He lives in Oakland, California, and during the winter is the right hand man of his father, who has a flourishing real estate business. He isn't married and doesn't want to be until little Miss Right comes along. He insists that he has never been in love.

"But of course," he added ingeniously, after he had told me this, "I know some awfully nice girls back home."

BREAKS 5 TO 1 FOR YANKEES

Get Bad One When Wind Checks Lazzeri's Fly.

By Davis J. Walsh.

ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—At the end of the game the breaks stood five to one in favor of the Yanks. The latter's only bad luck came in the sixth when the wind held Lazzeri's long fly inside the park with the bases filled. But as far as that went, Lazzeri wouldn't hase been at bat except for Pennock's lucky double.

Douthit would have caught Paschal's fly that scored the tying run in the ninth; that is, Douthit would have done so if he wasn't sitting on the bench.

The only thing you catch there is a lot of splinters.

But Douthit's absence caused by his collision with Hafey on Wednesday was not as detrimental as Hafey's presence. The latter couldn't get up with flies hit in his direction because of his leg injury.

The boys used to hold St. Louis up for public consideration as the hotbed of feudal bias. But no more. The stands made a hero of Ruth without having to give the proposition their best effort.

Lazzeri has proved two things, i. e., and to wit, that he can hit a baseball with much fervor and that he can run into more trouble than a blind man on a motorcycle. He tried to stretch a double out of all proportion to its worth with none out on Wednesday and yesterday he romped blithely into a tag-out double play with a run already over the plate.

All the young man had to do was to stop and make Hornsby chase him or throw to second. Either course would have allowed Gehrig to score before the completion of the final out.

Our Mr. Ruth walked twice but otherwise spent a sedate afternoon at the plate. But his one-hand catch of Hafey's foul in the fourth was a gem of purest ray serene.

If the Yanks win the series and no one is betting that they won't, they will be the first club to win a world's series title with a sieve for an infield.

When Mr. Huggins decided that he needed a substitute for Dugan he sent Gazella to third base. That one brought down the house. Just try that infield on your mouth organ some time: Gehrig, Lazzeri, Koenig and Gazella. Just a mouthful of consonants.

Sherdel pitched two fine ball games and lost both. Hoyt stumbled through a terrible thing and won. There "aint" no justice in this life.

Defiance Books Toledo.

DEFIANCE.—The Oct. 16 date on the Defiance college football schedule, left vacant by the cancellation of Urbana, will be filled by the University of Toledo, Coach Paul S. Mason has announced.

Dover--Wellsville Squads Will Renew Gridiron Warfare

Ray Wilde's Chester Combine Faces Real Early Season Test at Follansbee in First Road Game of Year; Weirton and New Cumberland Battle in First Title Engagement.

Idle tomorrow as a result of a hole in the schedule which school officials were unable to fill prior to last Saturday, members of Coach Kidder's Blue and White squad will be spectators, instead of performers, in the majority instanances, tomorrow.

Several of the squad plan to take in the Pitt-Lafayette clash tomorrow afternoon at Pitt stadium and a few of them will see Wellsville in action against Dover, the Wellsville tilt being the only scholastic engagement scheduled in the district., Chester being slated to perform at Follansbee.

Captain Dick Larkins will nurse and injured shoulder in the hope of getting back into his place in the center of the line in two or three weeks if possible. A couple of ligaments in his shoulder were torn in the Sebring game, but Dick managed to go through the subsequent week of practice and the first three quarter of the clash with Akron East before he was hurt again and the pain was so intense he was compelled to leave the field.

Todd, who has been playing occasionally at guard in the Blue and White line, may be called upon by Kidder to understudy Larkins' during the latter's absence.

High's next engagement will also be a home attraction, East Palestine being slated here on October 16. On the following week the locals go to Toronto.

Dover at Wellsville.

COACH EARL KLINCK'S Orange and Black will renew warfare with Dover tomorrow afternoon at Hammond park with the expectation of either giving the visitors a drubbing or at least a tough game.

For the last two years the Doverites have had the Indian sign on the Wellsville aggregation and Klinck's charges feel today very much as though they would like to break the charm, whatever it is.

Dover's supremacy has not been established by a great margin, four touchdowns, if memory serves correctly, representing the total amount of scoring in the two contests and one of the quartet belongs to Wellsville.

The Dover combine took a 6-0 decision on one occasion and copped one by the count of 12-6 on another, both games finding Wellsville in a comparatively weak stage.

The Orange and Black this year boasts a good line, better, at least, than those of the past three years, if it can be kept intact, although the backfield, with one or two exceptions, is comparatively green.

Nevertheless, the Orange and Black is confident of taking a fall out of Dover tomorrow. Dover has already won two, toppling Minerva by a 15 to 7 count and swamping Cadiz, 39 to 6.

Field conditions at Hammond park will be improved for the contest. Motorists will be permitted to park on the west, or upper side, but not on the lower. Cinders have been spread around and conditions generally improved.

Klinck will be without the services of two ends, Dickey and Brannen. Dickey is out with a bad knee and Brannen is suffering from the effects of a severe cold.

The following officials will handle the game: Park (Syracuse), referee; Patterson (Ohio U.), umpire; Sterrett (Geneva), head linesman. The game will start at 3.

Chester at Follansbee.

IN comparatively good physical condition following their 6 to 0 victory over Wellsville in the opener last Saturday at Chester, Coach Ray Wilde's eleven will face a real early season test tomorrow afternoon at Follansbee and on the outcome of the tilt with Caskey's outfit Hancock countians may base their predictions for the remainder of the season.

Follansbee had been drilling strenuously all week, leaving nothing undone in the line of preparation for the Chester eleven and the Caskeyites are full of confidence, at least.

Chester developed a lot of form last Saturday in winning from Wellsville by a single touchdown margin and may show the Brooke countians a thing or two about the game tomorrow.

Follansbee was tumbled a week ago by the fast Warwood team, showing that they are not exactly invincible.

Chester was trimmed by Follansbee last year and hasn't forgotten it. Neither has Follansbee and the Brooke county outfit, consequently, is anticipating a tougher battle than the 1925 setto.

Hancock county grid fans also will keep an eye on the Weirton-New Cumberland battle at New Cumberland. The game stacks up as the first battle of the three cornered elimination series for the Hancock county championship. New Cumberland last week walloped Brilliant by a 43 to 0 score and the week before held Follansbee to a scoreless tie.

Akron Stronger.

AKRON—Harold Cochran, injured in the Case game last Saturday, will be unable to enter the lists against Ohio university this week, but Akron's team is expected to be stronger than last week because of incessant drill in blocking, tackling and other fundamentals. Huffman, halfback, and other new men will be tried Saturday.

O'FARRELL TOPS ALL HITTERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Bob O'Farrell, the Cardinals' slugging catcher, today had assumed the batting leadership of the world's series regulars with the fine average of .437. Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman, was second with a mark of .412.

As a result of their batting yesterday the Yanks are batting .245, only 14 points behind St. Louis.

The composite score of the first five games follows:

NEW YORK.	AB.	R.	H.	Ave.
Combs, cf	18	3	6	.333
Koenig, ss	23	2	4	.174
Ruth, rf-lf	16	5	5	.312

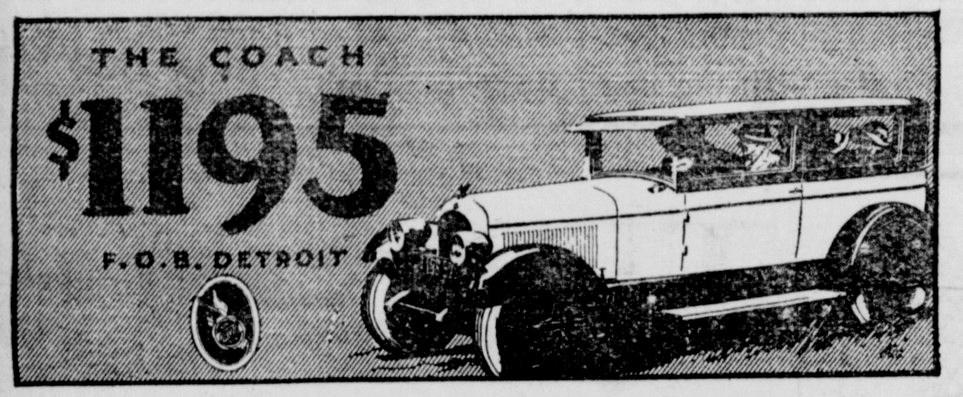
TRYING to compare the Chrysler "60" with an ordinary type of Six is like trying to compare two totally different things.

There can be no comparative measure of value, for instance, between the Chrysler "60", with its sixty-mile-and-more-per-hour capacity, and another car offering much less.

Just as sharply defined is the difference in the comfort of these sixty Chrysler-miles and the lesser speed and the less easeful speed of the other.

The vital factor which makes greater value in Chrysler "60" has its source in the-one-thing-which-cannot-be-copied—Chrysler creative engineering and precision manufacturing as expressed in the plan of Standardized Quality.

In the Chrysler "60" it expresses itself especially in qualities which stand out so sharply that you cannot mistake them—the most beautiful riding and handling qualities you have ever experienced, a most amazing agility, and a gushing wealth of power that never halts or hesitates for a single second.



Chrysler performance, long life and quality. Roomy, luxurious bodies with beautiful mohair upholstery in enclosed models. Attractive new color harmonies. Sixty miles, and more, per hour. Lightning acceleration. Amazing economy of 22 miles to the gallon. Characteristic Chrysler smartness and beauty. Phenomenal riding ease. Chrysler four-wheel hydraulic brakes. Oil-filter and air-cleaner. Full pressure lubrication. Seven-bearing crankshaft. Impulse neutralizer. Manifold heat control. Road levelizers, front and rear. The new lighter Six Chrysler "60" is the lowest-priced Six ever built which combines all these fine car features.

HORNSBY PINS SERIES HOPES ON ALEXANDER'S SHOULDERS

Will Match His Two Winners With Yanks' Two Losing Hurlers

Victory Saturday for Cards Would Find Haines Back on Hilltop in Final; New York Today is 2 to 1 Bet for Series.

ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—"I'll match my two winners against their two losers and ask favors of no man."

That was Rogers Hornsby's final word as he boarded a train for the east with his St. Louis Cardinals in tow for the sixth game of the world series with the New York Yankees at the stadium on Saturday and today the intelligentsia were disposed to string along with the young man's viewpoint.

The Cards may be one down and two to play on this series but the fact that Hornsby had Alexander and Haines, his two winning pitchers, to match against Huggins' two losers, Shocker and Ruether, was not to be laughed off in a high falsetto. Life might have been ebbing fast from Cardinal hopes today but all animation was by no means extinct.

Alexander will pitch the Saturday pastime in New York and if he can show sixty per cent of the game he showed the first time they took the blanket off him, the Cards can't be any worse than an even bet for that particular occasion.

For the entire series, the Yanks, perforce, ranked a 2 to 1 favorite on the basis of elementary mathematics. The Cards had to take two ball games to win the series, the Yanks only one.

And unless the boys get around to the matter of catching pop flies, the best exhibition of pitching that Alexander and Haines might care to uncover will get them slightly less than nothing. Bill Sherdel turned loose a left handed epic yesterday and all he got was a pain in the collar and his second straight defeat in the series at the hands of Herb Pennock.

What the Yanks did to Bill was little, if anything. What the Cards did to him was ample, sufficient and enough.

The first alien run scored when Hafey stepped on his silly foot and lost Pennock's drive for a two base hit, so called, and he came on in on Koenig's single to left. But before this transpired, they trapped Pennock off second but lost him again when Thevenow dropped the ball. In other words, Pennock was out twice before he scored the first run.

The second came in the ninth and tied the score. The manner in which it was scored was enough to make one weep silently into the folds of his vest. Gehrig hit a high fly over the infield for what should have been the first out. It wasn't. The wind carried the ball away from Thevenow while the limping Hafey was nowhere, so the ball dropped safe for a double. Lazzeri then prepared to lay down his sacrificial life but the Cards wouldn't have it that way.

Bell was caught on his flat feet and it went for a hit, Gehrig rumbling to third. He scored when Paschal looped another lazy fly over the infield, too far out for Thevenow and too far in for Holm.

I have no interest in the fact that the Yanks won in the tenth inning. The fact of the matter is that there shouldn't have been any tenth inning at all.

However, it is becoming more apparent with each passing year that the disposition of world series spoils is being decreed by fate. The Senators in 1924 had to fluke in the tying run on a badly bounding hit in the ninth and the winning run on a carbon copy of the same play. Apparently both balls hit the same lump of dirt, which is not the beginning of a bed time story but the truth, the entire truth and nothing but.

There were plenty of breaks in the stygian gloom of the 1925 finale and the Pirates got all of them, though truth to tell they forced them. They were a fighting outfit who refused to die with their boots on because they refused to die at all.

Maybe the Cards will come back the way the Senators and Pirates did. I wouldn't bet that they will and I wouldn't bet that they won't. I'm cured.

LAUGHLIN CLUB HOLDS BANQUET

Tribute to Laughlin's 1926 champions of the City Industrial league was paid at the celebration banquet held last night in the Larkins' restaurant annex.

Approximately 40, including league officials, guests and players attended the event.

A large silver loving cup, emblematic of the loop title, was formally presented to the Newell champions following the banquet, the presentation address being made by Mayor Ralph Benedum and the response by Sol McCoy, pilot of the victorious pastimers.

Praise was forthcoming for every member of the pennant winning assembly and especially to Laughlin's veteran catcher, Ted Hunselman, one of the "fightin'est" backstops of the entire circuit, declared by league officials and others as one of the most valuable members of the Laughlin nine, a great factor in that club's victorious drive to first half-season honors and finally to the pennant. Ted, who does most of his talking on the diamond, where his "speeches" are frequent and effective, accepted the honors with a brief reply.

C. C. Cline, efficient president of the league, acted as toastmaster. J. M. Wells, manager of Homer Laughlin plant No. 6, had a good word for every one of the boys, praising the team for its conquest and pledging the plant's co-operation in the future as it has been in the past.

Advantages of the industrial circuit to the city, and entire district, as well, were enumerated in a talk by H. H. Barth, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who presaged many successful seasons for the organization under the skilled guidance of men of the type of those who this year handled affairs of the league and its various clubs.

Joe Dickey, club secretary, reviewed the season and the work of the individual members of the club, heaping unstinted praise on the sholders of Manager Sol McCoy and the latter, in a talk, told the assemblage how the pennant was won.

Musical selections by the Blue Boys' banjo trio and Red Mack's quartet added to the attractiveness of the program.

Among those who attended were: President, C. C. Cline, J. M. Wells, H. B. Barth, Mayor Ralph Benedum, Joseph Dickey, H. L. Smith, F. J. Wise, Manager Sol McCoy, Hunselman, Digman, Barr, Parsons, Watson, Sayres, Herbert, Aufderheide, Tommy Maley and Zeke Collins.

"TOUGH LUCK, WEE WILLIE"

By Dick Williams.

ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—There are hard luck pitchers and lucky pitchers, and you need not look further than the details of that third Yankee victory in the sad city of St. Louis yesterday to find a good example of each specie.

If any pitcher ever played in hard luck, Wee William Sherdel is the gent. And if any pitcher was ever festooned with bright, hellotrope horseshoes, it was Mr. Herbert Pennock, the lean left hander of the Yankees and now owner of two world series victories.

Sherdel got no breaks, barring possibly one. Pennock not only had every catalogued sort of break, including two of an extremely personal nature, but he had some that are not listed.

The first Yankee score was the direct result of two happenings, most extraordinary indeed. First, Chick Hafey, who left fields for the Cardinals, fell on his ample nose while attempting to pursue Pennock's hoist to left and it went for two bases. A minute later, Bob O'Farrell nipped Herb off second, but Tommy Thevenow dropped the ball when Herb piled into him with both feet and Herb was safe.

Hence, Herb was twice retired, or should have been, but he remained in the conflict to score a run on Mark Koenig's hit. So much for that run. In the ninth Gehrig popped a short fly to left field and Thevenow, Hafey and Holm pursued it. Ordinarily it would have fallen into Thevenow's shirt bosom, but instead the wind carried it away, the sun moved into Tommy's eyes and the ball dropped on fair territory and skipped through Chick Hafey's long legs while Gehrig went to second.

Tony Lazzeri then dribbled a long bunt along the third base line on which Lester Bell changed his mind twice and finally fielded too late to head off Tony. Gehrig went to third and promptly scored on another pop hit. This damage was done by Ben Paschal, who batted for Joe Dugan.

This tied it up and in the tenth Mark Koenig, who'd been easy for Sherdel all day, reached first on another one of those strange hits, went to second when Sherdel, working too carefully on Babe Ruth, uncorked a wild pitch, and then scored on Lazzeri's long fly to Hafey. Lazzeri's hit followed a pass to Lou Gehrig with men on second and third.

BOY MURDERER ASKS CLEMENCY

Letters Urge Governor to Save Lad, 15, From Gallows.

A virtual storm of letters and telegrams, which humanitarians the nation over hoped would throw an effectual barrier between Adam Burress, 15-year-old mountain boy awaiting the gallows, today brought forth the assurance from the office of Gov. Howard M. Gore, at Charleston that the boy will not be hanged for his assault on a 9-year-old girl while there remained a shadow of doubt as to the justice of such course.

Between the 15-year-old lad and the gallows stands a long line of possible legal appeals, and back of that the policy of the state of West Virginia never to take a human life until the Governor has been convinced by investigation into the prisoner's mental condition, that the penalty is just and humanitarian. This was the reply of Sam Mattison, secretary to Governor Gore, to the letter of Ernest K. Coulter, of New York, and an army of others who have besieged the executive offices with pleas for clemency for Burress.

The death penalty was imposed upon Burress in McDowell county criminal court. An appeal was taken immediately to the circuit court of appeals, where the case is now pending before Judge James A. Strother. In case of an adverse decision there appeal could be taken to the supreme court, and further, before Governor Gore.

The Governor cannot take action in the case, Mattison pointed out until all other legal recourses have been exhausted.

The local squad will be accompanied by a large delegation of rooters.

'CHICAGO MAY,' WORLD CROOK, ILL, IS FOUND

Held as Street Walker in Detroit Hospital.

FREAKISH VOICE

Admits Identity and Discusses Old and Brighter Day.

CHICAGO.—Crime and beauty!

The career of this combination—a duet which in its heydey a quarter of a century ago ran riot through the courts and hearts of a half dozen nations—was recalled here today as police discussed the arrest in Detroit of the once famous "Chicago May" Churchill.

"Chicago May" has come down a peg or two since the wild daredevil days of her youth, when her dashing beauty and pretty smile thrilled the hearts of many a stalwart guardian of the law and brought her a personal pardon from President Montellier of France in 1904.

But today this once famous internationally crook lies in a Detroit hospital—held as a common streetwalker.

Freakish Voice.

Her identity was discovered because of a freakish remembrance of her voice by a Detroit policewoman. Recently while serving her sentence in the county jail at Detroit, May became ill and was transferred to the jail hospital for a major operation. The policewoman, questioning her, was haunted by something vaguely familiar about her voice. She searched her memory, harking back to almost forgotten days, and finally charged the patient with being "Chicago May." The woman first denied and then admitted her identity, apparently glad to at last to discuss the old brighter days with someone "who knew her when ——."

Newspaper clippings, already yellowing with age, show that the last printed record of May was when she dropped from sight in New York in 1919. At that time, she had once again talked herself out of imprisonment on a charge of attempted murder of the man she was living with. She had been pardoned two years before from an English prison where she had been sentenced to serve a 15 years sentence for her part in the attempt of "Dutch Gas" Miller to kill her sweetheart, Eddie Guerin, famous in his own right as a Chicago crook, and whose love for "Chicago May" was a thing respected throughout the underworld.

May was born in Dublin 50 years ago. She came to Chicago when aged 13 and soon after started on a career as a petty shoplifter. Discovering that her pretty face and quick, Irish wit often enabled her to circumvent the law when caught, she became bolder and soon became known as a daring fur thief.

Then she became attracted to Guerin and the two for years lived a hectic life of crime, always just beyond the outstretched fingers of the law. In 1900, the two went to Paris where they robbed the American Express company, for which they were arrested. Guerin was sent to Devil's Island for life and Chicago May went to prison but again her beauty won, and she was pardoned long before the expiration of her sentence. She was loyal to Guerin and soon raised sufficient money to arrange his escape from Devil's Island. He turned to London and extradition was denied the French government.

Guerin later quarreled with Charles Smith over Chicago May and Smith shot Guerin in the foot.

In the meantime, Chicago May drifted about, sinking gradually down the ladder to degredation. Finally, she landed in Detroit. She has been arrested there a score of times she told the policewoman but before she always managed to conceal her identity.

86 BOY SCOUTS GET AWARDS AT COUNTY CAMP

Every Lad Became Swimmer at Lake Placentia.

177 ENROLLED

Report of Four Outings Made by "Chief" Wilson.

A report in detail concerning the Columbiana Boy Scout camp, conducted along the banks of Lake Placentia, near North Georgetown, this county, from June 14 to August 9, was issued today by Harry Wilson, Scout executive.

A total of 177 boys attended the four camp periods. As a result of the activities, 86 service badges were awarded and every Scout was made a swimmer.

"This does not mean that every boy could swim 50 yards but it does mean that every boy gained the fundamentals of swimming and, by his own efforts, he will be able to make himself safe in water which has fast gained recognition as one of America's foremost sports," reads Wilson's report.

Executive's Report.

The report continues:

"Also another piece of work that we are very proud of is the fact that we were successful in passing three senior Red Cross life savers. They are K. E. Jones, Salem, deputy commissioner in that district; Orland Perry, Jr., assistant Scoutmaster, Troop 1, Leetonia; and Arzie Wolfe, assistant Scoutmaster Troop 1, East Liverpool.

"We have eight junior Red Cross life savers as follows: Donald Poole, Troop 6, East Liverpool; Kenneth Wagonhouser, Troop 1, Leetonia; Dominick Oliver, Troop 1, Leetonia; Earl Vanaman, Troop 1, Lisbon, Fred Dill, Troop 1, Columbiana; George Gandis, Troop 2, East Liverpool.

"Of the 177 who attended camp 12 attained the degree of Eagle scouts. This is the highest award as yet to be given to any scout and we are very proud of the boys who so successfully have gained the goal.

"They are: Donald T. Myler, East Liverpool, Troop 6; William Stevenson, East Liverpool, Troop 6; Kenneth Jones, deputy commissioner of Salem; Charles Lutten, assistant Scoutmaster troop 1, Lisbon; Hubert Clapp, Richard Liggans, Raymond Hartsaw, Fred Detwyler and Clyde Herald, Columbiana; Dale Riddle, Lisbon; Donald Poole, East Liverpool; Dominick Oliver, Leetonia.

"Salem furnished the largest number of boys for the Scout camp and probably made the most advancement of any district. The majority of the boys in that district are younger Scouts, and although no Eagle Scouts were from Salem, we feel quite positive that Salem and Wellsville will make their place among the Eagle Scouts in the coming winter.

"Judge Lodge Riddle, chairman of the court of honor and I. F. Mellinger, president of the council, met with the Scoutmasters in Lisbon on September 14 and made the final arrangements for the presentation of the Eagle badges to the boys who have earned them.

"There will be a central meeting at the court house in Lisbon on Oct. 12 at 7:30 o'clock. It was also agreed by the scoutmasters that a monthly scoutmasters' meeting will be held this winter in Lisbon, and John R. Fulton was chosen to act as moraie officer of the meetings.

"We are very proud of the progress made in the Wellsville district. The three new troops which have been established there together with old troop, No. 1, have made progress and the boys are now demanding more attention in their work.

"We are pleased to announce our first rural troop, being sponsored by the Yellow Creek grange, with Mr. McIntosh scoutmaster, and the troop committee headed by Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian church.

HEART INTEREST THROBS IN NURSE'S MESSAGE OF MERCY

Valuable Knowledge Gained Through Attendance on Sick Leads Mrs. Sheriff to Speak.

Mrs. George Sheriff.

Your great grandfathers — those hardy pioneers who settled their homesteads in the wilderness of the West — were much wiser in some respects than the people of today who now inhabit the same territory known as the Central States.

Did we say "hardy?" Yes, indeed for this advance guard of modern civilization scarcely knew the meaning of the common, everyday ills of the present age.

The lived close to Nature—and they partook of Nature's own remedies; their only physicians the roots, barks and herbs that grew on the mountains, in meadows and woods. From friendly tribesmen valuable secrets were learned regarding these natural medicines, and even today the North American Indians stand out as one of the most healthy races on earth, while his Caucasion brother is beset with "flu," grip, rheumatism, dyspepsia and other ills too numerous to mention.

The Indians have continued the use of their herb remedies while the white man has cast them aside for sugar coated pills and confections that please the taste—but still sickness comes.

"Back to Nature," is the theory upon which Redwood's Tepee Herb Tonic depends, and the success of this doctrine is attested by thousands of people whom this famous Indian treatment has relieved of broken health after everything else had failed.

"Everywhere the most prominent people are writing letters telling how they have been aided by Redwood's Tepee Tonic. The following from Mrs. George Sheriff is a typical example of them. Mrs. Sheriff is a practical nurse and has gained her knowledge of medicine in the school of experience. She says Redwood's Tepee Tonic is the best possible treatment for stomach, kidney and liver diseases.

Mrs. Sheriff resides at 25 Willow St., Mansfield, Ohio. She is a member of the Mooseheart Legion, first president of the Lady Owls and an active worker in the Royal Neighbors of America. Her personal experience with Redwood's Tepee Tonic is best related in her own words:

"I'm a practical nurse and the strain of being in a sick room for the greater part of my time during the past ten years simply wore out my nerves," she says.

"I became so nervous that the least little sudden noise would startle me and then I would tremble for hours. My hands would shake and my knees would tremble until I could hardly walk without staggering. My blood became thin, I was undernourished and weak, and felt good for nothing. I couldn't sleep soundly and usually woke up in the morning with a headache.

"I ached continually. The muscles in my back were as sore as a boil. For six months I had been unable to work. I had tried everything but nothing helped me. Finally I tried Redwood's Tepee Tonic and it brought such relief that I'm publicly recommending it and I'm sending my picture so that my friends can see how well I look.

"My aches and pains are entirely gone. I've got a good color and I'm in perfect health. I've gained ten pounds, sleep soundly, have a good appetite and feel like I had an entirely new set of nerves."

Consider well what Mrs. Sheriff says. If you are likewise afflicted you may confidently expect Redwood's Tepee Tonic to do the same for you.

Tepee Tonic can be had in East Liverpool at Carnahan's Drug Stores.

High Exchange Rates Result in Drop of Japanese Imports

SAN FRANCISCO. — Higher exchange value of the yen and lower prices on raw cotton resulted in a drop in imports to Japan in August to the lowest level since September, 1924, according to a cable summary made public by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce here. Exports of raw silk from Japan showed a marked increase for August, but silk and cotton yarn exports declined.

The bureau's office in Manila reported the copra market steady with slightly higher prices.

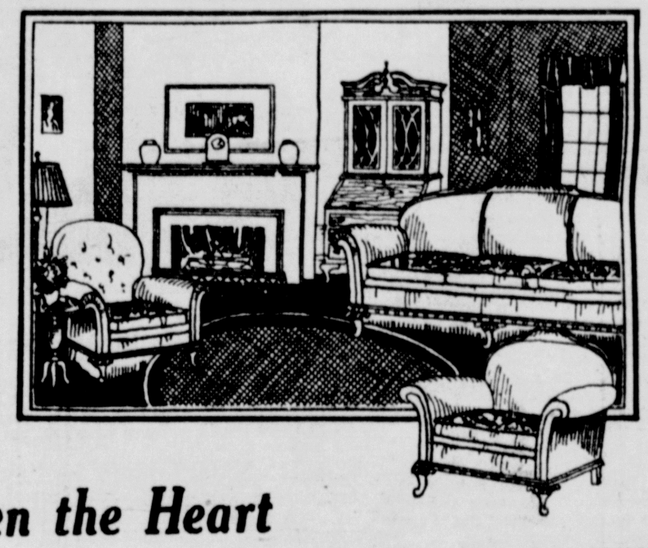
SHOULD COME FIRST

TAKE a stroll some evening and see the series of softly glowing lamps which seem to fairly radiate happiness and contentment from out the homes as you pass by. Surely this is a real satisfaction. The fact will impress itself upon you that the home really does come first, last and laways. Many of those homes were made possible by the use of convenient terms—terms just as we offer them to you, and you will never miss the money at any time, for they are regulated to your salary.



Getting on in the World

Wives know that husbands can not put forth the efforts of which they are capable under ordinary circumstances — it takes an extraordinary wife to make a husband successful. Wives are directly the cause of success or failure on the part of their husbands. She must make a good job of her part—the home must show individuality or skill in handling the purse strings to the best advantage. Little things that go to make the home still more beautiful must be added every so often. Men realize, perhaps better than women, that the "home should come first."

GLITTER

By Katharine Brush

"Was THAT the woman you were telling me about last fall, the one you said had a 'mouth like Cleopatra's kiss'?"

BOOK THREE—XIV.

Eunice was curled up in a great chair, reading . . . so absorbed in reading that she did not appear to have heard the clamor of the door bell nor the entrance of Jock. He stood surveying her from across the room. Her head, bent over the book, showed dark hair marcelled in perfect concentric circles from a tiny part, and wisps of it pasted like inverted question marks on her forehead. Her gown was black lace, so tight in the bodice that the filagree design gave an effect of having been stenciled on the skin. One leg was tucked up under her, and the other, a slyly overt leg in a sheer pinky-black chiffon stocking and a black satin slipper held across the instep with a bow of ribbon, hung toward the floor. "She got that pose," he thought dryly, "from one of the hosiery ads."

He said, "It must be a darn good book."

She glanced up quickly then, simulating astonishment. "Jock! I didn't heah you come in!"

"Didn't you?" politely. "I rang three times. But maybe the bell is broken or something." He took the book from her fingers and read the title, "In Defense of Women by H. L. Mencken. Say, how do you like this?"

"All right," replied Eunice. "It's—" she paused uncertainly, and Jock waited. He thought if she would make an intelligent comment on this book, or on any book or thing, he could forgive her much. But she finished lamely, and his flash of interest died. "It's peculiah," she said.

"Yah," he agreed vacantly. He put the book down and seizing a little chair thrust it between his knees, so that he sat eyeing Eunice above the back of it. "What's on your mind? What did you want to see me about?"

"Oh—lots of things," she evaded. "Let's not talk about that right off. Let's talk about you foah a while. Why haven't you been to see me foah almost two weeks, Jock?"

Her perennial query; but before he could give his perennial excuse of busyness, she had veered to a new tack. "I saw you today."

"Is that a fact?"

"Didn't you see me?"

"Yes, I believe I did."

"Was that the woman you were tellin' me about last fall—the one you said had 'a mouth like Cleopatra's kiss?'"

Jock remembered having said this. But he wished very much that he had not. It sounded ridiculous, puerile, when Eunice quoted it. . . . He bowed stiffly in affirmation.

"But I thought you told me she was pretty?"

Well, my God, isn't she?"

Eunice hesitated, running the tip of her tongue over her lips. "If you want me to be perfectly frank, Jock," she said at last, "she looked a little bit passe to me. She must be yeahs and yeahs oldah than you, of cohse."

Jock started; then chuckled derisively. "In Defense of Women — no wonder it had to be written by a man! Honestly, Eunice, you burn me up! You wouldn't even give the devil his due if he happened to have a skirt on, would you?"

"Now, don't be horrid!" pouted Eunice. "You asked me foah an opinion and I gave it. She did look passe to me. I can't help it if I've got eyes, can I?"

"No, but you really ought to buy 'em some spectacles."

"Rose-colohed ones like yoahs, I suppose?"

Understanding perfectly the spirit that prompted these sallies, Jock was no whit affronted by them. "Say," he said, pleasantly enough, "did you invite me over this evening just to heve me listen while you hurl bouquets at another girl?"

"Anothah what? 'Girl' is a teens-and-twenties word, remembah!" So unforeseenly that it took him a moment to accustom himself to the transition, she became apologetic. "Oh, I'm sorry, Jock. Really. Don't pay any attention to me, I reckon I'm— prejudiced.

He rather liked her for that. It seemed to him one of the few genuine things he had ever heard Eunice say.

"Let's talk about somethin' else," she suggested.

He had difficulty in analyzing her subsequent remarks. She seemed to be determinedly and gradually leading up to something, but to what he could not surmise. He was aware of an increasing tension—both in himself, and in her. She talked much faster than usual, and inconsecutively, bridging wide gulfs between topics with a single word, or even not troubling to bridge them at all. And as she talked she looked into her lap, at her fidgeting fingers, out of the window . . . everywhere, in fact, but at him.

"What is this?" he thought uneasily. "What's it all about?"

". . . Brad was wild ovah you, Jock," she was saying. "I don't think you evah realized how deah you were to him. He'd have done anythin' foah you. Anythin' undah the sun. He often said so, and I knew it anyhow. Just the night befoah — befoah that night, we were talkin' about you, and he said that you were the best friend he evah had or evah would have—that he'd do anythin' foah you and he was suah you'd do the same foah him—"

"I sincerely hope I would have," Jock said.

Eunice threw him a brief glance, dropping her eyes again quickly. "He loved me so," she proceeded. "I've been thinkin' a lot about that since he's gone. He wouldn't let anythin' trouble me, evah, foah a minute. He just took all the cahes and responsibilities right off my shoulders. I nevah knew what it was to worry until lately . . ."

And on, and on, in this vein. About Brad, about herself, about Jock. Presently he could not listen with forbearance any longer. He cleared his throat. "Look here, Eunice! Quit beating about the bush, will you? Something's worrying you now, and you want me to help you—that's what you're trying to tell me, isn't it? Well, of course, I'll help you, and be glad to, if I can. So come on, out with it—what seems to be the matter?"

For reply she moved from her chair over to the lounge, where she sat patting the cushion beside her. "Come sit heah by me, Jock. I can talk to you bettah when you'ah not so fah away."

He complied indifferently, stretching his superb length in the corner that was farthest from her. He shoved his hands into his trousers pockets and rested his chin on his chest, and waited. His face where the lamplight kissed it obliquely looked stern and forbidding—a sure indication that he was puzzled and wary and not a little disturbed. Eunice, unwatched, watched him with telltale eyes. Once she made a tiny half-gesture toward him . . . then drew back in haste and locked her fingers together in her lap.

"Jock," she began, "did you know theah's a lot of scandal around about—us?"

"Yes. Asinine, isn't it?" said Jock. Impelled by a second thought, he brought his chin up with a jerk and examined her. "Is that what's got you so sunk?"

the railroads, but that has no bearing on what the public pays for the conveniences it demands. Also, it is to be understood that the figures quoted have nothing to do with the sums that are paid by the public for the merely privilege of riding on a train. They cover only what the public spends when it insists upon riding in the big cars, usually at the rear end of the train, that have comfortable chairs or seats by day and more or less downy couches by night, with the omnipresent "George" and his broom.

But when the number of Pullman passengers is considered in relation to the aggregate amount of money expended annually for the privilege of riding in the big cars, it does not appear that traveling de luxe is so much of an extravagance, for the annual outlay per individual amount to little more than $3.50. There are some twenty million automobile owners in the United States, every one of whom is spending for gasoline, oil, other operating costs, and depreciation more than that amount, not annually, but every week, or 52 times annually.

Of the net income of the Pullman Company for the year, which ran to a bit over ten billions, it is computed that each revenue passenger carried contributed only 29 cents. The net earnings represented, so the stockholders are told, only 7 cents for each revenue passenger carried 109 miles, or seven one-hundredths of a cent per passenger mile, and only $3.28 per day for each car owned by the company.

This, it is said, amounts to a return of not more than 5 per cent on a fair value of the properties used in the business.

In checking this statement it is found, from the report, that the company owns 8739 cars and equipment which cost $196,841,691.28, or approximately $22,500 per car. With an annual revenue per car per year of slightly less than $1200, the 5 per cent earning is approximated, but it has been many years since Pullman stockholders received or would be satisfied with a dividend at that rate.

Owns Subordinate Company.

The Pullman Company owns all the stock, except the shares necessary for directors to qualify, of the Pullman Car & Manufacturing Corporation, which is an exceedingly active and profitable subsidiary to control. During the year the parent company received in dividends almost $3,000,000 from its offspring, and on July 31 last this precocious child had in its treasury more than $22,000,000 in cash, government bonds, and other securities. Also it is to be noted that the Pullman Company has a net surplus in its treasury of more than $33,000,000, the net surplus for the year being in excess of $3,500,000.

One of the surprising features of the report is to find in the statement of liabilities more than $88,000,000 for "depreciation of cars, etc.," while in the income account for the year in question more than $9,000,00 is charged off to depreciation and the statement is made that the company uses an annual depreciation rate of 5 per cent of the cost of the cars to provide for the retirement of equipment.

But while even those who ride in Pullmans may not be able to interpret or understand the figures in a financial report, everybody, especially housewives, will comprehend what is meant by the statement that the company had to purchase more than 4,000,000 pieces of linen last year, including 1,876,6818 hand towels, 875,248 sheets, and 976,8824 pillow slips. Likewise everybody will get the statement that although it has been extending and increasing the number of its own laundries, its laundry bill for the year was $3,314,701.13. Materials used in car cleaning cost $258,734.

Because of the increase in the number of cars operated the company has found it necessary to build a new repair and maintenance shop at Atlanta, Ga., and to enlarge its shops at Chicago.

During the year the company distributed $205,368.10 in pensions to old employees, and also paid out $212,236.14 to the widows and dependents of deceased employees. The pension and death benefit plans, it is stated, do not require any contribution on the part of the worker.

The directors say that their method of dealing with the employees has been amplified and continues to function to the satisfaction of both factors in the industrial equation. During the year, it is announced, the Pullman porters and maids negotiated a new wage agreement that meant an advance to them of $1,000,000 per annum.

The report is closed with an expression of regret at the death of Robert Todd Lincoln, son of President Lincoln, who was a director or officer of the company for almost thirty years.

"DIPLOMACY" IS SCREEN HIT

Marshall Neilan's production, "Diplomacy," which opened a three-day run at the Ceramic last theatre last night presents one of the most interesting pictures ever viewed on a local screen.

The story is exciting and well told. It holds one's interest and, beside the beautiful romance that runs from start to finish, there's a mystery theme that's more intriguing than any heretofore filmed.

Rarely has a picture seen so endowed with familiar names. From the leading woman, Blanche Sweet, through the entire cast, one finds prominent players.

The story takes place in Deauville, France, in the present year. A conference of World Powers is being held with England, Russia, France, China and America prominently represented. The heroine, an English girl, "Dora" is in love and loved by "Julian Weymouth," handsome young attache of the British Embassy. "Dora is accused of selling secret information which she had obtained through her lover. The Casino, an exact replica of the famous one in Deauville, is without doubt one of the most impressive sets ever seen on the screen. The sidewalk cafe represents another set that calls for particular mention.

Blanche Sweet has never been so lovely. Her acting is suberb and she photographs like a girl of sixteen. Hers is the most important role in the picture and she carries off highest honors.

Neil Hamilton plays "Julian Weymouth," the dashingly romantic hero. He has a striking screen personality, one women fans are going to enthuse about.

Matt Moore, the ominpresent American, has most of the comedy scenes. To betray anything of his characterization here would spoil the surprise for those who see this Paramount feature.

Full-o-PEP

When the day's work is done

YES, sir, I actually feel fine when the day's work is done. It's a fact! I am just full of 'pep' until it's time to go to bed.

"I may be getting along in years, but, believe me, I am young in red blood! That's the whole secret of vitality, too-rich, red blood. I know—because I used to be completely worn-out about 5 P. M. Began to think I was slipping.

"But do you know I found out the whole trouble with me was my blood. It needed building up. That was why I tired out so easily.

"So I went right to work building up red blood in my system with S. S. S. It built it up in a hurry, too. S. S. S. helps Nature build red-blood-cells so fast that I could feel my strength come back and the years just seemed to roll off of me.

"Whenever I see anybody now who seems worn-out by work, I tell them about S. S. S. It will surely put you back where you can enjoy life. S. S. S. makes you look better, too. Clears up your skin—increases your appetite — puts firm, solid flesh on you—and drives rheumatism right out of your body.

S.S.S.

"You begin taking S. S. S. and begin living again. It will do it for you!"

S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores. Get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

Greatest September Sales

in Nash History

—and if it had been possible to build all the cars ordered September would have smashed all Nash records for a single month's business.

OCTOBER! At this writing it is a practical certainty that October sales and production will surpass by more than 50% the largest previous October on our books.

Announcement of new models—all powered with 7-bearing crankshaft motors, the world's smoothest type—sent Nash demand racing toward new heights.

September clicked the 25th consecutive month and October will register the 26th—with three exceptions—that Nash sales have exceeded the record set by the same month of the previous year.

The 16 models in the three new Nash series range in price from $865 to $2090 f. o. b. factory.

MUSIC OF FOX HUNT IS HEARD IN ALABAMA

Five Hundred Hounds Participate in Field Trials.

PRIZES OFFERED

Noted Sportsmen of State are Sponsoring Event.

GADSDEN, Ala.—The music of the fox-hunt once more sounded through the hills and valleys of north Alabama when five hundred hounds participated in the field trials held by the Etowah Fox Hunters' Association here.

The Association, which was formed this year, numbers among its members some of the noted hunters and sportsmen of the state. Plans have already been made to make the event an annual affair and a elaborate program was announced for the next trials at the end of the three day meeting that has just been brought to an end.

The event is sponsored by the people of the community who have contributed the liberal prizes offered in both the field and bench events. The big hunt was brought to the little town nestled in the foothills of the Smoky Mountains some of the most famous hounds in the south.

Big Dog Parade.

The first day of the three-day session was given over to registration of the entries following which a big parade of all the dogs was staged in the streets of the town.

On the morning of the second day of the meet the first hunt was called. Long before the sun had topped the surrounding mountains the trials were lined with people from all walks of life who had gathered to hear the music of the chase. They came in autos and on foot and it is estimated that fully five hundred people were present. The dogs were unleased at five o'clock and in fifteen minutes they had Reynard on the go. For two hours the hills resounded to the music of the dogs and the listeners were held enraptured. The dogs were called off before the fox was caught.

On the second morning of the chase an even larger crowd was present. The dogs were unleased and soon had another fox going. The chase lasted until well up into the morning and the fox was chased into an adjoining county.

Prizes Awarded.

The next day was given to the awarding of prizes in both the field and bench events. Three prizes were awarded in the field events being based on speed, driving ability and endurance.

In the bench trials breeding and appearance was taken into consideration by the judges.

The preserve where the races were held is well stocked with fox. It is located on Rainbow mountain just south of Gadsden. The grounds commence at the country club and continuing for a distance of about ten miles along Rainbow Drive make one of the most ideal preserves to be found in the state. It is stocked with the famous red fox that are noted for their ability to give the hounds a merry chase and recent events were no exception.

Four chorus girls were arrested in New York city for being only scantily attired. New York simply will not stand for even scanty attire on its chorus girls.—Marion Star.

WOMEN GAIN IN MAINE POLITICS AS SIX WIN SEATS IN STATE LEGISLATURE

PORTLAND, Me.—Women are fast gaining recognition in Maine politics. The recent elections determined that six women will sit in the legislature when the new sessions convene. The feminine representation elected by the Maine voters includes two members in senate and four in the house.

Mrs. Mabel P. Cheney, Democrat, residing in Lisbon, will be the first woman to represent this party in the house. The other five legislators-elect are Republicans.

Widow Cries for Joy

"I couldn't eat anything but raw eggs and sweet milk and was so weak I could hardly walk across the room. I would have been in my grave today if I hadn't taken MAYR'S when I did. When I think how I have suffered with my stomach and how good I feel now I cry for joy." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and Druggists Everywhere.

NEILAN FILM AT CERAMIC

Blanche Sweet Stars in Paramount Hit, "Diplomacy."

Deauville, France.—which has become famous within the past decade for its beauty and fascinating spirit; surmounted by the fact that its gambling tables are more celebrated than those of Monte Carlo, and its sparkling women, considered the best dressed in the world,—is prominently pictured in Marshall Neilan's production, "Diplomacy," which opened a three-day engagement at the Ceramic theatre today.

The spirit of realness was injected into this Paramount picture by sets that were directly copied from the originals.

A Casino of tremendous magnitude, a replica of the one which has made Deauville a resort of international renown, is pictured.

There are only three women principals in the picture. The trio wear exquisite clothes of the type that would actually be seen in Deauville's villas, cafes and promenades.

Blanche Sweet has six changes of wardrobe, with costumes ranging from elaborate evening dress to simple sport modes. She plays "Dora," an English girl of high social position living with her mother in the smart French community.

Arlette Marchal is "Zicka," the gorgeously gowned adventuress. She wears four different costumes, each exactly adapted to her personality.

Julia Swayne Gordon, as the Marquise, mother of the heroine, wears gowns befitting the station of a dowager of culture and refinement.

Neil Hamilton, Earle Williams, Gustav von Seyffertitz, David Mir, Matt Moore, and others are in the cast.

Feminine Bandit Gets Life Term

Florence Boone.

For the first time Kansas City, Kans., has found a woman guilty of first degree murder. Her penalty is to be life imprisonment. She is Florence Boone, the young and very feminine member of a bandit gang which shot and killed a policeman in a recently attempted robbery. Miss Boone's sentence is shared by another of the gang.

In Memoriam.

In memory of John Jones, Jr., who died two years ago today, Oct. 8, 1924:

A light from the home has vanished
A boy's voice is stilled
A mother's arms are empty
And our hearts with grief is filled.

For a boy we loved so dearly
Little Buster young and fair
Was by Angels wafted softly
To that bright home over there.

Yes our lives are lonely
And our hearts filled with pain
But through God's bright promise given
We can meet our darling again.

Jesus loved the little darling
Longed to have him in his home
Where no sin path ever becons
Little Buster's feet to roam.

Sorrowing parents cease thy mourning
He is safe within God'e care
And when life on earth is ended.
We can meet our darling there.

WORK RESUMED ON NEW ROADS

Delay on Improvements Is Attributed to Rainy Weather.

Two days' work on the construction of new roads in this county were lost this week on account of rain, County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk has announced. This refers both to the pouring of concrete and also grading. Although construction work was resumed again Thursday, it is declared that all contracts are far behind schedule, and that all delays can be attributed solely to the wet weather which has prevailed so generally since Aug. 15th.

"We're going to keep at it just as long as weather will permit," Mr. Kirk said today. "It is probable that all concrete work will be cleaned up before severe cold weather sets in, and after that grading on the East Liverpool-Youngstown road can be continued throughout the winter.

Recently the county commissioners had road contractors summoned for purpose of ascertaining the cause of delay in new road work, and all laid the cause to the weather.

Because of the large number of robberies that have been reported in Hanover township within the last two weeks, residents of that township are about to form a "protective committee" under the state law for the purpose of dealing with the band of thieves.

Partition Action.

NOTHING LIKE PLANT JUICE TO BUILD YOU UP

That's What John Martindale, Toledo Glass Polisher, Wants Everybody to Know — Tells His Experience.

John Martindale

"There's nothing like Plant Juice to build you up and put you in good working trim," said John Martindale, of 1534 Kedron St., well known Toledo glass polisher.

"I tried many different remedies with practically no result till I got hold of Plant Juice, and then I began to 'pick right up.' I just 'stuck' right with the medicine and kept improving and now I'm in fine condition. Why, I can eat the heartiest kind of a meal, and the constipation is all gone and all that sluggish, tired feeling has disappeared. I'm just brimful of new life and energy and can go about my day's work feeling fresh and fit, and I'll tell the world Plant Juice is what fixed me up."

Plant Juice is sold in East Liverpool by Mathews' Original Cut Rate, 129 W. Sixth street, and by all leading druggists everywhere.

AMERICAN FILM IS DRAMATIC

"Gilded Highway" is Decidedly Entertaining Photoplay.

There is a decidedly entertaining and dramatic photoplay at the American theatre, where "The Gilded Highway," a J. Stuart Blackton production for Warner Bros., opened yesterday. Aside from its strong story, which was adapted by Marian Constance from "A Little More," the W. B. Maxwell novel, this picture has an extraordinary collection of stars in its cast.

Dorothy Devore and John Harron play the leading roles, a sister and brother to whom wealth suggests unlimited possibilities to make themselves ridiculous and to show the pettiness of their natures. Sheldon Lewis plays the rich and eccentric old uncle whose legacy starts all the trouble. Macklyn Arbuckle the father, and Florence Turner returns with all her old-time charm to appear as the mother of the family. The remainder of the cast, giving equally fine performances, includes Myrna Loy as a beautiful and snobbish girl, Gardner James as the staunch friend and lover, Andree as the wistful sweetheart of the brother, and amusing Mathilde Comont as the faithful servant.

If you enjoy a simple story about genuine people confronted by everyday problems, vividly told, then you should not neglect seeing "The Gilded Highway."

PINCHOT NAME ON BALLOT IN PENNSYLVANIA

Nominated for U. S. Senator by Labor Party.

STAND PUZZLE

Unknown Quantity After Defeat in G. O. P. Primaries.

HARRISBURG, Pa. — Gifford Pinchot, who, as governor of Pennsylvania, has been noted for the emphatic manner in which he has made known his stand on most public questions, remains an unknown quantity in the coming election.

Although he ran a poor third in the May primaries in which William S. Vare, of Philadelphia, was given the Republican nomination to the United States senate, Pinchot, by virtue of 521 votes, received the senatorial nomination on the Labor ticket and therefore is entitled to a place on the November ballot.

The Labor party in the recent primary was only a gesture of a few disgruntled men, lacking entirely the leadership which at one time made the party a force to be reckoned with.

Nevertheless, that nomination for Governor Pinchot is a peg on which many predictions can be hung, and the governor has repeatedly refused to say what his intentions are regarding it.

Much Uneasiness.

The state election laws require that a candidate who does not want his name to appear on the ballot must file notice of his intentions on or before September 13 previous to the election. Not until then is any public pronouncement looked for from Pinchot, and, meanwhile, there is a great deal of uneasiness in the ranks of both the Republican and Democratic parties as to what may be his course.

Regardless of the huge vote which Vare, in the face of two opponents—Pinchot and Senator George Wharton Pepper—piled up at the primary it was generally expected that Pinchot will be an independent candidate, basing his campaign on the dry issue and his gubernatorial record. The course, it was believed, would enable him to get the support of many Pepper supporters and give him a fighting chance against the Philadelphia leader.

Recently, however, even the governor's closest political friends have declared there is little chance of him being a candidate, but admit that they are uncertain just what he will do.

Enjoying Situation.

The governor, never having been known to give "aid and comfort to the enemy," apparently is enjoying the uncertainty with which his probable course is viewed.

It is generally conceded that Pinchot will do nothing whatever to aid Vare's candidacy, but what he may do to hurt it is the big problem confronting the old line Republican leaders.

Democratic newspapers and leaders have been hopeful of getting Pinchot into the race in support of William B. Wilson, the Democratic nominee. Because the governor has announced his intention to remain in public life in some capacity after his governorship ends next January, it is not expected that he will desert the Republican banner under which he won his nomination and election four years ago.

One of Pinchot's favorite phrases in politics is "not merely there, but fighting." Just where "there" will be and for whom he will be "fighting" constitute an enigma which even September 13 may not definitely solve.

If Tired, Worn-Out, Weak and Run-Down Regain Vigor Thru Gland Treatment

GLAND secretions are called hormones — mysterious messengers which science has discovered exert a remarkable influence on health, strength and vitality.

When the glands function normally, they supply these vitalizing hormones (or secretions) which are essential to physical well-being. And when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Now, glandular treatment, which is indorsed by eminent scientists and physicians of this country and Europe, is being used by thousands of men and women to help overcome a weakened, worn-out, run-down, exhausted condition and to regain the strength, vigor and vitality that are the natural benefits resulting from a normal glandular system.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, for both men and women. Accept no substitutes, insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic.

Old Russ Monastery Will Be Turned Into Government Library

MOSCOW.—One of the oldest monuments of monastic architecture in Moscow, the Strastnoy Monastery, situated on Strastnoy Place, in the heart of the city, is scheduled to go to the customary revolutionary way and become a government office building. The Main Science Board of the government has demanded that the monastery be turned over to it to be used by its administative staff, and as a distribution center for books published by the Board. The Monastery has not been occupied by monks since the decree prohibiting monasticism, but until now it has been preserved with all its 17th century artistic treasures.

DANCERS SCORE AT CERAMIC

Karminos Seven Top Vaudeville and Motion Picture Bill.

The Karminos Dancers—five girls and two men—offering a top-notch vaudeville act, head the three-day bill which opened at the Ceramic theatre last night.

Appearing as features on a program that includes the screen hit, "Diplomacy;" Harold Lloyd in "Jolly Tars" and an International news-reel, pictures of the Florida hurricane and Dempsey-Tunney fight preliminaries, the dancers added spice to the entertainment.

In the feature, the pretty girls with whirlwind speed ran through an arrangement of numbers from folk dances to Russian steps, every one of which was executed with grace and precision. They received admirable support from the male members of the company, and the singing of the director had but one fault—the audience could have enjoyed much more of it. Possessing a robust and harmonious voice, his solos brought him a strong demonsiration of appreciation on the part of hig hearers.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
